terday before Alderman Strain against-Robert Fowler, a policeman, for aggravated assault and battery. Larson states that he was at a dance given in Miller's Hall, near Oskland, on Wednesday evening. Shortly before the close of the affair a row ensued among those in at-tendance, which Fowler was sumtendance, which hower was sum-moned to quell. The officer upon enter-lng the room, according to the allega-tions, attacked Larson, who was stand-ing peaceably at one side, and beat him over the head with his mace, inflicting several severe and painful gashes upon his cranium. A warrant for the arrest of the accused was issued.
