CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Number of persons thronging our thoroughfares and soliciting alms at present, is unusually large.

Allegheny Board of Control.—A stated meeting of the Board of Controllers will be held at City Hall, on this evening at half past seven o'clock.

The Street Commissioner of Allegheny is taking advantage of the present compar-atively mild weather to repair some of the street crossings. There is great need of the

Is it So !—One of our exchanges of yesterday savs: "It is announced that an Ohioan demolished a faro bank of Pittsburgh one night last week, capturing between $6,000 and $8,000."

Change of Superintendents.-On Saturday evening last Mr. W. H. Brown was elected Superintendent of the Keystone Skating Rink, in place of Mr. J. V. Don-alson, who has given up the position.

New Insurance Company.—There is some talk of organizing a new Insurance Compa-ny in Allegheny. Prominent capitalists are at the head of the enterprise, which, if inaugurated, will doubtless prove a success.

Discharged .- The defendants in the Rohemian libel suit, the circumstances connected with which we published some time ago, have all been discharged, the magistrate deeming the evidence against them insufficient to substantiate

Slight Fire .- A slight fire occurred in Paisley's row, Penn street, Twelfth ward, on Sunday afternoon. The was no alarm on sunday atternoon. The was a struck, but the Independence Fire Company turned out and extinguished the flames before they had gained much headway, and Almost Lost,—A boy named Robt, Connors, while skating on the shore ice of the Allegheny river above Mechanics' street bridge. Sunday afternoon, broke through and would have been drowned had he not erved in time and rescued by some persons in the vicinity.

Housebreakers Moving .- The hardware store of Mr. James Porter, Penn street, Fifth ward, was broken into on Sunday night and a small lot of merchandize car ried off. The operators effected an entrance into the establishment by using a ladder to reach one of the second story windows, and taking the sash out. The loss is trifling.

Overturned.—Mr. Alex. Chambers, of the firm of A. & D. H. Chambers, glass manufacturers, while returning from East manufacturers, while returning from hast Liberty, on Sunday evening, was thrown from his buggy and seriously injured by the upsetting of the vehicle over an em-bankment in the neighborhood of the Bellfield Church ruins. The accident was caused by the shying of the horse. The buggy was broken so much as to make it ss hereafter.

New Music.--We have received from the publisher, Louis Tripp, of Harmony Hall, Louisville, Ky., two pieces of new music. "Let us have Peace," a beautiful song by Will S. Hays, and "Sweet Kentucky Girls," words by Young Yale, and nusic by J.W. P. Price, Hoffman, Hoene & Co., 55 Fifth Avenue, have sent us "Christmas Eve Polka," composed and arranged for the plane by

A. R. Baker. St. Pauls Episcopal Sunday School Christmas Celebration, on Saturday after-noon last, was decidedly one of the neatest affairs of the kind which has come to our knowledge this season. The church was beautifully decorated on the occasion, and the children were most bountifully sup-plied with cakes, candies and more substantial presents, for all of which they were indebted to the exertions of the Superin-tendent, Mr. Barnes, and several excellent lady assistants. May all live to enjoy many more such occasions.

Severe Fall. Mr. John Esset, residing on Penn street, in the Twelfth ward, met with a severe and painful accident yesterday morning, which might have resulted fatally. He arose before daylight and started down stairs to kindle the fires. A lump of coal had been uropped on the stairs the evening previous, and in going down he trod on this, and was overturned, falling to the bottom of the flight. In falling his head came violently in contact with the edge of a stap covering in contact with the edge of a step, causing concussion of the brain. In landing at the lower step he came with such force as to fracture his right thigh very badly. A physician was soon after summoned, and attended to his injuries. Though severely and dangerously injured, his life may, with careful treatment, be spared.

Held For Trial .- On Christmas evening. rs Mr. Otto Zimmerly, a resident of the Eighth ward, Allegheny, was returning home from a neighbor's house in the vicinity, where he had been spending the evening, when two men, with blackened faces and in disguises sprang from an alley sud-denly and knocked him down. While lying on the ground he was severely beaten by his assailants, who ran away as soon as their designs were accomplished. From information received he said he had reason to believe that the attack was made by Jo-seph Reynolds and Adam Hærr, and acseph reynolds and Adam meer, and ac-cordingly information against them was made before Mayor Drum. They were arrested and had a hearing last evening, at which Hærr was discharged and Reyn-olds held to ball for trial on a charge of sasault and battery.

Vocal Concert.

