OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE. MONDAY, March 22, 1869. Gold has evidently touched its lowest point for the present at 131. The tight noney market had no effect on it, and holders are unwilling to part with it at anything like present quotations. Any relief of the present stringency in money natters would cause a considerable rise, since it is confidently believed that large shipments of coin will have to be made during the month of April, and prior to the payment of the May interest. Government bonds were dull and lower, and old 1865's, 1864's, 1862's and 10-40's all declined about 1/2 per cent. The recent issues are also lower, and 1865's, new, sold down 112%@113. This is a decline of over one per cent. since Friday last, and yet no desire is shown to re-purchase at these figures. The general impression now prevails that bonds will sell at lewer rates before the month is out, and that when money is easier heavy purchases will be made for a rise. In stocks the market is well sustained, on stocks that are generally very weak on a tight market, whilst the favorite shares like Fort Wayne, New York Central, and some of the Eastern shares, have heavily declined.

Money on call loans commands seven per cent. in gold, and a commission. Our local money market is devoid of any interest, and business is dull with a poor supply of money.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, Monday, March 22, 1869. CATTLE—There was a dimished number of cattle on sale to-day, compared with last week only six hundred head. and the difference in quality was still greater. The market, in consequence of the limited supply, was a very stiff one. and holders experienced no difficulty in realizing all their cattle were worth. though we do not believe that the average price to-day was as high as that of ast week, which was owing to the great difference in the stock. Last week there was an unusually large number of good cattle, while this week the number of good cattle was unusually small, so that when we take the quality of the stock inte consideration, prices were fully up, perhaps a shade higher, than those of last week, As will be seen by reference to the report of sales, prices range from 8 to 9 cents for prime to choice smooth fat steers, and 7 to 71/4 for fair to medium do. Stock steers may be quoted at 5 to 6, as from Chicago. SHEEP—The supply of Sheep was again small this week being less than five hundred head, and, as the case for some time past, the demand was by no means active. There were several small lots of fancy sheep, but these, of course, were held at fancy prices, including one drove from Butler Co., averaging between 185@140, which was held at ten cents, gross weight, with nine bid. We can also report a sale of very common stockers at $1.25 per head. stockers at $1,25 per head.

$1,25 per head; J. F. Neely 46 Washingston Co., at 5@7½.

HOGS—The hog market has undergone no important change since last week. We can report sales in a retail way at 11 to 13c gross for fair to choice averages; mainly, however, at 11½@12½. The demand, however, is light, as butchers do not care about buying at the prices, alleging that there is no profit in pork and but little in anything else.

Dry Goods Market.

New York, March 22.—The excitement in printed Calicos has calumniated by a reduction of Merrimac D to 1 ahli-The stock market to-day opened with a speculation for lower prices, with New York Central and Pacific Mail as the features. The former fell to 153½, assisted by Albany reports as to a bill recently introduced in the Senate. Pacific Mail fell to 85½. The rest of the list sympathized and the prices were all lower. In the afternoon the feeling was better, and though there was considerable irregularity, there was a marked advance on the low quotations of the morning, the features being Pacific Mail, New York Central and Northwestern. The market closed firm with an improving tendency.
