FARM. GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD. CHEAP AND GOOD SMOKE HOUSE.

A Western New York farmer publishes his plan of a small, cheap and good smoke-house, which, as it may contain some practical hints to our readers, we append: No farmer should be without a good smoke house, and such a one as will be fire proof and tolerably secure from Railroad Spongs Cake.—One coffee thieves. Fifty hams can be smoked at be fire-proof and tolerably secure from one time in a smoke-house seven by eight feet square. Mine is six by seven and is large enough for most farmers. I first sweet milk; use any kind of extract. dug all the ground out below where the frost would reach and filled it up to the surface with small stones. On this I laid my brick floor, in lime mortar. The walls are brick, eight inches thick and seven feet high, with a door on one side two feet wide. The door should be made of wood and lined with sheet-iron. For the top I put on joists, two by four, set up edgewise, and eight and a half inches from center to center, covered with brick, and put on a heavy coat of mortar. built a small chimney on the top in the center, arching it over and covering it with a single roof in the usual way. An arch should be built on the outside; with a small iron door to shut it up, similar to a stove door, with a hole from the arch through the wall of the smoke-house, and an iron grate over it. The arch is more convenient and better to put the fire inside the smoke-house, and the chimney causes a draft through into the smoke Good corncobs or hickory wood are the best materials to make a smoke for hams. The cost of such a smokehouse as I describe is about twenty dol-

HOW TO MAKE DOCILE HORSES. The docility and amazing instinct of the Arabhorse is shown to proceed mainly from constant association with the family of his owner—sharing their food, sleeping in their tent, and lastly from the early age at which he is broken in, which they say, checks the development of the spleen-a very important point in the opinion of the Arabs.

At the age of eighteen to twenty months him to water, goes in search of grass, or leads him to pasture. Nor to hurt the bars, he guides him with a longe or tolerably soft mule's bit. The child grows up a horseman, and the colt acquires the habit of carrying a weight proportioned to his strength. He learns to walk, to fear nothing, and it is in this manner, say the Arabs, that we contrive never to have restive horses. For the first few days the bit is covered with undressed wool, partly with a view not to hurt his bars, and partly to allure him to docility by the saltish flavor of which he is so fond. When he begins to champ the bit, the task is nearly finished. The preparatory exercise takes place morning and evening. Thus sagaciously handled, the young animal will be ready to be mounted in the early part of the n-when he will be less tormented by the flies and heat. Wealthy owners, before they allow their colts to be mountnight with a pack saddle on his back, sup porting two baskets filled with sand.

When he is about thirty months old, the colt is taught not to break loose from his rider when the latter sets foot on earth, and not even to stir from the spot where the bridle has been passed over his head and allowed to drag on the ground. Especial care is taken in teaching this lesson, because it is one of great importance in Arab life.— Exchange. THE SECRETS OF CHEAP PORK.

There several of these secrets known to the initiated. First-a good breed. You may stuff any of the land-pikes with any quantity of cern and he will not fatany quantity of cern and ne will not latter. Suffolks, Chester Whites, or grades of any pure breed, will show their keeping. Second—good housing. A pig wants a nice, clean, dry pen to sleep in. The yard may have much and plenty of litter for manure making, but the pen, or litter for manure making, but the pen, or sleeping apartment, should be warm and well strawed. Third—early fattening. Pork is made much more economically in warm weather than in cold. Fourth-a variety of food. If cooked Indian meal is the staple, let it be varied with green food while it lasts, corn-stalks, weeds, purslane, and clover, and, in winter, feed enough cabbage and roots to keep the bowels in good condition. Fifth regular feeding, three times a day. A fattening pig should never squeel, and he will not if he always finds his food ready at the regular time. Calculate to have your pork worth no more, and perhaps a little less, than the feed costs, and find all your profits in the grand heap of rich manure which the dying porker leaves as a legacy. These secrets make cheap pork in our pen, even at the present price

RECEIPTS. The following receipts were prepared for the Cincinnati Enquirer from which we clip them.

Tea Cakes -six cups of flour; four teaspoons cream tartar, mixed well into the flour; one cup of butter; four beaten eggs; two cups of milk; two teaspoons

Soda Biscuit-Have one quart of flour two teaspoonfuls of cream tartar rubbed into the flour, with a lump of butter the size of an egg. Dissolve a teaspoonful of soda in a pint of sweet milk; add a teaspoonful of salt; mix them as quick as possible to roll out nicely, and bake in a quick oven.

