

The Pittsburgh Gazette

LITERARY

No character in the New Testament, except the Redeemer of the world, has been so much defined, and made the subject of so much criticism, as the Apostle Paul.

However excellent the magazines of the previous months of the year have been, the April monthlies are fully up to their predecessors.

It is utterly impossible to form an intelligent estimate of a monthly or weekly illustrated publication, by a single number.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT & Co., Philadelphia, have in press and will soon ready a volume of Poems by George H. Boker.

Harper & Brothers, New York, have just published "Guiccioli's Recollections of Lord Byron," and "Tolpelt's Phases of the Irish member."

CHARLES SCHMIDT & Co., New York, have commenced the publication of an illustrated Library of wonders.
