fice where there is no free delivery, and the delivery at special rates beyond such Fifth: The free transmission by mail when received at or destined to any place not a telegraph office.

Sixth, The transmission by telegraph of money orders, for the repetition of messages and other special messages. enth, The forwarding of the originals and all copies of messages not delivered to the dead letter office. Eighth. Authorizing the postmaster to make such other provisions as are required to make perfect the system. The third section requires the Postmaster General to receive bids from any telegraph company for the transmission of messages according to the provisions of

The bid to contain provisions for the construction of the lines required, and their connection with every office established on the lines by the Postmaster General. To contain the rates for the transmission of the following clasess of messa ges for each and every five hundred miles or fractional part thereof:

First. Messages of twenty words, including date, address and signature. Second. Similar messages when transmitted by night.

Local messages to be transmitted between postal telegraph offices where the distance does not exceed six miles; provided, however, that no bid shall be received in which the rates for a message of twenty words exceeds twenty cents for each live hundred miles. Fourth. Single messages of not less than five hundred words, and daily messages of an average length of not less than five hundred words, for the term of one year, when transmitted between the hours of six P. M. and seven A. M. and when transmitted between the hours of of seven A. M. and six P. M.

Fifth. Messages to be transmitted for railroad companies relating exclusively to the business of such company.

Sixth. Press messages when transmitted by night and when by day, rates not to exceed five mills a word by night and seven and one-half by day, and twenty dollars a mile for the exclusive yearly use of a wire by night.

The lowest rates for the exclusive use of one or more wires for a term of not "Burn it! burn it!" again exclaimed less than three months, and for the leaslines by the year. ection 4 authorize the Postmaster General to make a contract in accordance with the provisions of the act for a term

Such contract to contain provision for the transmission of messages between the postal telegraph offices, and for providing the necessary lines and equipments for the testing of the lines from time to time. For the construction of new lines and the addition of more wires as the business of the country requires. Provis-ion for the construction and repair of such lines and wires by the Postmaster General, at the expense of the company, if they shall fail to construct and repair them. The cost to be deducted from the sums in his hands due it.

Agreement to furnish room at the postal telegraph offices for the employees and instruments of the company. For monthly payment of the amount due the company. That the rates shall be reduced by the Postmaster General, from time to time, provided the profits of the company are not thereby reduced below ten per cent.

COMPORT FOR OFFICE SEEKERS.—Upon good authority, it can be stated that two or three important nominations will be sent to the Senate to morrow or next day, cers. The understanding is that the Adcers. The understanding is that the Administration has upon due consideration, come to a conclusion identical with the opinion expressed by Senator Edmunds in the Senate, that there is no impediment in the way of sending nominations to the Senate, whether for vacancies or removals; that the Tenure-of-Office Law removals; that the Tenure of Office Law is only operative during a recess of Congress, when the President cannot remove, but may suspend an officer, and the latter copinion of Cabinet officers and sound lawyers generally that the President may, in effect, remove officers during a session against him. The farmer told him he could not pay it then, but would pay it

The Nuisance of Pairs. It is impossible to spend money rationally at fairs. There may be articles that would be really useful or pleasant to you, ings late at night, cross, tired, bored. Examining his purse, he discovers, greatly to his surprise, that he has expended $15 or $20 in the attainment of this agreeable frame of mind and body. An anxious investigation of his pockets, to disa lamp-mat, a canton flannel pig, a de-cover what he has to show for it all, brings to light an abnormal pin-cushion, calcomania paper cutter, another pin-cushion, a bunch of withered flowers, a watch case (he had five already), andno, it can't be—yes, it actually is, his favorite aversion, a tidy! Then he finds tickets in afghans, big dolls, sofa pillows, a china tea set, &c., all blanks. Besides, by telegraph between postal telegraph there were one or two ice creams and a pleasant chat with Araminta, who sold him the tidy. And he has been denying himself books he really needed, and wearing his old hat for economy's sake. Oh what mightn't he have done with that $20 greenback, "lost to sight, to memory dear?" He thinks of as many possible uses for it as did Mrs. Caudle for the £5 note lent by her bushand to his friend. He vows that fairs are a fleeting show for man's delusion given, and he'll no more of them; a vow rigidly kept until the next fair. - Christian Register.

Statistics of Inchricty. Dr. McKinley, of St. Louis, says the Medical Reporter of that city, has compiled, after very careful research, some very interesting and startling statistics of inebriation in the United States. By him the following statements are made: Taking the population of this country at 40,000,000, of 300 men, 122 never drink spirits at all; 100 drink moderately, but not to intoxication; 50 are ephemeral drinkers; 25 drink periodically, called "spreeing;" and 3 are habitual inebriates. To every 178 who drink, 3 are confirmed inebriates: 25 are periodical drinkers: 50 are ephemeral drinkers. One confirmed inebriate to every 59 of men. Of 700 women, 600 never taste alcoholics of any kind; 30 taste wine occasionally; 17 taste ardent spirits; 36 drink ale or beer constantly; 14 drink ardent spirits periodically, and 3 are habitual inebriates.

Predominance in confirmed inebriates of the sexes; 3 men in every 178; 3 women in every 100; 1 confirmed inebriate to every 33 1-3 of women. Fewer women drink than men; but a portion of them become habitual drinkers. Debauch drinkers rarely become habitual, but periodical drinkers; the latter rarely become habitual inebriates, as the violence of their drinking is too great, and leads to disgusting satity, and hence to intervals of sobriety.

