and rascals generally and rascals generally It is rumored here that Col. John W. Forney is about to settle in North Carolina, and will come back as Senator at the first opportunity.

The following decision of Deputy Commissioner Harland will be interesting to all property holders: "The stamp duty upon a lease of a furnished house should be calculated upon the annual rental value of the house unfurnished, with an agreement atamp (five cents for each sheet of paper) in addition for the furniture."

The politicians and the gossips are keenly disappointed with Grant's decision not to make known his cabinet in advance. The Pennsylvanians are particularly vexed. Forney had some good advice to give the General on the subject, and the friends of McPherson were using a gentle pressure for his behalf. Senator Cameron takes an independent position. The Democrats pretend to like Grant's reply, but in "point of fact" they are trem-bling in their fears that the new administration shall be so popular as to destroy the Democracy. The receipts of revenue from whisky are falling off again, owing to the discovery of new methods of fraud by which the new law is evaded. The price has fallen from 95 to 70 cents, while the tax is 60, and the old state of things is again promised. The new administration is looked forward to with more interest in revenue circles than anywhere else, and the immediate appointment by General Grant of a Commissioner of Internal Revenue is looked upon as far more necessary than the immediate appointment of the position in public circles are District Attorney Tracy, of New York, and Con-gressman Delano, of Ohio.

In view of General Grant's refusal to come in contact with President Johnson, the committee may not communicate with the latter relative to the ceremonies; but however this may be, President Johnson will probably relieve all parties of embarrassment in the case by quietly repairing at ten o'clock, March 4, to the press-room adjoining the Senate, and, according to custom on the last day of the session, the custom with his Cabinet until noon, the hour when his official term expires, to consider hills that may be presented for custom on the last day of the session, there remain with his Cabinet until noon, consider bills that may be presented for his signature. If this usual course be sued, he will not therefore be a party to the procession and other ceremonies which will be in progress at the sam time in the streets of the city, and the Committee and all other parties will thus be relieved of the dreaded embarass-

The Joint Cemmittee on Ordnance condemn the Rodman system of gun-making adopted in the army, which, while par-tially successful in smooth bores, is held to be entirely unreliable in rifles of large to be entirely unrenable in rines of large caliber. Several of these guns have exploded spontaneously, in the foundery while being finished, through excessive tension. The navy solid cast guns, the Committee think, are better as smooth bores, but no better as rifles. Experiments are recommended to determine upon a reliable system of fabrication.

The failure to secure better guns the Committee think due to the influence of officers and inventors, who have secured the adoption of their own inventions without due regard to merit. The report contains considerable testimony, and a large amount of technical informa-intended to be private until other meetings of a similar character should be held. It has leaked out, however, that there were present about forty persons, including General Fremont, Colonel Forney, Congressmen Cole, Morrill and Moorhead, General Lonstreet, and Ridgeway and Barbour, of Virginia, and Colonel Duncan, of Kentucky, and several Southern Senstors. The object of the gathering was an interchange of views toward harmonizing the negal of the two sections. monizing the people of the two sections.

Forney said the time had arrived for the exercise of a wise and magnanimous legislative policy toward the South, so as to bring that people in full accord and brothod, and he avowed his intentions to devote his energies to this great purpose. Fremont heartly indorsed his views, and others spoke in a similar strain. Forney's conservatism has surprised his friends, who are mostly the intensest

Pacific Railroad men are becoming very modest. The Second Parallel Route, represented here by General Fremont, now ask neither lands nor subsidy, but only right of way. Their bill to that effect is now before the Committee on Pub.

A "reliable" correspondent writes thus: The new Commissioner of Internal Revenue is to be a "Western man." So says Grant. "The Tenure-of-Office bill will be repealed." All the Revenue officers in Cincinnati will be allowed to resign or be removed. The section of the law pro-yiding for Supervisors will be stricken out, and a new office created in lieu of the same, viz: A General Inspector of Dissame, VIZ: A General Inspector of Distilleries, whose business it shall be to look after distilleries, their capacities, etc.

