OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, T. ESDAY, February 2, 1869. The gold market was firm at 135% touching 1351, at which price some heavy purchases were made to cover short sales above 136, but from all appearances, the market has not reached its lowest point, and the reaction at the close to 135% is only temporary. The caused of the decline is to be looked for in the increased shipments of cotten and bonds, thereby, avoiding coin shipments. Should Congress legalize specie contracts, there is no doubt a large amount of bonds would go to Europe, but otherwise, the benefit from such a low would be neutralized by the increased demand for coin South, Western and cotton States, where already gold forms a large part of the money in trade; thus, the passage of the gold act would be a direct insury. Bonds were firm, and t the close in sympathy with gold, United States Securities. but the demand for speculation is very

The present price of oil seems to have infused new life into all of the producing dividend paying oil companies, and we occasionally hear of some of this kind of stock changing hands. We are cognizant of sales of Western Pennsylvania at 75, and Oil Basin (of Philadelphia) at 2, and there is some inquiry for the latter. Columbia is steady at about 18.

The New York Tribnue, of Monday, says: Railway shares opened steady, but upon the report that the Eric Company had failed to control the Columbus, Chicago and Indiana Central Road, much uneasiness was observed among the holders of the stocks manipulated by the Eric clique, and there was a general rush to sell. Michigan Southern, Cleveland & Pittsburgh, Rock Island, and Fort Wayne were sacrificed by small holders, who, following in the wake of large operators, thought things looked squally and preferred to be out. The decline in the market was from 1 to 3½ per cent., and was fairly distributed on the speculative shares. The final passage of the restrictions of one bill by the Illinois Legislature was made to hammer the market, and a large short interest was created that will be difficult to cover at a profit in the present bullish state of the market. New York Central declined to 1613, rallying at the close, to 1624. The Northwestern shares were hammered with great vigor, and a heavy short interest made; the stock was sustained by heavy purchases.
