M. and at 7% P. M. Subject in the morning—"Waiting upon God;" in the eyening, "The danger of re-jecting Christ." The seats in this church are free, and all are cordially invited. Come and hear the word.

The Republican Butchers of Allegheny have completed their arrangements for joining in the parade on Monday evening. These Allegheny butchers never undertake anything of this kind that they don't accomplish quite up to the bill. No class of our community was more liberal in contributing in money and men to the detributing, in money and men, to the de-fense of our National flag, and we are happy to know that a large majority of them are arduously co-working for the success of the hero Grant and the statesman Colfax.

Night and Saturday School .- Prof. Gourley, of the well-known and much appreciated place of education, Nos. 22 and 24 Fifth avenue, announces that for the benefit of avenue, announces that for the benefit of ladies engaged in teaching he proposes to form, this atternoon, at two o'clock a class. On Monday evening next a night class will be formed for young men and others wishing to study book-keeping, arithmetic, writing and every branch of an English education. No institution of learning stands higher than Prof. Gourley's Institute, and we heartly commend it to the patronage of our readers. our readers.

ROUTE OF PROCESSION. At eight o'clock the signal for starting At eight o'clock the signal for starting was given, and the procession moved along Carson street to McKee, along McKee to Bingham, along Bingham to Grosvenor, along Grosvenor to Carson, along Carson to Meadow, up Meadow to Sarah, up Sarah to Joseph, up Joseph to Josephine, along Josephine to Railroad, along Railroad to Carson, up Carson to the Borough of Ormsby. THE DECORATIONS. The decorations along the line of procession and on many of the principal streets were really grand. In South Pittsburgh almost every house on either side of Carson street was gaily decorated with flags, Chinese lanterns, evergreens, &c., and brilliantly illuminated, The display was so general that it would be impossible for us o particularize the many beautiful decora-

BIRMINGHAM.

The decorations in Birmingham were also very fine and quite numerous. The loyal Germans of the borough, almost to a man, hung out their colors, and if the display is any indication of how the people of the borough will vote, we think Grant will have a majority exceeding two hundred.

EAST BIRMINGHAM. The display in East Birmingham was equally as grand as in the former boroughs, and quite as general. Among the very beautifully decorated and brilliantly illuminated houses we noticed in particular the house of Mr. Moses Chess, on Carson name of Grant, each letter being the full the room being brilliantly illuminated it made a magnificent display. The office of our old friend August Ammon was also brilliantly illuminated and finely decorated with flags and lanterns. There were many others equally worthy of notice, but a want of space prevents us from particularizing

THE MEETING. After the procession was over a large number of persons assembled in the Diamond, where it had been announced a meeting would be held, but owing to the lateness of the hour the meeting was not organized and there was no speaking.

The demonstration was one of the most orderly that has been held in this vicinity during the campaign, and the enthusiasmall along the line was unparalelled.

A Cowardly Assault.

On Thursday evening as Prof. Watt was returning home, on Western avenue, near Bidwell street, Allegheny City, he was attacked by two mud-larks, who in the first place hurrahed for Seymour and Blair Then one of them shouted, "That is the man; that is the man that sings the Grant songs," when the other one attacked Mr. songs," when the other one attacked Mr. Watt, kicking and striking at him in a desperate manner, Mr. Watt dodging and warding off the blows until opportunity offered when the Professor dealt him a blow with all his might, which felled him to the payement, and then springing upon him punished him in a most wonderful manner, literally mashing his nose level with his face, leaving him a most abject sight to look upon. In the meantime, Mr. Auterbac, a gentleman passing up Bidwell street, ran to Prof. Watt's relief, and with his walking cane kept the other fellow at his walking cane kept the other fellow at bay for a while, when he ran away. By this time a number of gentlemen had collected, and they advised the musical champion to repair to the Mayor's office and enter a compount, but Mr. Watt averaged

