PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, The general markets are quiet and dewold of any new or important features worthy of particular notice. There seems to be a little stronger feeling in Flour and Grain, but it is so slight as to be barely perceptible, and there is no improvement to note in the volume of business. And while the surface indicates a little more Steadiness, the undertone continues panicky, and while hopes are entertained that the worst is passed, fears are still entertained for the future. There is no disguising the fact that these are, to use a common expression, shaky times, and there are many men who are in such a condition, Anancially, that unless relief is soon afforded, they will be forced to succumb. Already a large number of men all over the country have, by the force of circumstances, been compelled to go under, and as we have already intimated, unless there is a very decided change, and that, too, before long, others will be obliged to do

BURGH PETROLEUM MA

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1868. The oil market was very much excited to-day, the sales of Refined in the aggregate being larger than during any preced ing day in the history of the trade. As a matter of course it created a great commotion, particularly as it was so entirely un-expected, and prices advanced considera-CRUDE.

The Crude market, although firmer, did not sympathze fully with excitement in Refined, and there was but comparatively little done. Spot oil which was offered yesterday at 10 without finding many buyers, was quoted to-day at 10% to 10%, and not so much said in regard to gravity. We can report 1,000 bbls to be delivered between January and April, seller's option, at 10%, and 1,000 January to June, same option, at same figure. Private telegrams from Oil City quoted at $4, which is an advance of about 50 cts per bbl.

As we have already intimated, the Refined market was very much excited to-day, and what made the excitement more intense, was the fact that it was entirely unexpected. Spot oil opened up at 26 to 26½c, and sold from that up to 20c; late in the afternoon, however, the bubble burst, offers coming from Philadelphia to sell Nonember or December at 28½c, and the later aemoer of December at 22,45, and the later still, there were but very few buyers at any price. The reported sales aggregated about fifty-five thousand barrels, and we are cognizant of some ten thousand barrels sold, but not reported, so that there must have been at least, 65,000 bbls sold, and, perhaps. 70,000. perhaps, 70,000.
