

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, Feb. 27, 1888. The general markets continue dull, and with a single exception, there is no excitement manifested, and the volume of business in the aggregate is light.

WHEAT—The market is quiet, and the price is steady. The demand must of necessity be considerably curtailed, and this together with the fact that when the stocks were in the hands of speculators was thrown upon the market, may cause a reaction and lower prices, though it is not reasonable to expect that they will go back to where they were previous to the advance, as the stocks are too much reduced for that.

APPLE BUTTER—Firm at 75¢. The cold weather has stopped our market, and the consequence is higher. We now quote at 40¢ per barrel for common to choice.

BEANS—Firm and in better demand, with sales at $3.75 to $3.85, for prime small white.
