Rare Chance to Buy Real Estate,-On our fifth page will be found an advertise-ment of an elegant residence for sale. This property can be bought very low. For particulars, see advertisement.

Larceny .- The tobacco store of Jacob Waitzell, on Fourth avenue, was on Sun-day afternoon robbed of merchandize to the amount of ten dollars, during the ab-sence of the proprietor and his family. The thieves left no clue which would lead to their detection.

In Buffale a man was sentenced to thirty days imprisonment for borrowing an um-brella without the consent of the owner. If that had been the law in our vicinity, perhaps we would not now be mourning the mysterious disappearance of one of those useful articles.

Temperance Meeting. The Allegheny Temperance Lesgue will meet this evening, at 7% o'clock, in the East Commons Meth-odist Church. An address will be delivered by the Rev. S. F. Scovel. Subject-"Are the social uses of society favorable to Temperance?" A cordial invitation is ex-tended to all classes of our citizens to be present. STATES STATES

Resulted Fatally.-The little girl who was injured by being run over by a street car in Birmingham, an account of which we published yesterday, we learn died from the effects of the injuries received yester-dey morning. The name of the child was Powell, and she resided with her parents on Carson street, in Smoky Hollow. Cor-oner, Clawson will hold an inquest on the body this meaning.

Solar Clawson will hold an inquest on the body this morning.
Slight Fire. A slight fire occurred yes, terday morning, about eleven o'clock. on Second evenue, near Brewery street. The trestimony on the specification made. In the objections was submitted to the jury, and the jury found that they were not true. The next case taken up was that of the nney. The alarm was sounded from box 41, and the fire department responded promptly, but the flames were subdued without bringing the department into service. The loss is very trifling. Larceny-Mrs. A. J. Fisk yesterday made information before the Mayor, charg-ing Mary Ramage with larceny. It appears that the accused was employed as a cham-bermaid in a boarding house in Allegheny, in which the prosecutic boarded, and it is alleged by Mrs. Fisk that the girl took from het room a hair watch chain and a gold locket, valued at forty dollars. A warrant was issued for her arrest. varrant was issued for her arrest. Mr. W. A. Gildenfenney sends us from his well-known Fifth avenue book store. "The Modern Pocket Hoyle," a nest com-pact book of reference and authority for card players. Unlike the original Hoyle, this book is compiled for American use and gives the rules of the various games as recognized in this country, which renders it much more serviceable than any of the foreign publications on the same subject. Cross Suits.—Mary Henry alleges that James Dunn met her on the same subject. James Dunn met her on the street and gn-deavored to get her to accompany him to a house of ill repute. Failing in his designs, Mary states that he knocked her down and kicked her in the side. James alleges on the other hand that Mary first attacked him, by slapping his mouth. Both parties entered cross suits against each other for assault and battery, before Alderman Strain, upon which they were required to give bail for Court. Selling Liquor to Minors,-Alderman Strain yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of William Barnes, charged on oath-of John Shovelin, with selling liquor to minors. It is alleged that the accused keeps a saloon near the Mansion, House and that, to render the saloon more attrac-tive, he is in the habit of giving concerts in the place, to which a small admittance fee is charged, and , which attracts boys, who when inside are supplied with liquor as long as their money holds out. It is just the thing, and will commend itself in the thing and will commend itself in 12 stronger terms than we can use to those needing such articles of household furni-ture. Messrs. Lemon & Weis have also in store a magnificent stock of furniture, which they offer at very reasonable prices to their patrons. 186. Larceny of Wearing Apparel.—James Sartigan made information before Alder-nan McMasters, yesterday, against Bridget WcMoris for larceny. Hartigan states that nis wife, who is demented, was placed in nis wife, who is demented, was piated in the county jail one night for safe keeping, previous to her removal to the hospital, and while there Bridget, who was impris-oned for vagrancy, stole from her a silk hood, two shawls and other articles of wear-ing apparel, valued altogether at twenty-five dollars. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused. Trouble About a Horse .-... John M. Sullivan made information yesterday before Alderman Strain against Jas. MoCord, for Trouble Aloreman Strain against Jas. McCord, for Alderman Strain against Jas. McCord, for false pretences. The prosecutor alleges ihat on the 11th day of January last the de-indant purchased from him a horse, valued st $40, by representing that he was the st $40, by representing that he was the sub owner of a valuable carriage, and that he would pay for the aminal on the 18th of July. S. Bissell, Esq., one of the Commis-sioners, in the grading and adornment of the grounds in front of the workhouse. We have been so much instructed and grat-ified by our first visit to this noble enterprise of our county, that we propose to re-visit it occasionally and advise our readers from time to time of the progress of the important work.

