sic acid, will live four times longer than those thrown into the vessel containing asybnthe.

Practical jokes are rarely funny and never proper, but there was some point in the present sent to a young woman out in Indiana, who had been lecturing in Crawfordville.

A new York paper makes this lugubrious calculation: "If we can rely on the statistics of the last thirteen years, beginning with 1856 and ending with 1868, it is almost certain that some fifty persons will be slain in this city during the year 1869, either by deliberate murder or some less guilty form of homicide."

A young man, named George Grier, while practicing at a velocipede school in the fourth story of a house in Cincinnati, ran his bicycle against the railing around the hatch way; this broke, and the unfortunate young man was, with his machine, precipitated to the cellar.

Hundreds and thousands of men, says Charles Reade, take a share in the country's public morality, legislate, build churches, and live and die respectable, who would be jail birds sooner or later if their sole income was the pay of a banker's clerk, and their eyes, and hands, and souls rubbed daily against hundred pound notes as his do.

An American in Russia was present at a supper and ball given last month in the Winter Palace, St. Petersburg, by the Emperor. Two thousand guests sat down to the tables in the supper room with the most ample accommodation, and near the close of the entertainment tea was served, each guest being furnished with a separate tea service of silver.

The Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage is a fortunate man. He has a large and flourishing parish which pays him well in Philadelphia. A church in Brooklyn is trying to entice him to that city by offering pleasant work and $7,000 salary; and a committee from a Chicago congregation is in Philadelphia bidding very high for him, but with slight hopes for success.

A Hamilton (Ontario) newsboy, while passing along the street, on Tuesday evening, crying out—"Here's yer Times," was suddenly buried about two feet under the surface of an avalanche of snow, weighing over a ton, from a roof.

The official report of the receipts for freight on all the railroads of Great Britain during the week ending December 19, 1868, gives a good idea of the business carried on by means of this class of interest.

The freight receipts during the period mentioned, on 13,353 miles, amounted to $3,744,120, and for the corresponding period in 1857, on 13,039 miles, amounted to $3,737,395.

Jay Gould is traveling in a special train with the officers of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad. What does that signify? It has been supposed that Jay Gould, or the Erie party, have been trying to get control of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago road by purchasing the stock, and to defeat this the Pennsylvania Central got a special bill rushed through the Pennsylvania Legislature.

Now, however, we are told the Erie & Fort Wayne managers are negotiating for a third rail on the track of the latter road from Mansfield west, which would give the Erie a broad gauge to Chicago.

That would give the Fort Wayne two strings to its bow, and it would give the Erie what it wants—a line to Chicago. The fight between the Cleveland and Pittsburgh and Erie roads has been arranged to be decided by a vote of the Union Depot at Cleveland.

The Erie Dispatch of the 18th says Williamsport is greatly exercised over an affair in which a physician avenged his injured honor in a terrible manner. Suspecting something wrong in the domestic affairs of his home, he set about assuring himself beyond a doubt.

In his wife's absence he cut away one of the panels of his door in such a manner that the door could be removed from the outside, and after concealing the traces of his work, made preparations for being absent a few days.

He then took his case of instruments, and keeping the man unconscious with repeated applications of chloroform to his nostrils, mutilated him most horribly. He then visited the residence of another physician, told him that he was going to leave town, and that as medical services would be required at his house, he would be glad if his brother physician would visit there, and then left on the train for Philadelphia, and has not since been seen.