Grand Rally in the Seventeenth Ward-Speeches by Mesers, Kerr and Belspar. One of the largest rallies of the campaign was held by the Republicans of the Seventeenth ward, at their new stand, corner of Butler street and St. Mary's avenue. The publicans of stand was lavishly decorated with evergreen, flags and wreaths of flowers, the work of the loyal ladies of the ward, and being brilliantly illuminated with Chinese a number of Anterns, it presented a very handsome apras the princiand the demon- pearance. The speaker congratulated the Republicans of the ward on the auspicious circumstances under which they had assembled, and paid a just and fitting tribute to the loyalty and patriotism of Lawrenceville during the war. He then referred to the Republican party, showing that the claim which it made as the true recorders party. which it made as the true people's party was just, because its representatives were of and directly from the people, and that this was never more true of it than at the people time. The specier dwitten this present time. The speaker dwelt on this point for some time, in an able and eloquent manner, and closed amid applause. The Glee Club favored the audience with another humorous song, which seemed to be heartily appreciated, judging from the cheers with which it was received. Gen. J. B. Belshar, of Indiana, was then Gen. J. B. Belshar, of Indiana, was then introduced and addressed the meeting at considerable length. He said he had been speaking and traveling in various portions of the Keystone State since the ninth of September, and had on every hand witnessed a blaze of enthusiasm and hearty interest in the Republican cause which assured him that on the thirteenth of electory. Pennsylvania the thirteenth of October, Pennsylvania would do her duty, and that the voice of her loyal people would join with the voice to come from his own State, in raising a glorious anthem of praises, that the patriotism of the nation has survived and been made stronger by the war. The speaker then proceeded, in a remarkably eloquent and convincing style, to argue the questhe loyal people of the country. The Republican party had nothing to be ashamed of. Their soldiers were not ashamed that they had followed their glorious leader who flinked Vicksburg, and who, through all the period when the nation was struggling for its existence by voice and vote and infor its existence by voice and vote and in-fluence, endeavor d to help on the work of restoration. The speaker continued in this style for some time, making numberless telling hits, and eliciting frequent and prolonged rpplause.

Space, however, will not allow a full report of his remarks, and we are compelled as a surface with the design of the port of his remarks. to omit an extended notice. At its close the meeting adjourned with three cheers for the Republican candidates and platform.
The Twelfth and Seventeenth Ward Tanner Clubs were out in uniform and bearing orches at the meeting, and made quite creditable display.

Stolen Property Recovered.

On Tuesday morning two men went into Mr. Reed's fewelry store, Fifth avenue, and purchased a watch chain, after which they took their departure. Some time after they had left Mr. Reed discovered that a package of silver watch chains, four street. In the second stry there were five windows having white shades upon which were large black letters spelling the at two hundred dollars, had been stolen. at two hundred dollars, had been stolen.
He made the matter known at the Mayor's office, and yesterday morning a dispatch was received from the Chief of Police in Cleveland, stating that two men had been stolen.

In the evening "The School for Scandal" will be presented, Mr. Smith its time the character of Sir Peter Teazle. creviand, stating that two men had been arrested in that city under suspicious circumstances, and that they had in their possession a number of silver watch chains. The dispatch was replied to immediately. and in return the goods were described and found to be those stolen from Mr. Reed. Thos. Crosby and Geo. Thompson were the parties arrested Thompson, it was stated had been discharged, but Crosby was still in custody. Officer Irwin left for Cloveland yesterday for the prisoner and the goods, and it is probable that Thompson will be re-arrested and brought back also.

Caught at Last.

Bernard Gallaher, the individual who figured so conspicuously with Jack Bradford, Thomas Grogan and others, in smashing windows and destroying property on Wylie street Monday night, made another demonstration on Thursday night, which resulted in his arrest. It appears that after resulted in his arrest. It appears that after his discharge Thursday he immediately imbibed a quantity of Democratic spirits, (bad whisky) and being full of the rictous spirit of Seymour and Blair, he went into W. J. White's saloon, on Wylie street and made an assault upon Mr. White with a knife. He was arrested and taken to the lock-up, and yesterday morning Mr. White made information charging him with felo-nious assault and battery. After a hearing he was committed to jall in default of bail for his appearance at Court to answer the charge.

