A brass band, together with the Mechanics Glee Club, led by Richard Prosser, Esq., were in attendance and enlivened the meeting with music and song.

Ward Nominations.

The following were the nominations made at the Republican primary meeting, held Monday night in the Twenty-third ward. The contest was sharp between rival candidates, bringing out an unusually large vote: Select Council—Geo. H. Anderson, Wm. H. Brown. Common Council—Jas. B. Palmer, Jas. B. Oliver. School Directors—R. B. Robinson, R. H. Palmer, Jr., G. H. Anderson, Wm. Cowen, Joseph Chadwick, Wm. Wiley. Judge—Geo. J. Luckey. Inspector—Samuel Thompson. Alderman—A. B. Stephenson. Assessor—Wm. Wiley.

Meeting in the First Ward .-- A large and enthusiastic meeting was held last evening on the corner of Market street and Third avenue, First ward. The Central Glee Club were in attendance, and aided by a martial band furnished the music for the occasion. During the progress of the meeting the First ward Tanner Club marched up and joined in the proceedings, attracting much attention by their neat appeargoys, valued at fifty dollars. On Monday, Mr. Fred. Thomas climbed the pole to its top and re-fixed the pulley, and the old flag with the name of Grant floats once more in triumph, and cauch to the chagrin land could be considered.

The Allegheny County Fair. The Twelfth Annual Fair of the Alleghe ny County Agricultural and Mechanical Society will be opened for the inspection of the public this morning, at Iron City Park, and notwithstanding the excitement attendant upon the political issues of the day, will no doubt prove a success. The entries up to a late hour last evening were very large, and we can assure our readers that a very creditable display will be made at this exhibition, which will warrant a large attendance. To exhibitors we would observe ample preparations have been made for a convenient and conspicuous exhibition of all articles which may be entered, and for which entries can be made up to ten o'clock this morning. The best of shelter and sta-this morning. The best of shelter and stabling has been provided for stock, and the arrangements for feed and watering are complete. Machinery has been placed in Power Hull, and every machine and implement will be exhibted to the best advantage. We earnestly hope that all interested inventors, mechanics, artisans, agriculturists and all working men will send to the Fair specimens of their handlwork in the mechanic arts, machinery and implements, stock, productions of the soil, that all may sustain the efforts made to promote an agricultural and mechanical display which shall be a credit to Pittsburgh and Allegheny county. Allegheny county.

HORSES AND CATTLE. The display of horses and cattle promise to be very fine, a large number of entries having been made. The imported cattle of James McKelvy of Wilkinsburg, and Wm. B. McCrea of Wilkins township, attract much attention among stock breeders, especially the Alderney stock of the latter gentleman. A number of other imported cattle and cross breeds are entered, but had not arrived at the time we left the grounds, but which may be seen this morning. not arrived at the time we left the grounds, but which may be seen this morning. A number of Spanish Merino and Cottswold Sheep are already in the pens, but of these we have as yet no variety. W. B. Herriott, of South Flyette township, has entered quite a number of fine wooled sheep, which can be seen this morning, and of which a further description will be given. The Swine and Poultry department is not yet opened, but from the entries we should judge that a fair exhibition will be made. dge that a fair exhibition will be made.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS. Near Power Hall a large display of agricultural implements of all kinds will be made, and at a late hour last evening the made, and at a late hour last evening the large entries in this department were quite large. Pittsburgh will be largely represented in this class, and a number of entries have been made from other sections of the State, all of which will be a valuable display for the inspection of the agriculturist.

VEGETABLE DISPLAY. The display of vegetables as yet is quite small. Some mammoth pumpkins and squashes are noticeable in this department, out the number of entries as yet is very small THE POMOLOGICAL DEPARTMENT. The varieties of fruits, as far as entered, are very good, but they are small in number. The grape exhibition promises to be very fine. The unfavorable season, however, will, it is to be feared, render this display somewhat measure.

display somewhat meagre. The floral displays of Pittsburgh and Allegheny county have always been excelent. Our nurserymen have been noted for their taste and fine arrangement of flowers and shrubbery, and we feel warranted in saying that the exhibition of flowers and shrubbery will be a feature worth noticing in this exhibition. Messrs. Murdoch and PLOWERS AND FRUITS.

in this exhibition. Messrs. Murdoch and Bennett will make a fine display this year, well worthy of their already established reputation as florists. FOOD, CONDIMENTS, &C. But few entries had been made up to last evening, which were well worthy of a special notice, but we will await a further disquite large as per the names upon the list. MISCELLANEOUS ARTICLES. The department of Fine Arts, located in Artists' Hall, is yet very meagre, being mostly confined to photographs. We noticed that a part of the Floral department will occupy this hall. We noticed a very fine model of the Great Republic, made by John Stedman of Rochester, by a penknife, which is really an artist's production, and which attracts a great deal of attention. It was in the Domestic department last evening, but will be placed to-day in Artists' Hall for exhibition. As we write, a large number of entries for all departments are being made, and should to-day be pleasant a large attendance is anticipated.

Special trains will be run on the Allegheny Valley, Connellsville, and Pennsylvania Railrads for the accommodation of visitors during the Fair, which with the street cars will afford easy access to the grounds, and should the weather be favorable a large attendance may be anticipated.

DINING HALL. The department of Fine Arts, located in

DINING HALL Persons visiting the Fair can be accommodated with an excellent meal at Mesers. Stewart, Campbell and Gregg's, the well known caterers of this city, who have the only dining rooms on the grounds, and who will furnish meals at all hours. We cheerfully recommend them to the patronage of the public. Stock Sale.—The following stocks were sold last evening at the Commercial Sales Rooms, 106 Smithfield street, by A. McIl-
