IRISH DEMOCRATS will do well to remember that BLAIR was a Know Nothing in 1854, and that in a speech in St. Louis, two vears since, he told the "Finnegans," as he insultingly called them, "to go along to Ireland, and stay there, for we could get along without them."

A SEYMOUR AND BLAIR CLUB in Louisiana recently adopted and published the following:

Whereas, it has become the settled police of the Democracy of this State not to give employment or support of any kind to members of the Radical party;" &c.

This admirably illustrates Democratic love for the poor man. We printed, a few days since, some choice extracts from high authority in that party—every one of those whom we quoted, boasting, like HORATIO SEYMOUR, of hands white and soft as a woman's-which showed them to be intensely selfish Aristocrats at heart. They hold the proper condition of labor to be servitude: they say it in plain words. Is it surprising then that they should claim the subserviency of the laboring man's soul as well as of his body? To own his principles as well as his toiling strength? This should not be forgotten by the workingmen of Allegheny, who already see the candidates of the 'socalled Democracy here assenting by their persistent silence under enquiry, to the same abominable doctrines.

NEW YORK POLITICIANS.

The New York Commercial Advertiser announces that "upwards of seven hundred illegal naturalization papers have been issued under the sanction of the County Judge and County Clerk," and adds that "the county Republican Committee are about to appoint a special committee to watch the matter." That is the way things are done in New York. After the opposition havecompleted their arrangements to poll hundreds and thousands of illegal votes, the "Republican Committee are about" to do something in the premises. After the horse is stolen; they put a better lock on the door. They are ever "about" to do something after it is too late to remedy the mischief. It is this sort of management, tardy, shiftless and not worth a row of pins, which halts and shambles along impotently in the rear of daring and successful scoundrelism, which has made Republican-18m, Law and the Purity of the Suffrage a by-word and a mockery in that city, enabling an audacious and unscrupulous opposition to multiply their fraudulent majorities at discretion, imperilling the safety not only of the State, but of the Union. Let us call things by their right names, and speak the truth while it is not too late. This Presidential contest hinges, if at all, not upon the vote of Maine, or Ohio, or Pennsylvania, but upon that of one great city which, in turn, is to be made decisive of its State, and thereby of the Union. We can take care of the other States, and 'the Republicans of New York can take care of that State outside of the city. But it is precisely this sort of scoundrelism there,which our friends are forever "about" doing something to check-which is relied upon to elect SEYMOUR and BLAIR. The inefficiency of the Republicans of that city is simply disgraceful. It adds to the load to be carried by their friends elsewhere, and contributes next to nothing to the achievement of a victory. A little reconstruction in that traced to ascertain whether he was entitled latitude would not be amiss.

LONG LIVE THE REPUBLIC.

The friends of the Union in Maine have crowned a protracted and exhausting struggle with a triumph unmatched for its glory and decisive in its results. On a total poll of 128,000 votes, being 16,000 more than ever before cast in that State, their majority for the Republican Union ticket was not less than twenty-two thousand yesterday, doubling their last year's majority, and will easily swell to over thirty thousand for Grant and Peace in November.

Let no man believe that the Democracythe party of Revolution-the party which would obliterate the honorable records, with the honorable obligations, of one rebellion crushed-the party which would overthrow with arms our Constitution and Laws, as it would trample under foot the triumphs which Freedom has already won, the Equal Rights of white men, as bellion in behalf of a cause not only ground more stoutly contested than has been this remote corner of the Republic. Men, money, arguments, oratory, seductions and menaces have been showered like water upon that field. The Democracy sap the fidelity and to bribe the honest judgpleading which defends a second rebellion under cover of assaults upon the legitimate consequences of their first enormous erime against the National Life, nor have they been seduced by the corrupt blandishments of a Dishonest Escape from their Just Engagements. The freemen of Maine wash their hands of SEYMOUR and BLAIR with Anarchy and Civil War, as well as of Pen-DLETON and his theory of Financial Repudiation. The Lost Cause shall not be won again by their consent, nor shall the Cause once Triumphant, the Cause of Peace, of while their ballots can save it. Alone of all the New England States, the Democracy of Maine have accepted and maintained to their fullest extent the shallow fallacies of PENDLETON. His personal explanation of his peculiarly New Way to Pay Old Debts has failed to commend it to the approval of that people. They see plainly that the lamb skin covers the old gray rebel wolf, and yesterday's ballots, ef-

Order, of Law, of a newly-born and Perfect

Freedom, be itself in turn defeated now.

