New Holiday Goods at Macrum, Glyde & Co., 78 and 80 Market street. Watch Stands, Cigar Stands and Cases, Writing Desks, Necessaires, fancy Glove Boxes, full assortment of Lace Goods, etc.

Commendable.—The energy with which the work on the Montgomery avenue sewer, in Allegheny, has been carried on is commendable in the highest degree. It has already been completed as far as Federal street, but it will, probably have to be stopped there until the winter is over.

Almost Completed,-But little work remains to be done on the Monongahela wharf improvements, between Grant and Smithfield streets, and if the present Smithfield streets, and if the present weather continues for a few days longer it isquite probable that the contractor will get the job entirely finished this season.

Disorderly Conduct. - John Hancock made information before the Mayor yester-day, charging Thomas Devine with disorday, enarging thomas bevine with theor-derly conduct. The parties are both hack-men, and it appears got into a quarrel, when Devine became too demonstrative. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Devine

A Cold Bed.—A vagrant drunken fellow was picked up half frozen on the sidewalk fronting James T. Brady & Co.'s banking house, on Fourth avenue, last evening, where he had retired for the night, pillowing his head on the curbstone and resting his legs in the frozen gutter. He was entombed. He was entombed.

The Bevins-Hemmings Case.—We learn from the New York Tribune that George F. Hemmings, of the Bevins-Hemmings improving hear committed to jell for hemnings, of the bevins hemmings imbroglio, has been committed to jail for trial, charged with the larceny of a pair of diamond cluster ear rings valued at $400. He had a hearing Saturday morning before Justice Ledwith, at the Jefferson Market

Victimized.—James Spaulding was the victim of misplaced confidence and bad whisky, on Monday night, at a cost of $450. It appears he was on a "bender," and found his way into a saloon in the Diamond, where two men, under the pretense of taking care of him, took him out, stating that they would take him home. They had not proceeded far, however, until they relieved im of his watch and pocketbook contain-

Bad Threw.-Walter McClintock made information before the Mayor, yesterday, charging Andrew Hucklin and Louis Hutlebar with disorderly conduct. It appears that the accused were driving a lot of cattle up Fifth avenue, when one of them picked up a piece of coal and throwing it at the cattle missed his mark and struck a large plate glass in McClintock's store room window, completely demolishing it. They were arrested and held for a hearing.

Division No. 31.—Crystal Spring Division, No. 31, Sons of Temperance, has extended the privileges of all lady visitors and adthem to full membership. though this has been done in some of the Eastern Divisions and found to work much better than the old plan, Division No. 31 is the only Western Order which has adopted e meetings of No. 31 are now held in Mozart Hall, Seventh avenue, but after the first of January, 1869, they will be held in the hall corner of Diamond and Grant

Wants a Mome.—John Anderson, a boy Wants a Mome.—John Anderson, a boy about twelve years of age, was arrested on a charge of larceny yesterday on oath of John Gunther, before the Mayor. It appears that he took a watch valued at $35, and a velvet vest, the property of the prosecutor, from a steamboat at Brown's landing, on the Monongahela. When arrested he admitted the theft, and stated that he had no home and could get no work and had no home and could get no work, and he stole the articles in order that he might be sent to the House of Refuge. He was committed to jail for trial.

Trouble Among the Coal Dealers. Some time ago the City Councils-instructed the Controller to notify dealers in coal to have all their merchandize which was disposed of in the city weighed on city scales, in accordance with the terms of an ordinance to that effect. Yesterday officer Hague made information before Alderman Hague made information before Alderman Humbert against a number of dealers who had refused to comply with the notification, and were continuing to weigh the article on their own scales. The accused were arrested and held for a hearing.

Infanticide.

Between nine and ten o'clock yesterday morning the dead body of a female infant was found in a privy on Spring alley, between Lumber and Allegheny streets, Twelfth ward. The little one had been choked to death by means of a stocking, which was wound tightly and knotted around its neck. From appearances, it was evident that the balo waters to be significant. evident that the babe was not born in the outbuilding, which is used by the inmates of three or four houses. The supposition is that it was born in one of the strangled, and thrown into the yault. Mr. Alken, the undertaker, took charge of the body and had it conveyed to the Mayor's office, where Coroner Clawson will hold an increase to deinquest to-day.

Broke His Fiddle.

William P. Harriet was the fortunate possessor of a fiddle until within a few days ago, when it became broken, as he alleges, in the following manner: He was in attendance at a ball given at the "Continen-tal" saloon one evening last week, and while perched upon the top of a barrel making melody for the merry dancers, a certain Thomas Steel stole up behind and knocked the aforesaid barrel from under him. Of course he fell down and alighted on the fid-dle, which was unable to bear his weight, and was consequently completely demol-ished. William valued the instrument much above its real worth because it was a attendance at a ball given at the "Continen-tal" saloon one evening last make and making much above its real worth because it was a present from a deceased relative. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the practisjoker by Alderman McMasters.

