THE WEEKLY GAZETTE, issued on Wednesdays and Saturdays, is the best and cheapest family newspaper in Pennsylvania. It presents each week forty-eight columns of solid reading matter. It gives the fullest as well as the most reliable market reports of any paper in the State. Its files are used exclusively by the Civil Courts of Allegheny county for reference in important issues to determine the ruling prices in the markets at the time of the business transaction in dispute. Terms: Single copy, one year, $1.50; in clubs of five, $1,25; in clubs of ten, $1,15, and one free to the getter up of the club. Specimen copies sent free to any address.

THE Board of Directors of the Pitts burgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad have, it is rumored, in contemplation the issue of a large scrip dividend.

THE OFFICIAL VOTE OF MAINE for GOVenor is 131,782; CHAMBERLIN'S (Rep.) majority is 19,264. This will decide a score or more wagers made during the late campaign, and as a general thing we believe our Republican friends are the winners.

THE Union Pacific Railroad track will reach its thousandth mile-post from Omaha, in the valley of the Weber, before this month closes. Salt Lake is to be reached by the first of April, and the junction with the other Pacific end effected by the first of These bonds amount to $1,400,000.

MAINE is likely to replace Mr. MORRILL with Mr. HAMLIN in the United States Senate. CARL SCHURZ is the most promising candidate for the seat from Missouri. The New York Republicans hesitate to plunge into the schism between the friends of Gov. FENTON and Mr. MORGAN, and are casting about for a new man to take the place of the latter. In Indiana, Wisconsin and West Virginia, we are not yet able to report pro-

THE CONFERENCE OF PARIS commenced its business on Saturday under an unfavorable situation of affairs. Turkey absolutely refuses to recognize any action of the Conference which shall impair her own sovereign rights over her Greek provinces. Her ultimatum, heretofore communicated to the Greek government, is to be adhered to and City Controller is anxious to enlighten the the Conference is advised to govern its deliberations accordingly. On the other hand, there is no expectation that the Greeks, supported by the Russian influence, will assent to an adjustment of disputes on that basis. It is still believed, however, that the discussions of the Conference, conducted in the interests of peace, will be so guided as to avoid a serious termination.

THE MILITIA SYSTEM of Pennsylvania is a myth. In fifty-three counties there is not the vestige of a militia organization, and outside of Philadelphia the organizations are of very trifling importance. But this myth has, nevertheless cost us $34,895 24 during the year, mostly paid to employes in the State Arsenal, the State Agency at Washington, and in the offices of the Adjutant General and the State Historian. It is probable that these expenses could not have been avoided, nor will the adoption of the Governor's recommendation cause them to be materially enlarged. His suggestion, that the minimum number for company organizations be reduced to a limit which will still retain an effective nucleus for future enlargement, and thus secure a basis available in case of need, is a good one, and merita Legislative consideration.

the Committee on City Printing be authorized to advertise for proposals for the city printing, and the same to be awarded to the no shameless jobs have yet betrayed into owest and best bidders, provided that not more than two English and one German papers be contracted with.

In the Common Council this Ordinance signally failed, receiving only two votes.

What the intention of the mover was, we shall not undertake to say. But, the effect of the Ordinance, if it had passed, would have been to compel all proprietors of newspapers, who are members of Councils, to resign or else have their proposals for City and to obliterate the last hope of its ultimate Printing set aside. While members, they could not contract for the Printing, as contemplated by the proposed Ordinance. As only proprietors of the GAZETTE and Dispatch are members of Councils, if sinister ntentions were entertained, it is not difficult to see with what design the Ordinance was projected.

Yesterday a Sunday cotemporary had an article on City Printing, from which we take the following paragraphs: At the Controller's office, yesterday, we obtained some figures bearing on this printing question. The amount paid the four official papers during the year was as follows, but it should be borne in mind that the amounts with which the Commercial, Dispatch and Gazette are credited, only include was rank drawn up to October. The Freedom's Friend is for the full year:

The compensation for advertising is fixed by Ordinance. Consequently each of the official papers is entitled to the same pay, papers, it is stated, had drawn the full bills so far presented and paid, do not cover the more to draw hereafter.

If the City Controller informed our contemporary that the GAZETTE had drawn $2,122.70 during the last year, he simply stated what is not true. The exact amount paid this office was $1,828.95.

streets, and other similar work, the amo of advertising has been increased, just as expenses in most departments of the municipal government have been augmented. Consolidation implied this. Government for the larger territory and population cannot be conducted at as low a cost as for the smaller territory and population. But, then, the assessments cover an increased amount of property and inhabitants; so that ratably to the work done, and the interests promoted, the cost is no greater than before.