First Vermont, then Maine; with their loyal sisters far away toward the Pacific. talents as a novelist And then shall come our own Pennsylvania. Men and brethren, shall we shut our eyes and stop our ears and lay heedlessly on our arms, or shall the old Keystone blaze with our loyal watchfires and hold gloriously its post as the impregnable centre of the Union host, beating back the demoralized rebels, and bearing the dear old Flag high over the smoke of the battle to a Final Victory and Percetual Peace? You will soon answer, and neither Maine nor Vermont will then be ashamed of you.

FLING OUT YOUR BANNERS!

As the 24th of September Convention is near at hand, our friends would do well to prepare their banners, streamers and flags to hang out on that occasion. There is now every prospect that we shall have a grand outpouring of the people at that time, and the Republicans of Pittsburgh and Allegheny owe it to their reputation for devotion to the good cause to greet the crowds with a splendid display of bunting. Let every Republican, Manufacturer, Merchant or Storekeeper, and every Republican householder get ready a flag, streamer, or some other token of welcome, and spread it to the breeze, from their warehouses, stores and Call." residences. We want to see our thoroughfares as gay as a festival, at that time, and THREE CHRISTMAS DAYS. Published by as nearly everybody will soon be busy in getting ready, the earlier every one goes to

The immense labor expended in the settlement of these claims, the public may estimate not merely from the large amounts disbursed in such small sums, but from the fact that each claim, after being received and re-ferred, had to be recorded, and the military history of each individual soldier had to be to the bounty or not.

This work is prepared in a style which ought to make it popular among the masses. and for the valuab e information of the late war which it contains. The writer has used greater care, too, in its preparation, than is usually the case with works of this character. All the noted battle-grounds were visited by the author, at the close of the war, and the discriptions and facts embodied, are either the result of personal observation, or obtained from responsible sources. The author seems to have had only in view the simple truth, and has therefore sought to avoid the coloring of facts, which he had gleaned during his visits to the South. The volume is also an excellent one for campaign purposes, the Star. and other Stories;" "The King's inasmuch as the question of reconstruction is treated at great length, in which is shown the condition of the Southern States, after the war, the attempts of President Johnson well as those of the once oppressed to recognize them, and the different steps of and enslaved—that this party, with the Congressional plan of reconstruction. its impudent menace of a new Re. the action of the several Southern States in relation to their new Constitution, and an account of the war between the President Lost, but Damned by the consent of all and Congress. Frequent reference has been made to the excellencies of the "Charles Dickens Edition" above the many editions offered to the public. It certainly possesses attractive features which should weigh largely with buyers. Beautifully bound in purple cloth, neat clear type, and admirable head lines on every alternate page, and other special characteristics, are the crowning features of this edition, and withal so cheap, one dollar and a half per volume. This beautiful tale of Dorrit is full of touching incidents, and the characters are drawn with a master hand. The story, too, has traits which render this volume among the most popular of lived by calling Esquire Miller to preside.

Meeting at Library. The Republicans of Snowden township held a large and unusually interesting meeting at Library, in that township, on Saturday afternoon. A platform for the ecomodation of the speakers had been erected on the North side of the church and seats sufficient for a thousand persons were arranged in front of the platform in the shade of the church. An excellent hand of martial music was in attendance, and long before the hour for opening the meet, ing the seats were all occupied. The meet-ing was one of the most orderly that has been held during the campaign, notwith-standing it was alive with enthusiasm. The Republicans of Snowden township are live to the importance of the issues ing in the contest and have resolved to give Gen. Negley and the entire State and county ticket a larger majority in October than it has been the custom to give the old veteran and people's favorite Gen. Moor-him, and in an appropriate manner incroduced H. H. McCormick, Esq., who addressed the meeting at considerable length. Mr. McCormick, after a few preliminary ssue between the two parties in a clear and atisfactory manner, turned his attention to the question of reconstruction, which he thoroughly and ably discussed. He held that the power of reconstructing the States lately in rebellion belenged alone to the oyal Congress, and that Congress alone and the right to dictate the terms by which ihey should be admitted as bodies politic nto the Union, from which they had voluntarily taken their departure and which hey had attempted to destroy. His address, although occupying over an our was listened to with marked atten tion by the vast audience, and was highly applauded at the close. The Chairman then introduced General

Moorhead, who spoke for more than an hour and a half in his usual focible manner.
The meeting then adjourned with three cheers for Grant and Colfax, the State and county ticket and the speakers.

Mass Meeting in Allegheny - Immense Turnout—Speeches by Mesars. McCune and Siebeneck.

Pursuant to call the Republicans of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, turned out in immense numbers, last evening, in front of the Bismarck Hotel, Main street, to exhibit their enthusiasm in the cause of Loyalty and Equal Rights.

The Washington Cornet Band was in atendance and enlivened the occasion with patriotic and soul stirring music.