Car Wrecked.

Car No. 4 on the Pittsburgh and Birmingham Passenger Railway was badly wrecked yesterday morning and one of the horses killed by colliding with an iron wagon. The accident was a somewhat singular one. The first car left the station at six o'clock in the morning, as usual, and No. 4, which in the morning, as usual, and No. 4, which was to start in eight minutes afterwards, was standing on the track with the horses hitched to it featy to make the trip. The conductor and driver, it appears, were in the office warming themselves, preparatory to starting on the trip, and when the time for starting arrived the conductor went out to light his lamps but discovered that the car was gone. He and the driver started in pursuit but did not overtake the car until they arrived at the steep grade in South Pittsburgh, where they found the wreck. The horses had started on their wown hook," and kept on at a moderate wreck. The horses had started on their "own hook," and kept on at a moderate speed until they came upon the grade. There was nobody to apply the brakes here, and they could not hold the car. Consequently they could not stop when an iron wagon got in the way. They collided with it, one of them was killed and the car was wreaked.

Coroner Clawson yesterday morning held an inquest on the body of a man named Wesley Harmon, who committed suicide at his boarding house, No. 88 Beaver street, Hemler, reported on trial yesterday, the Allegheny, by shooting himself through the heart. The deceased, it seems, has been subject to attacks of temporary insanity, but until within a year past the attacks produced only a depression of spirits, and after a few days would almost entirely disappear. On Monday morning he complained of feeling unwell, and throughout the day kept his bed, his meals being sent to him. In the evening a physician was called in, who prescribed for him, but did not consider the sickness at all serious not consider the sickness at all serious. not consider the sickness at all serious. Late in the evening, while conversing with his brother, he expressed a fear that he would not recover. When his brother left him, however, yesterday morning, he seemed to be in good spirits, and somewhat better than on the previous evening. Shortly after eight o'clock the inmates of the house heard the report of a pistel, but the house heard the report of a pistol, but were not alarmed, supposing it to have been fired in the street. Soon after the report was heard, Miss Johnston, daughter of the proprietor of the bearding house, having occasion to enter the room of the deceased, was much startled to find him with his face to the wall and breathing heavily. She immediately called her father, who came at once. Upon going up to the bed, upon which the man lay, Mr. Johnston discovered blood on the bed clothes. Turning them down he discovered more blood and noticed that the night shirt worn by the deceased was considered. the house heard the report of a pistol, but ed note blood and noticed that the night shirt worn by the deceased was consider-ably burned over the left breast. The victim was a single man, about thirty-seven years of age, and had been boarding with Mr. Johnston for five or six months. He was employed as a city letter carrier for more than two years, but resigned that position during a fit of despondency in April last, since when he has not been permanently employed. It is said that he attempted to commit suicide by taking laudanum while on a visit to Perrysville some time last summer, but the act was discovered in time to save his life. act was discovered in time to save his life. After the examination of several witnesses the Coroner's jury returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death by suicide while laboring under temporary insanity.

The Reading Entertainments. The Lecture Committee of the Mercantile Library Assciation acted wisely in changing the programme of their entertainments and securing Henry Nichols, the celebrated English Elocutionist and Reader. Coming, as these readings do, in the midst of what is called a lecture course, they serve to vary the exercises somewhat and break the monotony which cannot fail to attach itself to an unbroken series of lectures, however to an unbroken series of lectures, however eminent the lecturers themselves may be. And then, beside, readings, when the pleces selected are of a standard character, and the reader one who understands his business, are equally as instructive and interesting as any other class of literary entertainments. Both of these requisites are embraced in the performance of Mr. Nichols, if we may judge from his reputation and the selections

From the alleged facts in the case, as stated by the complainant, it appears that Reynolds purchased scrap-iron of Coller to the amount of $1,508, paying on the account $1,000, and promising to pay the balance in a stated time. This promise not being kept, his father, to whom the fron had been shipped, at Pittsburgh, Pa., was applied to, but replied that he had never received but $1,000 worth of iron, for which he had paid through his son. The warrant he had paid through his son. The warrant was then issued, and Reynolds, who was found in Jersey City, was arrested by De-tective Nugent. Reynolds was brought be-fore Justice Quaife, yesterday, and held to appear for trial at the January term of Court.

New Bank Organized.

A number of Allegheny merchants and and others doing business in the lower part of Federal street and vicinity met at Excelsior Hall, last evening, and organized a new banking institution under the style of the "Peoples Savings Bank of Allegheny," by the election of the following gentlemen Directors:

Messrs. S. H. Hartman, Samuel Dyer, Jr., J. P. Henderson, R. B. McGraw, J. C. Patterson, J. Kohen, W. H. Burt, B. F. Brown, W. G. Gibson. The capital stock has been fixed at fifty thousand dollars, divided into five hundred shares of one hundred dollars each. It is proposed to secure the building located at No. 55 Federal street and located at No. 55 Federal street.

