

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

PUBLISHED DAILY, BY PENNIMAN, REED & CO., PROPRIETORS.

OFFICE: GAZETTE BUILDING, NOS. 84 AND 86 FIFTH ST.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF PITTSBURGH, ALLEGHENY AND ALLIANCE COUNTIES.

WE PRINT ON THE inside pages of this morning's GAZETTE—Second page: Religious Intelligence, Epitaphs and Miscellaneous News.

U. S. BONDS at Frankfort, 87 1/2. PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 57 1/2.

ONE CITIZEN of Pittsburgh is an applicant for a Foreign Mission, and seven others for as many Consulships.

THE HOUSE, by concurrent resolution, has fixed upon the 20th inst. as the day for Congress to adjourn.

THE HOUSE, at Harrisburg, has postponed the consideration of the XVth Constitutional Amendment till next Wednesday.

THE citizens of Montreal are so well pleased with General AYERLL that they will ask the government at Washington to continue him in his appointment as Consul General.

THE HON. G. V. LAWRENCE has not been appointed First Assistant Postmaster General, and is not an applicant for the place.

THE CABINET, as it now stands, is much stronger intellectually, and commands a larger measure of public confidence, than it did as originally constituted.

It is announced that Gov. CURTIN will not accept the Russian Mission, if it shall be tendered him.

THE views we have reiterated on several occasions as to the duty of impeaching the late President, and the impolicy of the Office-Tenure Act as a substitute for the performance of that duty, are fully sustained by President GRANT, in a conversation between him and Mr. JULIAN, of Indiana, and Mr. LOAN, of Missouri.

THE country has some cause to anticipate some startling revelations as to the inefficiency and lack of integrity shown in the management of the Navy Department under the last administration.

PRESIDENT GRANT is doubly reported first, to the effect that he will remove no incumbent of an office for political reasons so long as the Tenure-of-Office Act remains in force—second, to the effect that he has already resolved to remove many office holders in whose cases only political reasons exist.

SOUTH CAROLINA is the tenth State to ratify the XVth Article. From the South are told that this Article meets the approval of the rebel element, and that even Georgia will give to her constitutional suffrage; her Democratic Legislature accepting the situation for themselves the more readily since they see that it places "the Yankees" in the same boat with them.

WENDELL PHILLIPS seldom hits the nail more squarely on the head than in this paragraph: "Congress cannot reconstruct the South—law can. Safety for men and money will. Such a man as Butler in New Orleans is worth more than a mile load of laws. Hang twenty assassins in every southern Capital six hours after they are arrested, and you will empty half the bank vaults of Charleston into the South; you will light up all his forges and crowd his exchanges with business men. This is the way, soldier of the Wilderness, to hammer the rebellion to pieces. Make your vengeance so swift, sure and terrible that the mere name of a 'Union man' may be as ample protection even on the Del Norte as that of a Roman citizen was to St. Paul at Jerusalem."

THE FRENCH EXODUS FROM MEXICO.

A remarkable statement, in the New York Times of the 10th, completely refutes the opinion, heretofore accepted by the American public, that the exodus from Mexico of the French expeditionary force, which had been sent thither by NAPOLEON III., ostensibly for the purpose of supporting MAXIMILIAN in his pretensions to an Imperial throne, was the result of the vigorous remonstrances of Secretary SEWARD against their continuance within the limits of our neighboring Republic. We need not recall the attention of intelligent readers to the deep and just irritation which NAPOLEON'S flagrant impeachment of our favorite MOSKOW doctrine awakened among our people at that day.

In deference to the situation, whether that contemplated the peril of an American war or merely the difficulties encountered through the obstinate hostility of the Mexicans themselves, the French Emperor, at last, seemed to yield to the firm and significantly menacing remonstrances of our Government, and in April '66, officially declared his intention to withdraw his force from Mexico at the earliest possible moment.

We now learn that the withdrawal of the French expedition was due, in one part, to NAPOLEON'S conviction that he had made a decided mistake as to the temper of the Mexican people, and as to the popularity of the affair with the people of France, and that, for the rest, all the diplomatic honor in the premises must be given to Mr. J. W. WEBB, our own Minister to Brazil.

THE Hartford Courant has the following concerning the personal relations of Gen. Grant and Hancock: "The New York World blunders in its haste to make a point against Gen. Grant. It intimates that Hancock is assigned to Dakota in a spirit of petty vengeance, and evidently supposes that he is to live in Dakota. It should have related the fact that after the Tammany Convention Gen. Grant, against Hancock's wishes, assigned him to Dakota. Hancock is charged, met the latter in the streets of Washington, and in his usual good humor gave him a cordial word of welcome. Hancock also quite correctly noticed; that is, he 'cut' the General. The insult, if tendered while they were on duty, would have subjected Hancock to a court-martial. Instead of viewing the assignment of Hancock as malicious, the sarcastic remark of The World that it is 'magnanimous' is literally true. The 'Department of Dakota' embraces Minnesota, Dakota and Montana, with headquarters at the pleasant post of St. Paul—the department from which Gen. Terry has just been relieved. Gen. Hancock has been treated with a courtesy and an attention that his official conduct did not merit."