Flannel Cakes—Four eggs, beat the whites and yolks separately; one quart of sweet milk; stir the flour into the milk until it becomes quite thick; mix in your yolks, and add a teaspoonful of salt; add three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, mixing all thoroughly; and lastly add the white of egg well beaten. You can not fall to have good cakes.

Corn Cakes.—Sift your corn meal, have a quart of sweet milk, take three table spoonfuls of meal and scald it, pour in your milk, add a table-spoonful of sugar, four desert-spoonfuls of baking powder, a little salt, and three eggs beaten separately, mixing the white in last. Sour milk can be used; with a teaspoonful of soda.

Corn Bread.—Have one quart of warm sweet milk, four well beaten eggs, a ta-ble-spoonful of melted butter, and a teaspoonful of sugar, three teaspoonfuls of beaten separately, mix the yolks in with butter and sugar, three caps of flour, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in half a cup of seur milk, half a nutmeg, a table-spoonful of rose water, or brandy, str in the flour until you think the batter is suf-ficiently thick. If too thick the cake will not be good. With all cakes take about two table spoonfuls of the batter, bake in a small pan; when done if it fails you can add more flour, and in this way test the cake, before spoiling the mixture.

Jell Cake.—One cup of sweet milk, one small cup of sugar, three teaspoons of baking powder, very little salt, half a nutmeg; mix very thin with safted flour; bake thin and quick.

Cheap Cake for Tea .. - Two cups of sugar, two cups of sweet milk, three cups of flour, sifted, three teaspoons of baking-powder. one large spoonful of melted butter, spice to taste Mince Pies.—Eight pounds of apples, four pounds of beef, boiled tender, a pound and a quarter of suet, two pounds of sugar, half a gallon of cider, or Ma-deira wine, a wine glass of brandy, one nutmeg, two ounces of cinnamon, one ounce of cloves, a quarter of a pound of citron, two pounds of raisins, chop all fine, and mix well. Lemon Pie -Take three large, inicy lemons, grate the yellow rind into a pan; roll the lemons until soft; squeeze out the juice into a cup, then take half a cup of butter and two cups of sugar, and mix them to a cream, take four eggs, beat them well, and add to the creamed sugar; pour all in the pan with the yellow or grated rinds, mix thoroughly; lastly stir in the lemon juice; bake with an under-crust and you will have one of the best lemon pies ever eaten.

Naturalization in Our Own Courts.

We annex a copy of the bill introduced by Mr. Hong, in the Pennsylvania Senate: SECTION 1. That the several Courts of this Commonwealth authorized by an act of Congress to admit aliens to becom citizens of the United States, shall require the petition of such alien to be presented open Court by the petitioner, or by his attorney duly authorized to practice in such Courts, on the first Monday of each the colt is mounted by a child, who takes month, when in session, which day is hereby appointed for such purpose.

SEC. 2. That such petition shall contain the precise address and residence of the person or persons offering to vouch for him, and the name of such petitioner or voucher, or vouchers, together with the place of birth of such alien, and the number of years it is therein alleged he has been in the United States, and in this Commonwealth, shall be forthwith entered by the clerk, or prothonetary, on a list or dockef, to be provided for that pur-pose, which list or docket shall become a record of said Court, and remain open for public inspection or examination in the office of the said clerk or prothonotary.

SEC. 3. That on the second Saturday after the presentation of such petition, the said list of petitioners for naturalization shall be called by at least two of the judges of the court in which the petition shall have been presented, and if the said petition shall have proved to the satisfacbefore they allow their colts to be mounted by a grown up man, sometimes have tion of such court, by the testimony of one or more creditable and duly qualified citizens of the United States, having a legal residence in this Commonwealth, by an oral examination of the same in open court, and that the contents of said petition are true, it shall be the duty of one of the said judges to enter on said list, or docket, in his own proper handwriting the words, "prayer of petition granted," with the day; and the said prothonotary shall issue to such petitioner certificate of such naturalization, which shall also be attested by one of the judges before whom the petition shall have been

