Mr. Finney was a native of Vermont, but chose Pennsylvania as his adopted State tice of law in that place. He always took an active part in political contests, ably and most earnestly advocating the policy of the Whig party while that party existed, and he was on one or two occasions its candidate for the Legislature, but necessarily unsuccessful, as Crawford county was then largely Democratic. He was one of the early champions of the Republican party, and was chosen to the Senate in 1855, in the present district of Erie and Crawford. He at once took a high position in the Senate, and was confessedly its ablest member during the six years of his service. As chairman of the Finance Committee he the strongest Democrat in the district. His health had been gradually declining for several years, and he was scarcely able to take many devoted friends. He was a man of ous impulses. Few of our public men in Pennsylvania will die, so widely and sos in-cerely lamented as Darwin A. Finney .-

HON. J. G. BLAINE, Chairman of the Republican Committee of Maine, sent last-Monday night the following dispatch to Gen. GRANT at Galena : equality for the whites before the law as well self. But to elucidate the matter further TRE Democratic journals throughout the country, now so earnestly engaged in damning without mercy the "outrageous order" in the year 1860 : issued by the Radical Mayor of Pittsburgh," providing for the arrest of ladies found on the streets after certain hours of night without male companions, show good judgment; but would it not be well to enforce on their editors that our city is now under a Democratic administration? The order was is-sued not by a Radical Republican Mayor, but by a full fledged Democrat.

THE Ohio delegation in the present Congress consists of sixteen Republicans and three Democrats, the latter being CABY, MUNGEN and VAN TRUMP. Our friends in that State are confident that CARY will be beaten by STEVENSON this year, and that the Democracy will have but two members from Ohio in the XLIst Congress, representing the 5th and 12th districts, as now. Our majorities in the 2d, 3d, 6th, 8th, 9th, 10th and 16th districts may not be large, but will be sufficient. In other districts which we now hold, our candidates will have majorities ranging from 2,000 to 10,000 each. The college for President. two Democratic districts are, we fear, hopeless of reclamation. The only really doubtful district in the State is the 18th, which has recently been contested, Mr. DELANO finally ousting Cumberland Gap MORGAN from the seat. The latter is again a candiby Coorea, the Republicat composition, who combines every element of popularity in his favor. Such is our estimate of, the result among the Báckeyes; as for betting, that had better be feft until after, the polls close.