Lovers of good old-fashioned melody and sweet inspiring music will be pleased to learn that a grand vocal concert, for the henefit of the Sabbath School connected with the Central Presbyterian Church, Allegheny, will be given this evening in the auditorium of that edifice, at the corner of Anderson and Lacock streets. The programme embraces many exquisite and brilliant gems of song, and as the performers have for some past been undergoing careful training, they will be rendered in a style which will undoubtedly develop their beauties and harmonies in a proper manner. The object for which the enter-tainment is given is in the highest degree praiseworthy, and should attract a large audience to the church. The performance will commence precisely at 7% o'clock. Tickets fifty cents.

The Fiery Cross.

The large cross on St. Pauls Cathedral tower was again lighted last night, and for the first time every one of the more than eight hundred jets burned brightly. The cross is supplied with rows of jets outside the edges and all the way around, placed two inches apart, and also with central jets to civil and political rights, and recognizes all citizens as justly entitled to the rights, privileges and immunities which are inseparably connected with such a relationst the reference. running up the middle of the upright and along the arm of the cross. The heat generated by so many lights is intense, but to guard against the cross becoming too hot, incurring the danger of splitting the rock in which it is set, the jets commence a considerable distance from the base. The effect when lighted is grand to an extreme. The when lighted is grand to an extreme. The emblazoned cross, penetrating the clouds, can be seen and distinguished from almost every point within four or five miles of the city. The gas fitting is an admirable piece of mechanism, reflecting great credit to Messrs. Sheriff & Loughrey, the well-known Market street gas, water and steam fitters, to whose skill is due the successful person out of the idea. The great will be carrying out of the idea. The cross will be lighted by electricity on special occasions

CONVENTION OF DISFRANCHISED MEN. First Day's Proceedings-Permanent Or ganization—Large Representation—Offi-cers Elected—President Garrett's Speech —Appointment of Committees—Evening

Session-Reports of Committees. In accordance with a published call to the Loyal but Disfranchised men of Pennsylvania, for a convention of delegates from the western counties of the State, a large number assembled yesterday morning in the Wylie Street African M, E. Church, for the purpose of taking into consideration the general interests of the race, and to institute measures toward secu-ring the rights of citizenship to every loyal man, irrespective of color.

At the appointed hour, 10 o'clock, a temporary organization was effected by calling Rev. W. H. Hunter to the Chair, and ap-pointing Prof. S. A. Neale Secretary. Rev. Jesse Divine opened the exercise with prayer. Messrs G. S. Woodson, R. Havis, and A. Cole were appointed a Committee or

During the interval in which the Com mittee were preparing their report, several interesting and spirited speeches were made by delegates from various localities, which were met with general favor, and were frequently interrupted with applause.

The Committee on Credentials presented their report, from which it appeared that there were one hundred and thirty delegates in attendance. The report was received, and after some discussion, the Committee was continued for the purpose of qualifying any delegates who might arrive during the progress of the Convention.

On motion of Mr. Garnett, a Committee consisting of one member from each delegation, was appointed on Permanent Organ

After the Committee on Permanent Organization had retired, a motion to ad ourn until two o'clock was made and voted On motion of Mr. G. S. Woodson, a committee of five was appointed on finance.

The Chairman, by unanimous request o Convention, appointed Mr. Jas. Carter, of Birmingham, Sergeant-at-Arms. The Committee on Permanent Organization returned and reported the following list of officers:

President—Rev. H. H. Garnett.

Vice Presidents—Revs. J. W. Divine, W.

PRESIDENT GARNETT'S SPEECH. Mr. Garnett, on taking the chair, re-marked that he was not insensible to the honor which was thus conferred upon him, and accepted it in the spirit of that wise old philosopher, Benjamin Franklin, who made it, according to his own statements, a cardinal practice never to solicit an office, and never to refuse one thrust upon him, especially when the interests of the people might be subserved by his acceptance. In accepting it, therefore, he desired the hearty co-operation of every delegate, without which it would be impossible to conduct the affairs of the Convention with harmony and propriety.

