THE REBEL PROGRAMME.

The designs of the copperhead Democracy North and South, are frankly stated by one of their most prominent organs, the Louisville Journal, in the following :

"Now our opinion, an opinion as to the ectitude of which we have not even a moment's doubt, is that the three States named, Virginia, Mississippi and Texas, without the slightest deference or regard to the infamously partisan and unconstitutional legislation of Congress, and without taking the least account of the absence of enabling orders or paying any attention whatever to threats issuing from under the shadow of cocked hats and epaulettes, should on the day of the election of Presi dential electors throughout the United States, proceed to the election of electors just as if there were no such things as Congressional disabling law, a fierce hat, or a shoulder strap. Let them elect their electors, for we do not suppose that they need be deterred from the exercise of that prerogative by the fear of satraps and their bay-onets. Let them by all means elect their electors and leave the consequences to the people of the nation, themselves included. We can assure them, that, if they shall elect Soymour and Blair electors, and if the counting of the rotes of their electors would give Seymour and Blair a majority in the electoral college of the country, the votes of their electors will be counted and Seymour and Blair placed in the Presidency and Vice Presidency, be the cost what it may. If we will not fight for our rights, we have no right to have rights—or at any rate to talk about them."

The Maine Election.

The annexed statements from the Portand Press of the 21st have been beautifully confirmed by the dispatch published yesterday, announcing 20,519 as the complete official majority and the Press says : We give this morning returns from 417

The vote thrown is an enormous one-the largest by nearly seven thousand ever "given in this State. In other words, the saying to the Government by the railroad, in rne year, with an average of 386 mlles in operation, was almost two million dollars. Gen. given to the public. Mr. CISCO has always been known as a Democratic leader, and does not suffer materially by the Copperhead accusation that he is a party to a "Radical electioneering dodge."

THE QUEEN OF SPAIN is so hard pressed by the insurgents that she has offered to abdicate on condition that she shall name her successor to the throne. Reduced to such straits, it is not probable her offer will be accepted, or that she will find 'means either to retain the scepter or to enforce terms. A fine country and a noble people, cursed for ages by a wretched dynasty, presents a deplorable spectacle. It looks as if there was vitality enough left to institute a better frame of government. The will to attempt that object is in itself encouraging.

HIS enemies say that General GRANT can't make a speech, that he has no capacity for statesmanship, and that his administration will prove a failure. One very prominent fact, however, disposes of these weak inventions. It is this, that of all the great statesmen and orators whom the Republic has produced, but one-ABRAHAM LINCOLN-has contributed to current politics or to history so many remarkably concise and comprehensive saying as are cise and comprehensive saying as are over there mean anything at all by their to be found in the short letters of General talk, they mean fight, and in the event of found well adapted for that purpose as oiism and practical wisdom.

But there was another and potential class the Democratic leaders had not sufficiently taken into the account: and this class included most of the active business men of the loyal States.

How were they to be affected by a success ful crusade against the honor of the nation and the existing financial system. The repossibility now remains. In that year nearly every voter was out, and while the Republicans threw 70,030 votes, there were 54,105 thrown against them, Compared with the vote of last year in the towns given, the Republican gain is 7,773.
