The Young Zonaves.

The attendance at Masonic Hall on Saturday night last is told best by the receipts at the door-less than six dollars with expenses close upon a hundred. The little folks were sadly disappointed having expected a much warmer greeting by our generally patriotic citizens they furnish a chaste and interesting entertainment of song, mirth, music, recitation and military drill, and deserve to be well patrouized. The scholars are from a New York State Soldier's Orphan School, an institution not supported by that Commonwealth but by the voluntary contributions of the charitable, and the object of their entertainments is to realize money to afford education to other orphans of the defenders of the nation, who are now deprived of school facilities. The entertainment will be repeated this and to-morrow evening at Excelsion Hall, Allegheny city, and we earnestly trust that the little band of clever children will be better encouraged by the charitable and patriotic.

BRUTAL HOMICIDE.

A Murder in Cold Blood-A Boy Seven Years Old Shot by a German Barber-Coroner's Inquest-The Murderer Arrested and Committed for Trial. The citizens of the Ninth ward, residing in the vicinity of Eleventh street, were thrown into a state of excitement Saturday evening by the perpetration of a most brutal and cold-blooded murder, the victim being a bright little boy scarce seven years of age, and the murderer, Michael George Kauffman, a German barber, and proprietor of the larber shop under the St. Lawrence Hotel. Murder, under any circumstances, is a most norrible crime, the greatest known to any law, either human or digine, but when perpetrated in cold blood, and, as in this case, where the victim is a mere child, the crime is the more heinious. Edward Miller, the murdered boy, in company with one or two other children. were, it appears, in front of Kauffman's shop, which, as stated, is in the basement of the St. Lawrence Hotel, on Penn street, near Eleventh, and for some purpose went down the steps leading to the shop and looked through the window, or upper part of the door. Kauffman was at the time engaged in shaving a man, and noticing the boy look-ing at him, ordered him to go away. The little fellow ran away, but returned in a few moments af-terwards, when he was again ordered away by Kauffman. He did not go away immediately this time, whereupon Kauffman stepped to a drawer, near where he was at work, and taking there-from a revolver fired through the window at the boy, the ball taking effect in his back, between the third and fourth ribs, near the spine, and passing through the chest lodged under the skin over the right breast. The child ran up the steps and fell on the pavement, where he was picked up by a gentleman and carried into Alderman Albeitz's office, which was mmedia: ely over the barber shop, where he expired in about twenty minutes after he received the wound. Dr. Duncan was called in and arrived a few moments afterwards, but the boy was dead when he came. He examined the wound and extracted the ball, which bad lodged under the skin over the right side of "th sternum as previously stated. An officer was notified of the affair and arrested Kauffman, who aeknowledged to having fired the shot, and took him to the watch house. THE INQUEST. Coroner Clawson was sent for on Saturday evening, but having gone home the inquest was not held until yesterday at twelve o'clock, at which time a jury was empannelled, and after being sworn proceeded to an investigation of the case. proceeded to an investigation of the case hen the following testimony was taken Dr. J. L. Duncan, sworn—I was called to see the boy, Edward Miller, Saturday evening, February 6th, between five and six o'clock, at the office of Alderman Alcitz: found him dead; examined the body and found the ball had entered the body and found the ball had entered the left side of the back between the third and fourth ribs, near the spine; turned him over and found the ball under the skin over the right brest bone or sternun opposite the sixth rib, and cut it out; it did not touch a bone; from the direction of the ball through the body the boy must have been from four to six feet above the point from where the ball was

The wound was undoubtedly the cause of his death. a quarter past five o'clock, Saturday evening, the 6th inst., heard a shot; ame to the door; heard a child scream and on looking down Penn street, saw a boy on his knees in front of Alderman Albeitz's office; ran to him quickly and picked him up; asked him how he was hot; he was insensible and made no reply; asked some children where the shot came from and they told me from the barber shop under Albeitz's office; cardied the child into Albeitz's office; and sent for a physician; then ordered a sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars and sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars and citizen to arrest the barber: I examined the body of the child and found that the ball had entered as stated by Dr. Duncan; the boy never spoke after he was shot, and died before the Doctorarrived;

Michael or George Kauffman is the name of the proprietor of the barber shop. Churles Wagoner, sworn—Was in Kauffman's barber shop between five and six o'clock Saturday evening; was waiting my turn to be shaved; Kauffman was shaving a man and was nearly through when some boys came to the window and vere fooling about it; Kauffman told them twice to go away, and they did not obey. He went to a little drawer near him and took out a revolver and shot through the window, which was half open. Heard a boy cry out, "you have shot that boy." Kauffman said, "I won-der if I hit him." The police then came lown and took him away. He acknowledged to the policemen that he fired the hot, and pointed out the revolver, which was taken by the officers. Don't know who the man was who was in the sho when the shot was fired. I live at 418 Penn street. Several other witnesses were examined but their testimony was in substance the same as that reported. THE VERDICT.