THE Democrats of Indiana have placed themselves and the State in an ugly situation. This action will leave the Legislature having resigned in order to defeat the Constitutional Amendment, and new elections having been ordered, it is now arranged that the Democrats who shall be elected to the vacancies shall not present their credentials at all, and so continue to defeat the amendment by making a quorum of the Legislature unattainable. This action will leave the State administration without means of support, and the public institutions, charitable and other, must be closed for want of appropriations.

THE Melbourne Argus, of January 4th, states that wild horses have become such a nuisance in the Orange (N. S. W.) that devices for trapping them at their favorite watering places are resorted to. Those branded are impounded to be owned—the rest shot and killed, if not sold at auction. One hundred and eighty of them were sold at two cents a head. At Blayney, in the same district, were worth one dollar, and half fifty cents per pound.

A WESTERN editor says the fish in Lake Holeyhunkumny, Maine, are said to be superior to those of either Lake Wecloye or Mooseetecumegan. Those of the latter are said to be very fine, but they are said to be very few.

Washington Items.

These are undoubtedly a clear majority now in the Senate in favor of keeping Georgia from representation until she is ready to recommit herself to provide guarantees to colored men in their rights, and to arrest the outrages on and murder of Republicans, and it is to secure final and necessary decision that the subject is now pressed.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon. It was not incompatible with the General's ideas of property, he said, to be glad to know what rule would be adopted by the new Administration, as he was not a recipient of many applications, and if expected to give his views, would like to have time extending into each case.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Washington Items.

These are undoubtedly a clear majority now in the Senate in favor of keeping Georgia from representation until she is ready to recommit herself to provide guarantees to colored men in their rights, and to arrest the outrages on and murder of Republicans, and it is to secure final and necessary decision that the subject is now pressed.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Washington Items.

These are undoubtedly a clear majority now in the Senate in favor of keeping Georgia from representation until she is ready to recommit herself to provide guarantees to colored men in their rights, and to arrest the outrages on and murder of Republicans, and it is to secure final and necessary decision that the subject is now pressed.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Washington Items.

These are undoubtedly a clear majority now in the Senate in favor of keeping Georgia from representation until she is ready to recommit herself to provide guarantees to colored men in their rights, and to arrest the outrages on and murder of Republicans, and it is to secure final and necessary decision that the subject is now pressed.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Washington Items.

These are undoubtedly a clear majority now in the Senate in favor of keeping Georgia from representation until she is ready to recommit herself to provide guarantees to colored men in their rights, and to arrest the outrages on and murder of Republicans, and it is to secure final and necessary decision that the subject is now pressed.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

Mr. Julian, after the usual courtesies, asked in substance what General Grant's policy would be as to local appointments. Mr. Lincoln's rule was to refer all local appointments for places, such as postmasters, collectors, assessors, &c., to the Representative of the District, and accept his judgment thereon.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

RECEPTION AT THE WHITE HOUSE. The Washington Star Says: "A peculiar style of wearing the hair, last evening, among the ladies, was a subject of much comment, and the remarks were, for the most part, cast in the form of a becoming substitute for the waterfall."

Burnett's Cocaine. In the hair-dressing which the belles and fashion of this country use. The effect upon the complexion and richness of the appearance of natural and artificial hair is equally durable, splendid and efficacious.

Burnett's Standard Preparations. Are just now all the rage among the ladies, who generally adorn them as ornaments. They express themselves as highly delighted with

Burnett's Kalliton. Is equally admired as a beautiful, fragrant and beautifying cosmetic. Burnett & Co. are also the proprietors of the choice perfume called

Burnett's Oriental Tooth Wash. They have since added

Burnett's Cologne Water. to the list. It is much admired by connoisseurs, among whom it has acquired the reputation of being second to none other, foreign or domestic.

BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS. Take unexceptional rank as the best made in America. They are carefully prepared from fruits and spices of the best quality. Their unequal success is based upon their merit. Reference is made to the principal Purveyors, Confectioners and Hotels in the United States.—Chicago Tribune.

COMMENTARY OF THE PRESS. REGARDING Burnett's Standard Preparations. Unequaled among the preparations of American chemists.—True Flag, Boston. The ladies of our household adore them as unrivaled.—Home Journal, N. Y. Enjoy the highest reputation among the ladies.—Louisville Journal. Deservedly popular.—Oincinnati Commercial. Are fully established as goods of high order.—Chicago Tribune. Important auxiliaries to a lady's toilet.—Washington Chronicle. Of approved usefulness—all that they profess to be.—Philadelphia Bulletin. The best preparations of their kind extant.—Stearns' National Review. Remarkable for delicacy, freshness and purity.—Christian Guardian, Toronto. We heartily recommend them to all our readers.—Ladies' Family Magazine. Burnett's reputation is a sufficient guarantee of the excellence of his preparations.—Boston Journal.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

SMYTHE'S AMERICAN THEATRE, PENN STREET, NEAR SIXTH, LATE ST. CLAIR. W. C. Smythe, Sole Lessee and Manager. DOORS OPEN AT 7, COMMENCEMENT 8 O'CLOCK. SUCCESS! SUCCESS! SUCCESS! Crowned every effort of the management. As a proof of the manner in which business is conducted at the

AMERICAN THEATRE, The Manager respectfully submits to the general public the following copy of the RULES AND REGULATIONS governing each and every performer at its establishment:

FIRST—It is assumed, in all engagements, that the performer is an expert in the business, and is fully qualified to perform according to the contract; therefore, incompetency will render the performer to be immediately dismissed from the establishment.

