The Alabama Claims-Full Details of the on Arrangement.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald writes: As to the number of Commissioners there is no doubt that the Convention fixes it at four, two on each side, but provides that they shall decide on different claims in a different manner. The Convention divides the claims into two classes-one known as the Alabama claims and the other class comprising all other laims that have arisen between the two countries since the treaty of 1853. In the case of claims of the second class, the Convention declares that a majority of the four Commissioners shall decide, unless some one of the Commissioners calls for an arbi-trator, thus leaving it optional with the Board of Commissioners to have an arbitrator or not, as they choose; but in the case of the Alabama claims, the Convention provides that each and every one of the claims shall be passed unanimously, and not by a mere majority of the Commissioners, as in the case of other claims. When one single Tenure-of-Office law. the Alabama claims passed upon by this Commission, England has spio facto consented to commit the question of her right to concede? belligerent rights to the rebels to be passed upon also, as the one question is necessarily involved in the other. This our Government considers is a concession of the most vital point at issue and a triumph of diplomacy for our side. The objection to the convention on the part of our Government is contained in the article which compels the commissioners to call upon the ar-bitrator in case one single commissioner disagrees to any of the Alabama claims; in other words, requiring the decision of all such claims to be unanimous or arbitrated. This provision is under serious considers tion by President Johnson and his Cabinet and may cause the rejection of the protocol agreed to by Minister Johnson and Lord Stanley. A few days will probably decide.

The Whisky Ring.

The great fight over the fraud in New York has at last assumed it proper shape, that of formal prosecutions before the courts of the United States for specific offences. The cases are set down for the 7th of November. The officers of the Kentucky Bourbon Company are then to be tried for a conspiracy to defraud the government. Ex Judge Fullerton and several of his witnesses in the recent inquest before the President, are to tried for levying "black mail" upon Ex:Cellectar Thomas G. Smith.