It seemed as if there never was a time when the need of such a gathering was more apparent, or when it could be made productive of as much good in the upbuild-ing and elevation of a race of men long without the rights which appertain to dignified, ennobling manhood, and crushed and kept down by the iron heel of the foul oppressor, and he trusted that all in attendance would solemnly feel the great responsibilities resting upon them in acting upon the business which would be brought before the Convention. Among the most important questions which would require their careful, attentive consideration were the best methods of bringing about the ed-ucational, moral and financial advancement of the loyal but disfranchised men every where, and the matter of presenting to the National Congress of the Union a respect ful, yet earnest, petition for a change in the which would ensure a just and wise action with every one. He hoped that the delegates would so ponder them in their minds, in the convention and out of it, that when they were called upon either to act or talk, they might act and talk intelligently and to the furtherance of the cause which had assembled them together. The cause was one of humanity, and needed but a proper and harmonious presentation to the world to make it succeed, and with such action, though retarded in the beginning, it could not and would not fail to triumph gloriously in the end.

A vote of thanks was tendered the retiring officer, Rev. W. H. Hunter, for the effi-cient and satisfactory manner in which he had discharged the duties of temporary Chairman.

Mr. Murray moved that a Business Committee of nine be appointed; Adopted, and Professor Neale chosen Chairman of said Committee.

On motion of Mr. Carson, a Committee of five, with Paul J. Carson as Chairman, was appointed to prepare rules for the goyernment of the Convention.

Mr. B. J. Pulpress was appointed Chairman of the Committee on Speakers.

Mr. Hunter moved that all distranchised persons who were willing to pay the assess.

ment made by the Finance Committee on each delegate, be allowed all the privileges and rights of the Convention. Adopted. The Chairman of the Committee on Speakers reported a programme for the evening's exercises, after which the Convention adjourned until seven o'clock.

EVENING SESSION. The Convention met at seven o'clock, and was called to order by the Chairman, Rev. H. H. Garnett. The exercises were opened by singing

"Blow ye the Trumpet. blow, The gladly solemn sound." After which Rev. Mr. Hogan lead in prayer. The minutes of the preceding meeting were then read by the Secretary and ap-

Mr. S. A. Neale. Chairman of the Committee on Business, presented the following business for the Convention: Whereas, A large number of the loyal and patriotic citizens of this Republic are deprived of the right of suffrage, which is the cardinal principle of our Government and the chief safeguard of liberty; and, Whereas, The amendment of the Federal Constitution should be a sufficient of the rederal constitution should be a sufficient or sufficient of the rederal constitution should be a sufficient or sufficient or

The report was received.
The preamble and first resolution were then taken up and ably discussed by Rev.
H. H. Garnett and Mr. O. L. F. Hughes, of Dauphin county, after which the preamble and resolution were adopted.

Mr. Roach, from the Finance Committee, submitted the report of said Committee, fixing the initiation fee of membership in the Convention at fifty cents.

The report was adopted.
On motion of Mr. Roach, it was resolved to take up a collection to defray the expenses already incurred.

Mr. Carson submitted the report of the Committee on Rules, which was adopted.

The second resolution in the report of the Business Committee was called up, and Rev. Hunter called upon to discuss it. Owing to the lateness of the hour he declined to make a lengthy argument.

Mr. Sampson followed in a brief speech, favoring the adoption of the resolutions.

The resolutions were then adopted, and the Convention adjourned to meet at nine o'clock this morning. Transoms and Side Lights, stained, enameled and ground. What Might Have Been, Mr. James Isham, residing in the Third ward, Allegheny, an evening or too ago purchased a large sized oil chandelier and had it hung up in the parlor of his residence. The same evening one of the children, while playing with an intestand, happened to spill some of the black liquid upon the floor. The housemaid brought in a basin of water with which to cleanse the stairs, and placed the vessel immedistely under one of the globes of the chandelier. At this instant the ring sustaining the globe gave way, which caused it to fall. It was filled with oil, and the wick lighted at the time, but fortunately it overturned in its descent and fell plump into the basin. The light was immediately extinguished, but the lamp was broken nd destroyed. Had the lamp fallen upon the carpet, instead of in the water, the result might be better imagined than described.

