Paraguayan Affairs-Note from the Secretary of State to the Secretary of the Navy—Demand for Prompt Redress-Storekeepers Appointed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, November 27, 1868. The note of the Secretary of State to the Secretary of the Navy, which is herewith published, is understood to indicate the orders which had been given to Goneral McMahon and Admiral Davis on the subject of the Paragnavan difficulties:

Department of State, Washington, D. C., lovember 17, 1868.—To Hon. Gideon Welles, Secretary of the Navy—Sir: A dispatch was received yesterday from Charles A. Washburne, Esq., late U. S. Minister to Paraguay. It was written at Buenos Ayres ond of September last. The dispatch shows that a controversy has been carried on for some time between him and the President of Paraguay. The merits of the controversy cannot be well understood until a copy of the correspondence shall have been received, which is daily expected. ceshall have In the meantime Mr. Washburne's dis-patches conclusively show that the situa-tion of all foreigners, including the United States citizens at Asuncion, is greatly im-periled, and especially that Porter C. Bliss and Geo. F. Masterman, United States citiand Geo. F. Masterman, United States citizens, lately in some way connected with the United States Legation, have suffered personal violence, and have, perhaps, been murdered. A dispatch has been received from Mr. Webb, United States Minister at Rio, in which he states that he requested Reservadured Boyle. Rear-Admiral Davis, commanding the South Atlantic squadron, to send or pro-ceed with an adequate naval force to Asuncion to protect!American citizens. Mr. Wehl is unable to inform the Department whether Admiral Davis would assume the responsi-bilities of complying without special in-structions from this Government. The sitnation thus presented seems to be one so critical that I have thought it my duty to advise the President that the Rear Admiral should be instructed to proceed with an adequate force at once to Paraguay and take such measures as may be necessary to prevent violence to the lives and property of American citizens there, and in the exer-cise of a sound discretion, to demand and obtain prompt redress for any extreme in sult or violence that may have been arbi-trarily committed against the flag of the United States, or their citizens.

CARD FROM DISTRICT ATTORNEY COURTNEY

District Attorney Courtney publishes a card in reply to that of Ex-Judge Fuller-ton, in which he says I am accused of instituting the proceedings against him in self defence. He would have the public believe that I am myself in danger from his at-attcks, and thus very cunningly inverts the relations we sustain to each other. The fact is before Mr. Fullerton took any steps against me, I had ascertained that an exposare of his conduct in the Smith matter was inevitable. He hoped by vigorous efforts to secure my removal and thus ward off the indictment which was threatening; fail-ing he trusted he might delude the pubic in the belief that the prosecution against him which was sure to follow, was a desperate resort to which he had driven me. It was for the pur-pose that he publishes his card of to-day. The public will remember how driven me. earnestly and how bitterly with the aid and encouragement of persons who under indictment in this district, Mr. Ful-lerton attacked me before the president, and how loudly he clamored for my suspension from office. They will also remember how ignominiously that attack failed. If they wondered what could have been the mo tives that actuated so crafty, and learned a lawyer in investigating so impotent an attack, their wonder must cease in view of the disclosure now made of the facts which have already been made public, and will more fully appear at the trial showing which of us has acted in self defense, and to which may be properly ascribed the leadership of the whisky ring.

RELAPSED INTO QUIETUDE. The Erie war has relapsed into quietude, Jary Gould and James Fisk, Jr., are in pos-session of the office of the Erie Railroad, but there is great reticence as to whether they or the newly appointed receiver, Ex-Judge Davies, are running the road. Sev-eral Deputy Sheriffs were at the building this afternoon, but no one seemed able to account for their presence. Ex-Judge Fullerton, Mr. Shearman, and one or two others who are retained as counsel for the Directors, were in close consultation with Messrs. Gould and Fisk. The Joint Committee of the two stock boards, who have under consideration the proposition to strike Erie from the stock list, held a meeting to-day without agreeing on any action, and adjourned until to-morrow.

The Times says: Judge Cardozo has stayed the proceedings of Judge Davies as Receiver, and has granted some order or that some notice has been given under which a rehearing is sought to be obtained be-fore Judge Cardozo of the motion under which Judge Davies was appointed, so that another struggle may be made to maintain Mr. Gould as Receiver in the State Court. It is also said Mr. Belden, a former partner of Mr. James Fisk, Jr., has a gait, in which Gould is named as Jr., has a suit, in which Gould is named as Receiver; and besides these suits, there are others by the Eric Railroad Company, and in one of them Mr. Belmont is sued, as it would seem, because it is alleged he is not interested in having his own four millions dollars worth of stock protected against further illegal issues.

The Post's money article says the rise in old at this time is chiefly the result of speculative efforts, and it is said to be connected with a movement in Government bonds. Some time since extensive specu-lative sales were made of 5-20s of 1862. The amount of these bonds in this market is comparatively small, and holders of them have advanced the price about two per cent. above the London quotation, exchange and the gold premium being included in the calculation. It is reported to be the intention of the operators for a decline to cover their sales by importing these particular bonds, which can now be done with great profit. The scheme, how-ever, would be defeated by an advance in General Augur has received particulars of the signing of the treaty by Red Cloud and his party. They hesitated to do it for ear that they might be involved in trouble by those Indians who escaped through the lines to the North; but finally they signed it, saying, however, while he would live up to the treaty as long as white men did, it might be difficult for a time to control all the young braves. He saw no necessity for going on the reservation. He had not learned to farm, and as there were plenty of buffaloes on the Powder river, he intended to spend the winter among them. He would like to come in to trade, but declared should any person come in to their country in violation of the treaty, he would confiscate their property. The party re-mained several days, and received a number of presents and sufficient rations to carry them back to Powder river.

About one hundred discharged soldiers from the upper Missouri forts arrived at Omaha. They report a number of steamers frozen in different points above Sioux

Mr. Morton: Resolved, That so many churches failed to reach the poor because the poor being naturally proud and sensitive on account of their poverty, misunderstood the church, and don't believe they are welcome even where such is the case, but mainly because where such is the case, but mainly because the pastors, officers and members are too selfish in the enjoyment of their religion, have too little love for souls, too little con-tribution to the Master's work, too little of that universal divine benevolence which is the essential distinguished element of Christianity, and the leavening principal which is to fill the whole earth with the knowledge and love of God.

is deliberately and solemnly impressed with the conviction that the only remedy for this evil is; first, to build plainer churches, and invite the poor cordially to them, proving the sincerity of the invitation, and making it consistent by abolishing the system of pew renting. Second, to seek out the poor and carry the gospel to them, and pray with those who cannot be induced to attend regular religious service and places oligious worship, and lastly, for all pro-ors of religion to consecrate their time, and influence and wealth more entirely he service of Christ in saving souls.
