Erratum.-In our notice of the Market Committee meeting yesterday, the types made us say that an appropriation of two thousand dollars would be asked, which should have read ten thousand dollars. The crazy woman who was arrested by the Allegheny police on Tuesday, was yesterday committed to jail for thirty days. Her mental aberration seems to be only temporary, caused by excessive drinking.

Fined. -- Messrs. Kohen & Bro. were fined two dollars and costs by Mayor Drum yester-day for obstructing the sidewalk in front of their grocery store, with boxes and barrels greatly to the annoyance and discomfort of pedestrians along the thoroughfare.

Insane, Officer Mosssner arrested Michael Helbling, an insane man, yesterday, and took him to the lock-up, at the instance of his friends. Helbling, it appears, was lately an inmate of Dixmont, from where he escaped. He had in his possession when arrested ninety dollars in gold, forty dollars in greenbacks and checks on various banks amounting to over eight hundred dollars.

On a "Strike."-The coal miners along the lines of the Allegheny Valley and Panhandle Railroads are out on a "strike," handle Railroads are out on a "strike."
They now demand five cents per bushel for digging coal instead of four, which they have been realizing. If they succeed in their demands, of course all the miners employed in the various pits around Pittsburgh will pursue a similar course. People must have east though. have coal, though.

In Limbo ... "Limber Jim," a colored individual, employed on one of the Ohio river steamers, was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by large Smith before the March by James Smith before the Mayor, Smith, by James Smith before the Mayor. Smith, it appears, is employed on the same boat with Jim, and yesterday morning a quarrel ensued between them, which terminated in a fight, in which Smith was hadly beaten. Jim was locked up for a hearing.

Pocket Picked.—A woman named Tedis had her pocket picked in the Diamond market yesterday morning, of a pocket book containing $32, by a boy whom she noticed following her about for some time, and who made his escape in the crowd. She raised the slarm as he ran away, but and who made his escape in the crowd. She raised the alarm as he ran away, but the young thisf was too nimble to be caught. Subsequently she made a statement of the affair at the Mayor's office, and an officer was sent in search of the boy, but failed to learn anything of his whereabouts.

Correction. In our report of Court proceedings published yesterday, in referring to the case of the Commonwealth vs. Robert Campbell et al., we stated that the diffi-culty out of which the prosecution grew occurred at McKeesport, and that Mr. Spradling, the prosecutor, was constable of sprauning, the prosecutor, was constable of that borough, which was not correct. The defendants reside at Buena Vista, and the prosecutor is constable of Elizabeth township. The jury in the case had not returned a verdict when Court adjourned last even-

The Iron City College is enjoying an unusual degree of prosperity this winter. Students from all parts of the country have been pouring in until its capacious halls are now literally filled with young men from no less than ten different States. The principals, Messrs, Smith and Cowley, who labor assiduously for the welfare of their students, and who spare neither pains nor expense to make the school first class in expense to make the school first class in every respect, find their exertions rewarded by an attendance unequalled by any similar institution in the country. Young men who contemplate pursuing a business education should not fail to make themselves acquainted with the advantages afforded by this long established, popular, and highly prosperous business College.

Postnoned,

Narrow Escape-The Waterfall a Life

Preserver. An incident, which might have been a fatal accident but for the presence of a chignon, occurred yesterday morning, the facts of which are as follows: It appears that the boys in the neighborhood of 176 Fourth avenue frequently amuse themselves by shooting pigeons, and while engaged in that innocent and appropriate pastime yesterday morning, a ball, fired from the gun they morning, a ball, fired from the gun they were using, passed through a window of Mrs. Briggs' boarding house, No. 176 Fourth avenue, and struck a lady who was seated in the room. This is not the first instance wherein a lady's life has been saved by a waterfall.

Felonious Assault.

Mary Welsh and Mrs. Doran are neighbors, residing in South Pittsburgh, but they don't seem to get along in a neighborly way with each other. Mrs. Welsh states that she had a clothes line stretched in her strength of the prosection in the first case, and was not concluded when Court adjourned.

that she had a clothes line stretched in her yard, upon which she intended to hang her week's washing. Mrs. Doran, however, took it into her head to occupy the same line for a similar purpose, and was about carrying the idea into effect when she was carrying the idea into enect when she was interrupted by Mrs. Welsh, who politely, but mildly informed her that the line was already engaged. This, according to Mrs. Welsh's statement, so offended Mrs. Doran that the leaf row down the line and when that the lady tore down the line, and when remonstrated with, picked up an ax and threatened to reduce her neighfor to mince meat, a threat which might have been carmeat, a threat which might have been carried into execution had not the intended victim evacuated the premises with considerable trepidation. The sequel to the affair may be found in two informations which Mrs. Welsh lodged against Mrs. Doran before Alderman M'Masters yesterday, one for felonious assault and the other for malicious mischief, upon both of which warrants were issued. The Lost is Found,

Gentle sister thou hastleft us.
And thy loss we deeply feel:
But 'tis God that has bereft us.
He can all our sorrows heal.

Yet, again we hope to meet thee.
When our days on earth are past;
Then in Heaven with joy to greet thee,
Where no fareweil tear is shed.

Where no farewest tear is shed.