From a reliable gentleman just arrived from the seat of war in Allegheny, we learn that the hog war is being carried on with great vigor on both sides. At latest accounts, however, the hogs seemed to be losing ground rapidly. In several pitched battles, though gallantly contending, they had been defeated and suffered great loss, many of their most prominent generals having been captured. A few hours before our informant left, fifteen, some of whom were numbered among their bravest leaders, were captured and taken to City Farm, which has been specially set apart as a place of confinement for them. In some place of confinement for them. In some places the hogs, driven to their last extrem-ity; have entrenched themselves behind heavy barricades and in forts, which they deem impregnable, but their opponents, flushed with victory, propose to move im-mediately on these works, and talk quite boastfully of their expected tri-umph. Should they prove as successful as they expect, there will be no other alter-native left for the hogs but the uncondi-tionel surrender which is now demanded of them, or extermination. They seen. leaped from the couch, and seizing the sleeping form of her little daughter, made a rush to get out of the apartment. In her fright her foot tripped on the hearth rug and she was thrown heavily to the floor, her head striking the fire iron stand, which inflicted a severe though not a dangerous gash. The little girl in her arms was also

Shocking Accident-Two Men Instantly Killed.

Yesterday morning between seven and eight o'clock a shocking accident occurred the dawn. at Johnstown, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, by which two men were hurried into eternity without a moment's warning. It eternity without a moment's warning. It seemed that the men, whose names were respectively Joseph Noble and David Bee, were employed in the ore bank of the Cambria Iron Works. At the time in ques-tion they had arranged the fuse for a blast, and were about leaving the place, after setting fire to the fuse, when the blast pre-maturely exploded, killing both men in-stantly. Mr. Bee wasstrack by a fragment of the ore, which nearly severed his head from the body. Mr. Noble was also struck by a fragment and his head erushed in. Both the bodies were mangled and lacer-ated in a torrible manner. The deceased were brothers-in-law, both married men, and leave families to mourn their awful and leave families to mourn their awful death. The intelligence was first conveyed to this city by a telegraphic dispatch to a relative of the deceased, who started for the place on the first train thereafter.

The houses are located next door to each other on Sixth street. Yesterday the two gentlemen, salesmen, varied the mo-notony of their occupations by indulging in a little exhilarating excitement, which resulted in their simultaneous appearance before Alderman Humbert each charging the other with assault and battery. Jacob alleges that Samuel struck him in the month with his fist, while Samuel stoutly alleges that Samuol struck him in the mouth with his fist, while Samuel stoutly maintained that he was similarly abused by Jacob. They finally concluded to take the matter to court, and each gave bail accordingly for his appearance at the proper

A barrel of crude oil atored in the cellar by some means became ignited and exploded, and in a few minutes the building was in flames. Notwithstanding all the efforts of the citi-zens, the flames spread so rapidly that but a small portion of the furniture was asved. Among other articles burned was a drawer Among other articles burned was a drawer Among other articles burned was a taken containing several hundred dollars in greenbacks. The property was minsured. Mr. Wilhelm was employed as a nailor in one of the factories in the vicinity, and the loss will fall heavily upon him.

Twain's Lecture.

Mark Twain will draw probably one of the largest audiences ever assembled at;

rather to their damage, as this power is allied by a treaty offensive and defensive with their opponents. The exceeding bit-terness of the strife is made manifest from the fact that their opponents, departing from all rules of civilized warfare, unblushingly offer a reward of one hundred cents every hog prisoner brought within their lines. Taken altogether, the situation of affairs is greatly against the hogs, and it looks as if they would be conquered; but, perhaps, a change favorable to them may yet take place. The darkest hour always precedes

The Cathedral Spire,

The spire at the Cathedral has at length been so far completed as to admit of the iron cross upon its pinnacle, and that was placed in position yesterday under the superintendence of Mr. Bartberger, the architect, who, after the ponderous affair had been raised to the top of the spire it is hereafter to adorn and had been firmly nereatter to is place and the lightning rod secured to its place and the lightning rod attached, ascended to the top of the cross and secured the point to the rod, which ex-tends several feet above the cross, The cross was manufactured by Messrs.

Marshall, of Diamond alley, and weighs eight hundred pounds. It is constructed of cast iron and is fourteen feet in heighth, and the cross bar is six feet in heightin, and the cross bar is six feet inhe inches. The necessary arrangements have been made for lighting it with gas, and the pipes are already on the ground and will be at-tached as soon as the machinery can be artached as soon as the machinery can be ar-ranged for that purpose. There will be about two hundred and seventy-five gas jets, and the burners will be made of bronze, in order to stand the weather. Mr. Bartberger' informs us that the arrange-ments for lighting, it will be completed within the next two weeks. The exact heighth of the spire is not known, as there have been several changes made in the original plan since the work commenced but as it is necessary to know the exact heighth, and dimensions in order to have the other spire, which will be erect-ed during the coming summer, correspond with it, Mr. Bartberger will take the dimen-sions of it before the scaffolding is removed. The supposed heighth from the ground to the top of the cross is two hundred and fifty seven feet.
