Seventy-five percent, of the children are doing well. If all were bad, preying upon society, or kept at the public expense in prisons, the cost would be infinitely greater. Better far, to rescue, save, and atrengthen in the right direction for a little time at the susceptible period of life, that time at the susceptible period of life, that they may have an opportunity to carve a destiny of which neither they nor their friends need ever be ashamed. Many in-stances could be given. The establishment of this Institution was a wise and benefi-cent measure. It ought to be sustained. Beaver county contributed $2,500 to it, and is therefore entitled to one Manger, and this we have. There have been 47 children committed from this county since the House was opened, four of whom were sent last year. We have then, it is submitted, a year. We have then, it is submitted, a deep interest in this noble Institution. They who are directly engaged in it, need our prayers, our encouragement and our support. Let these be liberally given, to support. Let these be hereary given, to the end that we may have performed our duty to the unfortunate and friendless. All of which respectfully submitted. SANL. J.