The jury found "that the decease Edward Miller, came to his death in the Ninth ward, city of Pittsburgh, on Saturday, February 6th, 1869, by a wound from a pistol shot fired from the hand of Michael Kauffman."

THE PRISONER'S STATEMENT. Some two hours after the arrest of the prisoner he was taken before Mayor Brush, to whom he made a voluntary statement, which was in substance as follows:

He frankly acknowledged to having fired the shot which killed the child, and gave as his reason for doing so that he had been annoyed and aggravated by the boy and his companions, who had been standing in front of the door darkening his shop, so that he could not see to work He had driven them away once, and Miller, the deceased, returned, when he (Kauffman) allowing his passions to assume control of his actions, drew the re-volver and fixed, with the fatal result as described. He states that when he fired the shot the boy was facing him.

THE PRISONER COMMITTED. W. W. Miller, the father of the deceased, having made information before the Mayor, charging Kauffman with murder, the Mayor, after hearing the facts, committed the accused to jail for

THE EXCITEMENT.

In a few moments after the murder was committed, a large and excited crowd assembled about the barber shop and Alderman's office, where the body of the boy was lying, and had the facts or circumstances connected with the affair at that time been generally known, the body markets that the county it is hardly probable would have had to incur the expense of trying Kauffnam for murder. The prompt and decisive action of the police, in arresting him and conveying him to part of the excited crowd to take the law n their own hands, and lynch the mur-

About an hour after the tragedy had to ken place, a crowd of excited men, the friends and fellow-workmen of the father of the murdered boy, appeared at the scene of the tragedy, and determined to have some revenge on the murderer by destroying his shop and demolishing everything in it. The keys of the shop, however, were taken charge of by the police, and when the excited crowd were about to carry out their intentions, Lieut. Barker appeared and prevented the outbreak by informing them that the property did not belong to Kauffman, and that any attack on the premises would be of damage to the murderer. The crowd then dispersed and quiet was restored.

THE MURDERER. Michael Kauffman, the perpetrator of this foul deed, is a native of Germany, about thirty-three years of age, and has a wife and one child. He has been doing ousiness at the place where the murd vas committed for over five years. He is said to be a man of very high temper, over which he has no control. He is ad-dicted to strong drink, but at the time the tragedy occurred is said to have been duly sober.

THE VICTIM. The victim of this malicious and depraved action, Eddie Miller, was about seven years old. He was the son of W. W. Miller, who resides on Mulberry alley, in the Ninth ward. He is said to have been an innocent, well-behaved boy. The body was removed to the residence of the parents shortly after the occurrence; where it remained until yesterday after the inquest.

the firm of Barr & Moser, architects, submitted a plan of proposed improvements in the present Court House and jail building, in order to provide the additional court and office room, which is required to transact the business of the county. The plan contemplates the vacation of the present jail building for prison purposes, and the erection of a new jail, or rather two buildings, one on either side of and in line with the jailors' louse, fronting on Ross street. The one next to Fifth avenue, which is to be thirty by fifty feet, to be occupied by female prisoners, and the building next to Diamond street for male prisoners, will be thirty by eighty feet. These prisons to-gether will contain sixty cells, a suffi-cient number, it is presumed, for the accommodation of court prisoners, after the Work House is completed. The only entrance to the jalls will be through the

The cells will be removed from the present jail, leaving a room on the first present jail, leaving a room of the re-tioor of forty-five by ninety feet, with re-cesses of nineteen by twenty-four feet. Here it is proposed to locate the Pro-thonotary's office, which will be fire proof, and offices for the Commissioners and Sheriff. The room being on a level with the rotunda floor, will be reached by a hall leading from the rotunda to the proposed Prothonotary's office. As this will separate the offices now in use by the Sheriff, it is proposed to construct a room in the rear of each of the rooms on either side of the hall, the one the right or next the present Quarter Sessions room, to be used by the Sheriff, and the other for the Commissioners. The hall separating these offices and leading to the Prothonotary's office will be oppo site the main entrance to the court hon and will be ten feet wide. In rear of the Sheriff and Commissioners offices there will be a cross hall ten feet wide, in which will be stairways leading to the floor above, where it is proposed to locate the Criminal Court room immediately over the Prothonotary's office. It will also be onnected with the rotunda by stairs and a passage leading from the platform of the main stairway in the rotunda. A private passage will be constructed from the second story of the jail, connecting

The plan also proposed the construction of stairways leading from the rotunda to the corridors running through the basement of the building, by which access, gained to the various offices located the course of the second of the sec there. Over the rooms occupied by the Commissioners will be a large room which may be fitted for the Law Library, and over those of the Sheriff are rooms which can be fitted up as a re-