It properly belongs to Councils to decide compensation shall be paid for the service. The proprietors of newspapers which published the City advertisements last year, have nothing to conceal. justifies his proposition for a denominational division of school funds, by the authority of M. Guizor, the Protestant statesman and historian of France, from whom

"In order to make popular education truly good and socially useful, it must be fundamentally religious. I do not simply mean by this that religious instruction should hold its place in popular education educated by suon perty and mechanical devices; it is necessary that national education should be given and received in the midst of a religious atmosphere, and that religious impressions and religious observances should penetrate into all its parts. Religion is not a study or an exercise to restricted to a certain place and a certain hour; it is a faith and a law, which ought to be felt everywhere, and which after this manner alone can exercise all its bene-ficial influences upon our minds and lives."

If, however, he would consent to be understood as affirming that all true work is religious, and, consequently, that an atmosphere of genuine work is a religious atmosphere, we should be nearer at agreement. In the broader sense, this is acknowledged to be correct; yet the narrower distinction which resolves all doings into the distinctly religious or the distinctly secular, is eviconcludes thus:

particularly appropriate for religious instruction. By Gon's ordination, every father is priest, and every mother priestess, in his and her own household. What is well done here, is seldom undone elsewhere. The Church stands as the public instructor in religion. It cannot ignore or depute its function without loss and shame. The Sunday School is now used as an adjunct to the Family and Church. So far as it gathers in outcast children, it does a noble work. But whoever institutes a thorough examination will be apt to conclude that so far as it is made to take the place of family instruction, it is a failure and a mistake.

Take a hundred Presbyterian families: question the children upon the .Confession of Faith, and the Smaller and Larger Catecisms, and it will be found that there is a lamentable falling off in the exactness and range of instruction, as compared with preceding generations. Sunday School instruction has not in the particulars indicated, proved a substitute for family training. Perhaps this effect is not so much owing to the School as to the quiet development of the age, almost equally manifest in all nations and all climes, which consists in turning measurably away from the past, and stretching out correspondingly to welcome the future.

It may be urged, with plausibility and power, that Sunday School instruction, The New York Teacher is a monthly though less dogmatic than the old family method, is more scriptural. And this certainly deserves consideration. The Sunday School, connected with Protestant churches, has done much, and will do more, to eradicate sectarian peculiartiles, and to blend The rates paid for City Advertising, in tion of all in schools supported at the compirations rather than of identity of mental cluding the reports of the proceedings of mon expense, and governed by general conceptions and definitions. OUR COMMON SCHOOLS.

The condition of the School system of the Commonwealth is set forth in very full details in the Annual Report of Superinvaluable document in full. His comparative statements show that the number of schools has increased 231 during the year, the number of teachers 248, the number of pupils 11,126, the average attendance 27,234, the cost of tuition $144,193.73, of fuel and contingencies $63,577.88, for school buildings $728,859.87, and that the total of ex. penditures for all purposes has increased $1,089,787.79 during the year. The State appropriations of last year were an increase

He recognizes the expediency of dispensing with an uniformity of text-books throughout the State. But eight cities and boroughs of the State, including Pittsburgh and excluding Allegheny, have elected Superintendents. Mr. WICKERSHAM urges an increase in the salaries allowed to County Superintendents, and that a census should be taken of all the children between the ages of six and twenty-one years. His report

"We are making progress in our school affairs; facts show it, figures prove it; but how slow the great car moves! School officers neglect ther duties; clergymen often ness by the other side and by the whole pass by on the other side and let the school suffer; the press speaks out seldom and tamely; statesmen seem almost blind to an tamely; states need almost blind to an interest more important in this country than any other; parents even think more of getting money than knowledge for their children; communities go forward heavily, clumsily, without heart; but still the world moves, and schools move with it; more the state of the property to moves, and schools move with it; move ut, rather, for the mightiest of all power to day is the power of education. The radical idea that underlies a common school system like ours is the elevation of the whole people Its work is necessarily slow, for like the bled Atlas, it bears the whole earth upon its shoulders. Patience, then, friends of popular education, the struggle may be long; courage, the victory will be sure, for we fight for universal liberty."

THE LATEST railway-subsidy project before Congress, is set forth in the annexed statement of a bill pending in the House Committee on Pacific Railroads:

It is probable it will be proposed to give a subsidy in the shape of guarantees. posed to give a subsidy in the shape of guaranteeing the interest on the company's bonds for fifty years, and requiring a first lien or mortgage of security, for which the company will also be required to pay into the public Treasury three per cent. of its gross earnings for a term of years, say fifty, and one per cent. thereafter for all time. iy, and one per cent thereafter for all time. Such a bill as this may get through the Committee, and perhaps through Congress. It is a modification of what was originally proposed, and has thus been materially changed so as to meet less opposition from Gen. Grant and his official friends.

The friends of the Pacific road are besieg-ng Gen. Grant to withdraw his objections these schemes, and it is thought that such as the above will meet with no opposition from him. (Gammon!)

THE report of the Taunton (Mass.)