This office is only to be conferred on scientific, well-skilled civil engineers and draughtsmen. This latter provision is

Ar a meeting of the New York Democratic leaders in the Manhattan Clubrooms, last week, it was determined that the unprecedented outburst of crime could only be checked by a stern enforcement of the law, regardless of any political in-fluence which could be brought to bear in favor of criminals, and the Democratic judges determined to follow this line of conduct. It was also determined that the leaders of the party would cut loose from Sheriff O'Brien, who has been in sympsthy with thieves and murderers from the

THE Oneida Community Circular says: The community has purchased the Wilson estate, which includes several valuable buildings and a hundred and twenty-five acres of land. The land adjoins our water-power, and is needed for building lots and other purposes connected with the development of these priviliges and the growth of our manufactures. Price paid, $20,000. Nine more girls are added to our silk factory this morning, making sixty four in all. making sixty-four in all. Another team now runs to and from Oneida to carry those living there.

THE important project of a ship canal between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans has advanced an important step toward its realization. The Hon. Caleb Cushing has just returned from Bogota, bringing home a treaty concluded with the United States of Colombia for constructing a canal through the Isthmus of Darien; and from Nicaragua it is announced that the Envoy of that Republic has concluded in Paris a treaty with the well-known French Senator Michel Chevalier, a Secretary of the Treasury. The two names most prominently mentioned for for constructing a canal within the territory of Nicaragua.

THE King of Prussia, shortly after the close of the campaign of 1866, conceived an odd scheme with a view to the fraternization of the soldiers who had fought against each other in that war. Large against each other in that war. Large delegations of Austrian, Italian, Prussian, North and South German soldiers were to meet at some central point in Germany, and brilliant festivities were to take place in their honor. It is said that Francis same advice to the Empe that a festival of this description would be highly distasteful to France.

A STATEMENT that two young women have made application to become members of the Cornell University, and that Mr. Cornell has informed them that if Mr. Cornell has informed them that if they present themselves next fall they will be received, is denied by the Ithaca Journal, which says that if these two ladies, or any other two ladies, present themselves next fall for the purpose of entering the University they will meet disappointment. No one has had any authority from Mr. Cornell to give currency to any such intimation. Ladies will not be admitted next fall, nor for many falls to come, if ever. At present the faculty and trustees are nearly unanimous in their opinion that the admission mous in their opinion that the admission of women to the University is impracticable.

LABOULAYE, the distinguished French orator, it is officially armounced, will not visit the United States in pursuance of an without due regard to merit. The report centains considerable testimony, and a large amount of technical information of interest to from workers. It is accompanied by a bill which creates an Ordnance Commission, composed of army and navy officers and civilians, eminent for scientific knowledge, into whose hands it is proposed to place the duty of making experiments and adopting arms for both army and navy.

A telegram says: A meeting of prominent Radicals and Southern Conservatives was held a few nights since which was intended to be private until other meetings of a civil and translantic friends who visit me here. I have intended to him by the American social Science Association to lecture in this country. The Secretary of the Association quotes a recent letter to that body, in which Laboulaye says: "I cannot tell you how deeply I am touched by the honorable proposition you have made to me. It is entirely to my taste, and I would accept it with gratitude if the state of my health did not forbid me to undertake so long a voyage. I fear very much tast I shall never know the American people except through the kind translantic friends who visit me here. I have people except through the kind translantic friends who visit me here. A case has recently been decided in Venango county which it of some importance to both railroad travelers and portance to both railroad travelers and conductors. Royal Atwater, a passenger on the Oil Oreek and Allegheny railroad, refused to pay his fare when demanded by the conductor, and was put off the cars. For this suit was instituted against the conductor, and the case was tried before Judge Trunkey. The charge of the Judge, in accordance with which a verdict was rendered for defendant, was in substance as follows: A passenger verdict was rendered for defendant, was in substance as follows: A passenger who refuses to pay his fare and resists the conductor, cannot recover damages for injuries he may receive while being put off, and when the conductor of strain demands fare and allows a man reasonable time to produce bis ticket for pay his ble time to produce his ticket or pay his ble time to produce his ticket or pay his fare, and the passenger refuses, and the conductor stops the train, the conductor is not then obliged to take ticket or fare, and that the ringing of the bell by the conductor is the stopping of the train.
