EPIGRAMS.

Philadelphia has a female dentist. Laura Keane is again in Washington. Liverpool thinks of tunneling the Mersey...

twenty-five per cent. on their present wages. Notwithstanding the inaugural ball comes in Lent, fashion says there will be no impropriety in attending it...

A young girl at Menard, Illinois, is haunted by a ghostly adorer, who tramps over the house unseen, opens and shuts doors, and bestows unceremonious caresses...

Chicago wants to have an unsectarian undenominational church. Just as soon as Chicago gets it what a fight there will be among the denominations to have a preacher of their sect called to fill the pulpit...

Connecticut has a four-year-old musical prodigy who plays hundreds of tunes accurately. We advise her nurse to beware and keep out of her road, as in all likelihood her head will burst as that of the Richmond musical monster did...

Home, the spiritualist, is gaining converts in London. S. C. Hall, of the Art Journal, vouches for the fact of some remarkable phenomena. Home has been lifted off the floor and carried about the room, out of one window and in at another...

The President and the Committee of Arrangements will occupy a position in the rear of the President-elect. Next in the rear, the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court will occupy the seats on the left, and the Vice-President, Secretary, and members of the Senate...

The London underground railway, although it has been open in parts for five years, has only very recently been so extended as to render it available for inhabitants of any part of the great metropolis. It is now, as completed, not only one of the greatest conveniences that can be had in a large city, but one of the most perfectly constructed railroads in existence...

The English factory act, which provided, under stringent regulations, that the working people of every class should have a half day's holiday on Saturday afternoon, has been modified by the Chief Inspector of Factories...

The Cincinnati Commercial says: The statement that the Erie Railroad demanded a bonus of one million dollars from the United States Express Company is a mistake; and of course the story that the Company at one time agreed to pay such a bonus is an error...

The Boston Public Library. The question of opening this institution on Sunday is now engaging the public attention in Boston. The City Solicitor has given his opinion that the opening of the library for public use on Sunday does not violate the meaning of either the words of the exception in the statute, permitting works of necessity or charity, and that persons who should conduct the library for public use on Sunday would be subject to the penalty provided by the statute...