SECOND—All the members of this Company are regarded by the Manager at the time of engagement, as adies and gentlemen; therefore, any conduct which is, in becoming the above mentioned character, or calculated to bring the establishment into disrepute, will subject the offender to immediate dismissal, with forfeit of the salary due at the time of such occurrence.

THIRD—There will be a rehearsal every morning, (Sundays excepted), at 10 o'clock A. M., unless otherwise arranged by the Stage Manager. FOURTH—Being late at rehearsal, and late in the morning, will be considered a fault, and will be punished by the forfeiture of the salary due at the time of such occurrence.

FIFTH—Every member making unnecessary noise behind the Curtain, either on the Stage or in the Dressing Room, during the time of the performance, will forfeit 50 cents. SIXTH—Any member bringing strangers behind the Curtain, or on the Stage, or into the Dressing Room, without the consent of the Manager, will forfeit 50 cents.

SEVENTH—The Stage Door is the proper entrance for the members of the Company, and any performer passing through the auditorium after the hour of opening, will forfeit 50 cents. EIGHTH—Persons commencing the evening performance late at night, at the time arranged in the Programme of the evening, will be held to a failure to comply with this rule, and 50 cents will be exacted from any performer who shall make an unnecessary stage wait during the performance.

NINTH—Every performer is expected to accompany the troupe when the bell is rung by the Stage Manager. His decision is alone considered necessary. Failing to comply incurs a forfeit of 50 cents. TENTH—The Stage Manager and Ballet Master will hand their weekly accounts of forfeits to the designated on each Saturday evening. THE ABOVE RULES are deemed sufficient to satisfy the public that none but the Best and Most Talented Performers Ever appear at the AMERICAN. In Respectability, UNEQUALLED! In Merit, SURPASSING! In Originality, TRIUMPHANT! THIS EVENING, A SPLENDID PROGRAMME, Replete with the honors of THE MINSTRELS, THE MINSTRELS, THE MINSTRELS, Under the direction of Mr. KING of COMEDIAN, the irrepressible

ROBERT W. EAGAN, MR. W. BLAIR, MR. E. MORLEY, MR. G. GARDNER, MR. J. THOMAS, E. THOMPSON, AND OTHERS, in the Department of VOCAL MERIT. THE NAMES OF MISS NELLIE TAYLOR AND MISS JENNIE BRADEN Are respectfully submitted as Artists of the first order. THE GREAT AMERICAN STAR COMIQUE, MR. GUS WILLIAMS, MR. GUS WILLIAMS, MR. GUS WILLIAMS, MR. GUS WILLIAMS, In his glib splitting Comic Song, including the "POLKA." "Keiser, Don't You Want to Buy a Dog?" AND "YORKSHIRE SAM." DRAMATIC COMPANY, Embracing the names of MR. F. A. TANNERHILL, (For many years the leading Tragedian of Pittsburg, Pa.) and a number of our best Southern Theatricals. MISS CLARA BROOK, Comedienne and Vocalist; MR. T. W. WALKER, MISS JENNIE POSTER, and a corps of first class theatrical artists. THE CORPS OF DANSEUSES, COMPRISE MISS NELLIE EAGAN, MISS MARY DUBERT, MISS MARY PALMER, MISS NELLIE THOMAS, AND A FULL AND SUPERIOR CORPS DE BALLET. All in all, the performance at SMYTHE'S AMERICAN THEATRE, SMYTHE'S AMERICAN THEATRE, SMYTHE'S AMERICAN THEATRE, Penn street, near St. Clair, Penn street, near St. Clair, Penn street, near St. Clair, Penn street, near St. Clair, Surpass in Originality, Respectability and Any similar entertainment in Europe or America. The Manager respectfully solicits the presence and support of the Amateurs of the City of Pittsburgh, and trusts that the entertainment will prove worthy of it. REMEMBER AN EXCELLENT PROGRAMME TO-NIGHT, TO-NIGHT, PARTICULAR attention is called to the GRAND ORCHESTRA of the American, The musicians are all artists of the highest order, selected by the talented and celebrated Director, MR. FRED THORPE. The grand Piano is under the patron of that sterling Pianist, MR. NICHOLAS THORPE. The concert of this orchestra nightly form an attraction of the highest order. Admission, March 13th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th, 31st, Private $1.00