How Gen. Sherman Does Business. The army offices here are quite astonished at General Sherman's mode of doing business. An officer called yesterday confer with him as to breaking up of Lipcoln Barracks, near the city, and asked him what he should do with the property

"Burn it! burn it, sir!" said Sherman, impetuously. "General," said the officer, "please put your order in writing, and I will

The officer asked his written order therefor when the General asked what was its value. He was informed it was "Well," said Sherman, orth $200,000. "the fact is, this city is a bad place for soldiers, and I want to get them all away from it. You had better put it up for sale and clear the thing out quick." Subsequently General Emory called to ascertain what orders he had for his depart "What department?" inquired the Comnander in Chief.

"The Department of Washington, D .,'' said Emory.
"Busted up! busted up, sir, yesterday I am going to get all the troops out."

MR. THACKERAY'S WIFE.—Mr. Thackcray shared with some of his literary brethern of England the misfortune of suffering great affliction through his wife. Without being actually insane, she was liable to sudden attacks of mental disturbance, which took the strange turn of driving her, with irresistable force, to some Methodist conventicle, where her over-excited mind found yent and relief in passionate shouting and screaming. Her tender husband having been told that to prevent her forcibly from attending such meetings would only aggravate the evil, overcame his strong distaste to all such displays, and not only allowed the means of insuring life jet presented to the public the public of prepare to the public to the public of the public, such as income over acceptable to the public of such as income over acceptable to the public, such as income over acceptable to the public, such as income of prevalence as those of the best Mutual Companies, as those or man man and the prevalence of the best Mutual Companies, as those of the best Mutual Companies, as those or man man and the missing complications and uncertainties of Notes, it is the standard to manual Companies, as those or man manual Companies, as those or manual companies, ast the out of the the evil, overcame his strong distaste to all such displays, and not only allowed her to go, but insisted upon one of her Section 8 prescribes returns to bemade daughters accompanying her to the the Postmaster General by the contract Section 8 prescribes returns to be that to the Postmaster General by the contracting party, and gives it the benefits of the er's side," he said simply; and he had the satisfaction to know that his unfortunity against at Postmaster General to prescribe all neces.

THE Pall Mall Garette says: "A Hungarian savant, Dr. Louis Mezei, informed the Hungarian Academy at their last sit. ting, by a letter from Venice, that he has discovered in the library of St. Mark in that city, a mass of Greek and Latin documents, the existence of which was hitherto unsuspected. Amongst them he mentioned many new works by Archimedes, relating to the use of the thermom-eter, meteorology, geology, &c.; a poem of Hesoid, describing all sciences in beautiful hexameters; an epic of Josephus on Jesus Christ, 'as long as Klopstock's.
"Messiad," but much finer and more poetical; a Hebrew translation of 'Heslod, and probably with them a large number by Moses; and a complete collection of collectors and assessors, and other officollection of the Austrian laws.' The Academy received this communication with loud laughter, and Buron Ectvos the President, remarked that Dr. Meze had fallen upon a collection of mediaeval themes or 'stylistic exercises,' such as he himself had frequently met with."

ask the attention of all interested in the reduction of the extravagant cost of Butter, to their practical and economical system of making pure

EXTRACT OF BUTTER PLANT.

A brief allusion to the origin of this important discovery may not prove uninteresting. Among the authenticated records of the renowned Cap-Cook's voyage around the world, is found the statement, that while solourning for a thort time on the Brazilian Coast of South America, h observed the natives using, in the preparation of their food, a peculiar oil, which, upon examination, he found to possess the appearance, taste and flavor of Butter; upon further inquiry, how-ever, he accertained that it was simply a substance that the natives distilled in a crude and imperfect manner, from a rich and luxuriant plant that grew spontaneously and abundantly in ments with this remarkable production of naure, and succeeded in extracting a concentrated ssence of the plant. The formula for its preparation, and the Sole Right for its sale in this country are the exclusive property of this Com-pany, by whom it was purchased from the origial discoverer. We claim for this remarkable ret simple and perfectly harmless preparation— its.—That by its use a net gain of from 50 to 200 per cent. is made in the manufacture of Butter. 2d.-That Butter, which from age or whatever cause, may be strong, rancid, streaked or coarse-grained, and comparatively useless for general use, by the aid of this Extract, is restored to its original freshness and sweetness, 3d .- By the use of this Extract, one pound of s, fresh Butter is actually made from one pint of milk. 4th.-That a pure and excellent table Butter can be made, at a cost of from 15 to 20 c nts per pound. The chief expense wherein being Butter, which is the essential base. 5th.—That Butter manufactured by the sid of this Extract is equalin every respect to the best Butter made by the ordinary method. 5th.-The Extract after thorough analysis, by able shemists, is pronounced perfectly free from any deleterious substance, the ingredient: being purely of a vegetable nature.

8th.—In proof of the foregoing assertions, the factory of this company is making one ton of Buttor per day, which meets with ready sale in the New York Mirrket, and is consumed from the tables of the first Hotels, Restaurants and Private families in this city and elsewhere.

A sample package of the Extract sufficient to make 80 ibs, of Butter, with full directions for use, will be sent to any address on receipt of $1.

"OAUTION.—As articles of real merit are subject to appurious imitations, we would specially caution the public against counterfeits and wormless imitations, advertised as powders, one-pounds, Sc., as the Extract of the Butter Frant is prepared and sold only by

The Economy Butter Co. able chemists, is pronounced perfectly free from
