PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGE GAZETTE, FRIDAY, March 12, 1869. There is really nothing that is new or important to be said about the markets in a general way. As has been the case for some time past, the demand for almost everything is very much restricted, being confined mainly to supplying immediate wants, and as a consequence the volume of business is light. We are in hopes, however, now that navigation is fully resumed and the winter pretty well spent, that the spring trade will its various branches will improve. The Grain and Flour Markets continue dull, and the same is true of Groceries and Provisions Provisions.

APBLES—Apples are coming in more freely, but with a steady demand: prices are fully sustained, ranging at $4.06 for fair to prime and $6,50.07 for choice.
