

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

HAIL TO THE CHIEF WHO IN SILENCE ADVANCES!

BY STANLEY WAZERLOO. Hail to the chief who in silence advances. The champion of freedom, the chosen of fame. Wherever the sunbeam of liberty glances, A theme for his verses, a waif of his name.

EPHEMERIS.

New York bootblacks have struck. Solid granite collars are very fashionable. Mosquitoes are dying of cold in New Jersey. The heirs of Anneke Jans still persist in meeting.

seven doctors, seven builders, six carpenters, four lawyers, four coach makers, three tailors and two masons in the South Carolina Legislature.

An exchange thinks if the Missionaries want to hold their prayer meetings in the headquarters of vice, they had better drop John Allen and Tommy Hadden, and go to the New York City Hall at once.

—The Hartford, Conn., National Screw Company has bought a large piece of property in that city on which it intends to erect large works, consisting of two buildings, one of one story and one of four, but each 150 feet long.

—The creditors of residents in Virginia will soon be able to recover the debts due them. The stay-law of that State expires by limitation on the 1st of next January.

—The French Treasury got 177,000,000 of francs from their tobacco monopoly last year. Paris consumes two million pounds of grapes every year, besides a good deal of wine.

—The latest Democratic bit of cheek is that of the Boston Post when it speaks of the "Radical Whisky Ring."

—The champion wicked man is beginning to pall on the palates of sensation-gourmands, a new champion has been found, it is the champion mosquito which was captured in the interior of New York, is four and three-eighths inches in length, and twelve dollars has been refused for him by his owner.