Sec. 4. That it shall not be lawful for any prothonotary, deputy prothonotary, clerk or deputy clerk, to issue any certificate of naturalization, until three months shall have expired after the prayer of such petition shall have been granted as aforesaid; nor shall it be lawful to issue any such certificate of naturalization within three menths of any general or Presiden tial election. SEC. 5. If any prothonotary, clerk, or the deputy, or clerk of either, or any other person, shall affix the seal of office to any naturalization paper, or duplicate thereof, or give out the same in blank, whereby it may be fraudulently used, or furnish a naturalization certificate, or dulicate thereof, to any person who shall not have been duly examined and sworn in open court, in the presence of some of the judges thereof, according to the act of Congress, and agreeably to the provis-ions of this act, he shall be guilty of a high misdemeanor; or if any person shall fraudulently use any such certificate of naturalization, or duplicate thereof, knowing that it was fraudulently issued, and shall vote, or attempt to vote thereon, he shall be guilty of a high misde meanor, and either or any of the said persons, their aiders, or abettors, guilty of either of the misdemeanors aforesaid shall, on conviction, be fined in a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars, and imprisoned in the proper penitentiary for a period not exceeding three years.

SEC. 6. No duplicate certificate of naturalization shall be issued by any prothonotary or clerk aforesaid, or by any of their deputies or clerks, unless the netition of the person naturalized shall be presented in open court, setting forth the date of the naturalization and the loss of the original certificate; and before a duplicate certificate shall be allowed, satisfactory proof shall be required by the court that the person petitioning is en-itled to the same, Rallway Items.

The Cleveland Leader says: The Ashtabula and New Lisbon Railroad was sold on Tuesday to Jay Gould, Esq., President of the New York and Eric Railroad, for two hundred thousand dollars. What the Erie railway wants of this road we cannot as yet conjecture, but if the new proprietors will push the road to completion, as it is doubtless their purpose, they will confer a great benefit on the people of northeastern Ohio,

The Toledo, Wabash and Western has connections with thirteen different railroads, and these connections reach almost every point of importance in the West and South-west by the most direct routes. The New York Central managers are said to be striving to secure control of the baking powder, mix all the ingredients line. The company have now in coninto the milk, and then stir in sitted meal, templation the construction of a branch until it forms a thick batter, pour the mix-ture into a bread pan and bake it.

A New Era Dawning-Its Growth and Improvement-Chances for Capitalists. ENON VALLEY, Jan. 19, 1869. Our village, which has been so long in a fossil state, is beginning to witness the dawn of a new era. It now shows signs of the return of its primitive vigor and vitality, and bids fair to become an enterprising town. The land owners of this place were for a long time dead to this place were for a long time dead to the idea of progress, and did much to dis-courage immigration by holding their lots at rates beyond the reach of the masses. Experience, which is the best of teachers, although often an expensive one, has taught them that the best way to make the most out of what they have, is to sell at reasonable prices within the reach of the laboring classes Much of this radical change is due to Mr. J. C. Wilson, who is selling lots upon his farm, near town, Enon is situated in a healthy locality, and well watered and surrounded by a good country. It is about midway between Pitts-burgh and Alliance, on the P. Ft. W. & C. R. R. Its railroad advantages are possessed by few. All trains stop here and ere long we expect to have an accommodation train, which will increase our facilities for going to and from the city. The ground has been selected for an extensive grist mill, and parties are negotiating for a sash factory. The chief cause of this new state of things is the cause of this new state of things is the erection of the repair shops of the railroad company, and the prospective coal operations. A shaft is being sunk near this place for block coal, which we doubt not will redound greatly to the benefit of our place. Enon is not one of those sensation paper towns we hear so much about. Those interested in its welfare desire that it shall grow of its own inherent strength. Grow up naturally, so that when developed it will have stamina sufficient to sustain it. I would say to persons of moderate means desiring to get a start in the world that Enon now ofers good inducements for enterprise, and will afford a good return for capital invested. Owing to the weather opera-tions are not as brisk as we would like to see them, but with the return of Spring we anticipate the renewal of life and activity. I will keep your readers posted as to the progress we are making. I leave them for the present. Alabama Legislature-A Legal Question. MONTGOMERY, Ala., January 23.—In a recent press dispatch from this city it a recent press dispaten from this city it was stated, on the authority of the Columbiana Guide, that Circuit Judge Pelham had decided that the Alabama Legisluture was not a legal body, and that Wm. H. Smith was not the legal Governor. The dispatch correctly represented the statement of the paper referred to but the facts paper referred to, but the facts of the case are these: A vacancy in the office of Probate Judge of Shelby county was reported by the Governor, who was required by the Constitution to issue a commission to fill the vacancy.

Afterwards a question arose as to whether there was really a vacancy. In determining this question Judge Peckham decided that if the vacancy had not occurred in the manner pr scribed by law, the Governor's commis sion designating another man for office was null and void. The decision no way relates to the validity of either the Leg-islature or the Governor's office.
