At least one man up town couldn't keep wolfaway from his door, on Saturday, if the reporters are to be relied on. Why was the lion on Saturday night like the goddess of morning? Why, because he was A-roarer, of course.
All the other beasts in the conflagrated menagerie were scared, but the buffalo was abuff-a-low exhibition of fright.

It is thought now that the tiger mistook that private house for a church, and went in there to prey.

MANUFACTURES.

--- At Depere, Wisconsin, a woolen milli to be built. -30,000 factory girls are employed in Lawrence, Mass. -Very large quantities of cotton bave arrived at Macon, Georgia.

-Virginia is pleased with the revival of cloth manufacture in that State. One firm in Beloit, Wisconsin, has made during the past year, 1,500 reapers. -A new sash and door factory employing

15 hands was started last September in Clin--Goodsell's foundry at Pentwater, Michigan, was burned on Hallow E'en, the loss being $10,000. The Spragues are having the foundations of a large cotton mill laid this fall, at Augusta, Maine. Eleven hours is the duration of a day's work in the cotton and woolen mills of North Adams, Mass. -The Starch factory, at Indianapolis, which was burnt a few days ago, is to be immediately re-built. -Foster's tack factory at St. John, N. B.

makes one hundred tons of shoe nails and carpet tacks per year. -The boot and shoe trade of Philadelphia has received new life from the increased Southern demand. -On Saturday week, Moor, Cahoon &

Co.'s planing mill, in Cleveland, was burnt, involving a loss of $20,000. -The past season has been one of the most prosperous that the Lynn, Mass., shoe manufactories have ever had. -Two boot and shoe factories in Portland, Me., employ 150 hand, and turn out

4,500 cases of shoeing per annum. -The cigar makers strike seems to be nearly done, the manufacturers having 1856. agreed to some slight concessions. -The explosion of a tank in Shilleto's candle factory, in Cincinnati, a couple of weeks ago, cost the owners about $30,000. _A Frenchman is fraveling in Mississippi seeking an advantageous site for a large manufactory of prints and bleached cotton

-The hammer and finishing shop connected with the shovel works of Brown, Sherman & Washburn, at Middleboro, Mass., was burned on the 6th inst., with large amount of valuable machinery. The property was insured for $16,000, which does not cover the loss.

- Hempstead, Texas, for a small place does a good deal of manufacturing. It has a steam cloth factory, an iron and brass foundry, three steam planing mills, one steam saw mill, one carriage factory, one steam cotton press and gin and two steam grist mills, all in full operation.

-Murray's lumber manufactory at Fredericton, N. B., is the largest in that province, one hundred and twenty-five hands are employed and the annual product is sixteen millions of feet of spruce lumber, and ber is shipped to Europe, but the most of the laths come to this country. The International Union of Bricklayers, in their recent quarterly report, states that the trade is flourishing in all the cities wherein local Unions in connection with the National Union exist. Over two-thirds of the bricklayers of the country are now in that organization, and it is confidently expected that a year hence all who are now outside will be gathered into it. -A rolling mill for the manufacture of railroad iron is to be built at Aurora, Illinois, and arrangements are being made to reroll, at this establishment, all the iron of the Michigan Central, Hannibal and St. Josephs, Burlington and Missouri, and Burlington and Quincy railroads. The President of the Michigan Central road is also President of the new enterprise. -To persons unacquainted with the slate interests of the Lehigh Valley, their extent may prove astonishing. In and around the town of Slatington alone, cluster twentyeight quarries in active operation, and some four or five which are lying idle on account of want of co-operation among owners and pending disagreements. The total valuation of these quarries is about $2,000,000, We have no means of ascertaining the value of their annual product, but it must be immense. The progress made in the development of this useful mineral in this section is indicated by the dates of the opening of the quarries. The oldest was opened in 1 1864 1849 1 1867