Christmas Celebration. The Sixth Avenue United Presbyterian

Church and Mission Sabbath Schools held their usual Christmas celebration in their beautiful School Rooms on Sixth avenue, Christmas morning, at 91/2 o'clock. These schools have had many happy reunions, but none more happy and joyous than the present. The rooms were tastefully ornamented with evergreens and a profusion of flowers worked up in festoons, wreaths, and in almost every conceivable way, and sus-pended from walls and windows and encircling the pillars, transforming their sombre appearance into trees of more than tropical beauty. The mottoes on the walls, and encirled with wreaths, were in great profusion and very appropriate for the occasion. Be-hind the Superintendent's desk was the hind the Superintendent's desk was the usual greeting in large letters, "Merry Christmas." The rooms were all lighted up by gas-jets, thus rendering the effect more striking. Thomas H. Rabe, Esq. Superintendent of the Mission School, conducted the exercises. The order of exercises were the following: Singing by the children of the 146th psalm to the tune of "Beautiful River;" reading of Scripture by Rev. Mr. Clark and prayer by Rev. W. J. Reid. The juvenile choir connected with Reid. The juvenile choir connected with the Mission School then sung, "Plunged in a Gulf of Dark Despair," after which the address of welcome was delivered by Alf. Roenigk, one of the Sabbath School boys. Roenigk, one of the Sabbath School boys. Master Roenigk is a fine looking boy and acquitted himself very creditably indeed. After singing "Morn Amid the Mountains," another address was by Master Charlie Cappell, which was superior to anything we have ever heard from a boy so young. The choir then sung "The Bird Caroll," when little Katie Brown gave a touching piece of declamation entitled "God is Love." Singing again, "Those Evening Bells," following which a short address was made by Major William Frew. A dialogue by children of the infant class came next. Rev. Mr. Clark addressed a few appropriate words to the children, few appropriate words to the children which was followed by singing of a piece entitled "Doing Nothing." An address was then delivered by Rev. W. J. Reid, who is a great favorite with the children, and who has the rare faculty of being able to interest them. A part of the 67th Psalm was then chanted in fine style by the church was then chanted in hinestyle by the church choir, when Rev. T. H. Hanna, the pastor, made a very happy and beautiful address.

"Auld Lang Syne" was then sung, the audience being invited to join. After a few parting words from the Superintendent, the children marched up to the platform. where each one received a nice box of candles. The evergies were exceedingly in the children marches the children marches and the superintendent. dies. The exercises were exceedingly interesting throughout and the order perfect, although above eight hundred children were in attendance. Every one appeared delighted, and the happy faces of the children showed that they fully appreciated and enjoyed the efforts of their Superintendents in preparing this most successful celebra-ent plan from any in the city. There are four rooms separated from the main room by glass partitions. One of these rooms contain the infant class, numbering over one hundred and fifty children; the other three are bible-class and library During the opening and closing of the session, these partitions are all thrown up, thus converting the entire school-rooms into one large room, and enabling all to engage in the exercises. When the opening gage in the exercises. When the opening exercises are over, the partitions are closed again, thus giving the infant and bible-classes all the privacy required. By this plan all the school is under the eye of the Superintendant, and presents a very unique and favorable appearance to visitors. The morning school numbers two hundred and fifty children, while the afternoon, or Mission School numbers above five hundred the school of the of Chicago. There are very successful children's prayer meetings held throughout the week and on Sabbath evenings, at which from two to three hundred children are in attendance. There is a meeting for children every evening of the week, where singing, election at the set are target. On singing, elocution, etc., are taught. On Thursday evening the more advanced boys have a debating seciety, which is a great success, in connection with which there is a good circulating library. On the whole, we know of no schools in such a flourishing and prosperous condition as these.

Street Commissioner's Report.

The report of Mr. Jno. D. McFaden Street Commissioner of the Second District, develops that an immense amount of work has been done under his auspice during the past year. The amount ex-pended was $17,285,07, a large sum, but judiciously expended when the great amount of work is laid before the auditor. Eight hundred and fifty-nine notices were served to renew side walks, and it is estimate to renew aide walks, and it is estimated that over 20,000 square yards were laid in pursuance thereof. 130,000 feet or 24 miles 1,293 yards of ice were cut from the gutters at a cost of $8,662,18. The report is comprehensive and as it will be laid in full comprehensive and as it will be laid in full before our readers in due time, we will not publish the various items. It clearly shows that Mr. McFaden has altended faithfully to the discharge of his responsible duties.

The popular drama of the "French Spy," in which M'lle Ravel excels, was the piece selected for the occasion. The clearness, brilliancy, delicacy and grace with which she represents the character establishes her in the profession character establishes her in the profession as a true artiste. Her pantomime is the very perfection of art—every look, motion and gesture expresses the meaning as well as it could be conveyed by words. The broad sword combat between M'lle Ravel and Mr. Dower, who played the role of Mahomed, was thrilling in the extreme, and was liberally applauded by the audience.

To-night M'lle Ravel appears in three different characters in the Wizard Skiff, in which she will execute her celebrated Greek Bridal Dance.