New Music.

We are indebted to Sep. Winner, Esq., the well known and extensive publisher, 926 Spring Garden street, Philadelphia, for a copy of a new ballad with chorus, entitled "Make Yourself at Home," which is dedi-doch, Esq., one of the editors and propriedoch, Esq., one of the editors and proprie-tors of the United Presbylcrian of this city. The words and music are by that very pop-ular composer, "Alice Hawthorne," author of "Listen to the Mocking Bird," "Enoch, Arden," or "I'll Sail the Scas Over," &c, &c. The ballad before us is one of the sweetest we have seen, and fully sustains the high reputation of its gifted and tal-ented author. Mr. Winner publishes some of the best and most popular pieces of music of the present day.

The Allegheny First Ward Grant and Colfax Club at their stated meeting on Fri-day night, appointed a Vigilance Commit-te to appoint sub committees, make special ta day light, appointed a viginance Committee to appoint sub-committees, make special arrangments to bring out the whole Republican vote of the ward, and to prevent fraudulent and illegal voting. New Goods for Fall and Winter.

At the well known and ever popular dry goods establishment of Mr. William Semple, Nos. 180 and 182 Federal street, Allegheny City, there has just been received a very fine stock of new goods, especially adapted for the fall and winter trade, which has already set in. The commodious salesrooms are literally packed with all lines of goods, and present rare inducements to wholesale and retail purchasers, both in tained high reputation for popular prices and good goods. The system of represent-ing every piece of goods to be just as it is, nothing more nor less, and the universal low prices which prevail, leaving the fairest and most reasonable margin for profit, has made Semple's dry goods house popular with all classes of our people. As an evidence of this fact, it might be here stated that a large portion of his trade is drawn from Pittsburgh and suburbs this side of the river. The bargains secured and the quality of goods offered have ever been the simple attractions of this representative house of our sister city, and are the secrets of its repid expansion, from humble be-ginning to its present extensive character and popularity.

The stock of goods now held, and to which we propose directing public atten-tion, embraces everything and anything in the way of dress and house-keeping dry goods, flannels, blankets, ticking, sheeting etc., etc. Country dealers, who buy to sell again, as well as retail patrons, will find that they can deal nowhere else to better advantage than at William Semple's, head-quarters for dry goods in Allegheny.

Dr. Keyser.

On our first page to-day will be found a very interesting article from Dr. Keyser on pulmonary diseases, accompanied by testimonials from various parties who have been snatched, as it were, from the grave by his treatment. The Doctor, some time ago, owing to the great demand for his services, relinquished the active management of his fine establishment on Wood street to his son, and has devoted himself closely to the duties of his profession, in which he has acquired a reputation of which he has every reason to feel proud. The Doctor is one of the oldest members of the profession in this city, and we speak from personal knowl-edge of the fact when we say that there is not, among the entire medical fraternity a closer or more active student. His thirst for knowledge in his profession is such that his mind is ever at work perfecting those theories for the cure of disease in the application of which he is so successful, and hence it is that in cases even where the patients have almost given up all hope, he almost always succeeded in affording per-manent relief. In diseases of the lungs and ailments arising from an impure state ence, and such of our readers as are afflicted in this way would do well to read his com-munication.—Pittsburgh Dispatch. DR. The Extent of Mining Operations. Few of our readers are aware of the wonderful extent to which mining operations are now being vigorously prosecuted in the far West. In Nevada alone there are now probably as many as two hundred and fifty quartz mitls in operation, which have been built at a cost of from $10,000 to $100,000 each. These mills are producing at the rate of thirty millions of dollars in silver a year, equal in amount to more than forty millions of greenbacks. Now, in the high tide of success, is the time to secure an interest in what must eventually be more productive than any other interest in the country. We advise all who wish to invest in the Marathon Silver Mining Company of Nevada, for the simple reason the by-laws of the Company guarantee at least 12% per cent, per annum on the preferred stock of the Company.
