Refused to Prosecute. Yesterday atternoon an individual appeared at the Allegheny Mayor's office and related the following story: He had been robbed several days previous of a memorandum book containing $20 cash and some valuable papers. The book was taken out of his coat pocket, which was hanging in his room at a boarding house in the Diamond. Suspicion attached itself to a fellow boarder, but as no definite clue could be obtained, the matter was kept quiet at the time. Monongahela Wharf Committee Meeting.

The Monongahela Wharf Committee of City Councils held a meeting last evening, at their rooms, and organized by electing Mr. Sam'l Morrow, Chairman. Disturbing the Redmen.

It may be a matter of news to some of our readers to hear that, notwithstanding Pittsburgh is not in the far west, upon the extreme borders of civilization, the camp fires of the red men are lighted weekly, and may be seen brightly burning in a building at the corner of Grant and Diamond streets. Such, however, is the fact. We do not mean that denizen of the forest, who delights in scalning white men before the Mayor against parties whose in names were to him unknown, for burglary, and the fact. We do not mean that denizen of the fact. We do not mean that denizen denicents in said murdering defence keeper, stopped him. This gave him offence and he raised a disturbance, for offence and he cased a disturbance, for which Mr. Fred. Schmidt appeared before the Mayor and made information, charging Coop with disturbing a public assembly. He was arrested and held for a hearing.

During the past year there have been erected in Pittsburgh scores of magnificent buildings for business purposes, which tend to adorn and beautify the city. Fourth avenue has been especially honored, and

This edifice is to be constructed of Connecticut brown stone, and we venture to say it will be the handsomest piece of architecture in the Smoky City. The design is bold and striking, and entirely original. The details are harmonious, and there is none of that conglomeration of a dozen different styles which is so offensively perceptible in most of our pretentious buildings. The edifice has rounded corners, and an extensive side, so that the street effect will be unusually handsome. The departure from the usual custom of presenting a flat front is very commendable. senting a flat front is very commendable. In street architecture the buildings are more seen in coming towards them than from a directly opposite point of view. We consider the attempt referred to a good one, and we would like to see Philadelphia have some of equal architectural merit.

dealers in lumber is directed to the card, | Corner of Penn and St. Clair Streets, in another column, of Mr. Alexander Patterson, the extensive wholesale and retail terson, the extensive wholesale and retail dealer in lumber, whose office and yards are at No. 157 Rebecca street, opposite the gas works, and corner of Preble and Jnniata streets, Sixth ward, Allegheny. It is very generally acknowledged that at no other yards in this section of country can a larger and better assortment of first quality lumber be found than at Mr. Patterson's. It is made up of boards, planks, scantling, joists, shingles, locust and cedar posts, weather boarding, flooring, fancy siding, patent spouting, &c., while a very fine assortment of oak, poplar, ash, and yellow assortment of oak, poplar, ash, and yellow pine and dry lumber will be found. Air. Patterson is a courteous and honorable business gentleman, with whom it is a pleasure to deal, and we bespeak for him a fair share of the patronage of our readers.
The Manchester cars run in close proximity to his yards, so that there is no inconvenvisiting his extensive and well stocked yards.

Three Charges.—George Johnson, proprietor of a small salcon near the Minersville car station, was brought before Alderman Strain, yesterday, on three informations, one for selling liquor without license, one surety of the peace, and the last for disorderly conduct, all preferred against him by Patrick Duffy. ADVERTISEMENT. ATTENTION: BOYS. Ue, the girls of Little Creek.
That held ur beads so high;
Come, take pity on us, boys;
Don't let us old maids die. We have tried in every way,
Both old and young, large and small:
So we thought we'd advertise,
And perhaps you'd give us a call. To single g school we've went in vain, And when we'd homeward go, Not one girl was lucky enough To ever catch a beau.

To ever catch a beau.

Three sisters of us have been long,
After a farmer, young and gay;
But he is not a Mormon, alas!
So two will be left any way.
A fellow with long broomstick legs,
And locks of fiery red;
Once or two ce has come our way,
But, alas! he would not wed.
We hearlof weddings far and near;
It makes us sigh, and then,
Some sudacious wretch has said,
He'd make us wooden men. Me will not scold, nor will not scratch,
No difference what you say;
And if you want a buxom lass,
You'll surely come our way.

Mow that we have spun our yarn,
And are drawing to a close;
We think that when you this co read,
We will get plenty of beaux. P. S.—To all fellars who may not know, we would say the Little Creek Valley may be found in the county of Hutler, and extends from Gibson's bridge till above Mr. 8/s marble quarry. Please don't fall to give us a call.