The business men in the locality named have long felt the need of such an institution in their midst, and the new organiza-tion starting in with their patronage has certainly very flattering hopes of success.

The Lecture Last Night.

The first appearance of our talented young townsman and journalist, Mr. Wm. C. Smythe, as a lecturer, drew together at the Academy last night an audience conspicuous for learning, intelligence and refinement. The lecturer, in his matter and style of delivery, surpassed the highest expectations of the ardent admirers who prevalled upon him to enter the lecture field. He was entertaining and instructive field. He was entertaining and instructive and at times truly eloquent. His perfect composure, graceful elocution, sharp pow-ers of delineation and admirable composi-tion combined to render his lecture one of the most charming we have heard during the season. Altogether, the literary entertainment was creditable in the highest sense of the word to the lecturer, and wherever repeated, should draw a crowde audience. In entering on his new profes-sion we can safely predict for Mr. Smythe a brilliant and successful future.

Amusements. OPERA House.—Miss Maggie Mitchell, now playing an engagement at the Opera House, is, beyond question, one of the most talented actresses in her line of characters now gracing the profession. She has a vein of original wit and humor, and a faculty of throwing it into the character which, no matter how often the audience have heard the piece, enables them to find something fresh and new in it. Her versatility is really surprising, and we believe unequalled by any other lady in the profession. In "Fanchon the Cricket" she excels all others who have yet attempted to play it, to the same extent that Edwin Booth and Edwin Forrest excel the ordinary tragedians. The audiance less sights. Booth and Edwin Forrest excel the ordinary tragedians. The audience lose sight of everything in the piece save "Cricket," and the actress berself seems to lose her identity in the character she is representing. The piece was presented last evening better than it has ever before been presented to a Pittsburgh audience. Mr. Collier, who travels with Miss Mitchell, is an excellent "Landry." Mr. Vandeeren, as "Father Barbeau," is unexceptionable, as is, also, Mrs. Vandeeren as "Fadet." The remaining characters were all equally well sus-Mrs. Vandeeren as "Fadet." The remaining characters were all equally well sustained. To-night the "Pearl of Savoy" will be presented, with Miss. Mitchell as Marie, assisted by Mr. Collier as Pierrot. A MIRACULOUS CURE

DEAF AND DUMB GIRL

An Inmate of the German Orphan Asylum of Troy Hill.

STATEMENT OF OFFICERS OF THAT INSTITUTE.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,

PITTSBURGH, Pa., November 13, 1868. Personally appeared before me, Horace S, Showden, a Public Notary, in and for Allegheny county, Pa., Peter Gelchsheimer, President. and Nicholas Schneider, Vice President, J. Weister, Treasurer, Jacob Dietz, Secretary, and Joseph Lang, a Committee of the German Orphan Asylum, each of whom being by me duly sworn according to law, deposed and said that Josephine Reichard, aged fifteen, an inmate in the German Orphan Asylum, Troy Hill, had been deaf and dumb from her infancy. She has lately been operated upon by Dr. Lighthill, 296 Penn street, for the cure of her deafness, which resulted in marked success. She can now hear and listinguish the human voice sufficiently to imitate it, and consequently she speaks already a few words and is daily improving both in hearing and speech. She is still under the Doctor's care, who hopes to accomplish a complete cure in time.

PETER GELCHSHEIMER, President.

NICHOLAS SCHNEIDER, Vice President. JACOB DIETZ, Treasurer. J. WEISTER, Secretary.

JOSEPH LANG, Committee. Sworn and subscribed before me, this 12th day of ctober, 1868. HORACE S. SNOWDEN, Notary Public.

Well Attested Cure of Catarrh.

DR. A. P. LIGHTHILL-DEAR SIR-Your treat ment in the cure of my Catarrh has had the desired effect, and resulted in permanent good to me, although my case has frequently been pronounced incurable, and I had exhausted all other modes of so chronic and troublesome, that by giving a few of the symptoms the value of your treatment can be more readily estimated. For years I had been afflicted with a constant cold in the head, obstructing : my breathing so as to necessitate me to keep my mouth open during sleep; latterly the discharges became solidified and impacted in my nose to such an extent that it required the greatest exertion to expel them. Sometimes these hardened lumps would get in my throat causing me to hawk and scrape even by the honr to relieve myself. My breath was offensive; my memory became impaired, Dizziness and light headiness made their appearance, and of late symptoms of paralysis stepped in, and when I placed myself under your care one side of my face was badly affected by this dread disease. My general health suffered alike, there was a constant tired. drowsy and debilitated feeling, with no energy to move or act; I felt as tired on rising in the mornng as I did on going to my bed, my appetite was caprisious and my disposition morose. In that condition I placed myself under your care, and am happy to state that all those disagreeable and dangerous symptoms have entirely left me, and I once more en-

By giving this publicity you will benefit others similarly affected and oblige me. Yours truly, JAMES SOMMERVILLE. Brookville, Jefferson county.
