SCHNITZERL'S PHILOSOPEDE. BY HANS. BREITMANN.

He Schnitzerl makes a philosopede,
Von of the newest kind;
It vent mitout a yreel in iront,
And hadn't none pehind.
Von vheel vas in the mittle, cough,
And it vent as sure ash ecks,
For he shiraddeled on de axel dree,
Hit der vheel petween his lecks.

Und wen he want to shtart.ld off

He paddlet mit h s veer,
Und soon he cot to go so vast
Dat avery dungs he peat.
He run her out oa Broader sthreed,
He skheeted ike de vino,
Heil how he bassed de vancy craps,
And lef dem all pehind!

And lef dem at years and and left dem at years and left dem at years and left despite the police op to see him boss;

De Deutchers all erstatils ed saidt:
"Postassend! Vas i' dus ?"

Boot var er shill der Schnitzer ile wed
On-mit a ghachtly smile;
He tidn't trouch de dirt, by shings!
Not vonce in half a mile.

Oh, vot ish all dis eartly plist?
Oh, vot ish and ids eartly plist?
Oh, vot ish man's soocksess?
Oh, vot is various kinds of diags?
Und vot ish hoppiness?
Ve find a pank node in der shir edt,
Next diags der pank isd proak;
Ve folls and knocks our outsides in,
Ven vos ten sthrike mase.

So was it mit der Schnitzerlein On his philosopede.

His feet both slipped outsideward shoost
Vhen at his exdra abpsed.

He feeled up: n der vheel of coorse;
De vheel like biltzen flew;
Und Schnitzeri he yos schnitz in vact
For it slished him grod in two.

For it subned this philosopade,

I dod so skared, men say,

It pounded on ward till it yent
be and tenleuwards afay.

Boot where ish now der Echnitzerl's soul?

Vhere dos his shpirit pide?

In Himmol troo, de endless plue,

It lades a medeor ride.

the Treasury shall prescribe. As an express train on the Michigan Central Railroad was nearing Albion on Tuesday afternoon, the passengers waiting for the train were startled by the fre crossing. The engineer did his best to stop the train, but it was too late, and the cowcatcher struck just between the wagon and the horses, separating them instanter and consigning each a place on opposite sides of the track, little or none the worse of the collision. The man and his wife (each about sixty five) were caught upon the platform above the cowcatcher, and just in front of the engine. Instead of losing presence of mind and jumping off, they settled themselves compo though nothing had happened. The old ity or grade to No. 1; and upon every lady put her hands in her muff, while the gallon of benzine, benzole, naptha, gasoline, or other like products of coal oil or petroleum in the hands of any person or the other, assumed a jockey attitude, and thus the old couple rode up to the station triumphant, amid the che standers. As soon as the train stopped a number rushed to their assistance; but they declined all aid, manifesting no concern for themselves, but considerable for the fate of the horses and wagon. The horses were uninjured, and the damages to the wagon were trifling.
