Another Teamster was fined by Mayor Drum yesterday, for driving over the sidewalk. There seems to be a contest between the teamsters and the city authorities regarding the enforcement of this ordinance. Thus far, however nce. Thus far, however, the officers have the best of it.

The Fire Alarm Extension.—The gong The Fire Alarm Extension.—The gong for the alarm bell in the Twenty-third ward, and the wire for the purpose of connecting it with the central office, have been received. The necessary apparatus will arrive soon, when the connections will be made and the extenson completed.

Teachers Elected,-The School Board Teachers Elected.—The School Board of the Sixth Ward, (Forbes District), last evening, elected as teachers Miss Cornella J. Randolph, for Ann street house, and Miss Eliza McNeely, for Second street house. The election was for vacancies caused by the resignation of Miss Mattie E. Sloss and Mrs. Verbena Burns.

Cowardly Amusement.—Some persons, unknown, amused themselves, Wednesday evening, by throwing stones into the day evening, by throwing stones into the dry goods store of Mr. James Goeling, located at the corner of Cedar avenue and Ohio street, Allegheny. Four large panes of glass in the show cases were smeshed by the missiles. The offenders smashed by the missiles. The offenders

Completed.—The wagon for the use of the Allegheny Fire Department has been completed and accepted by the Com-mittee. It was built by Messrs. Forres-ter, Coleman & Knoch, at a cost of three hundred and twenty-five dollars. This is the second wagon built for the puris the second wagon built for the pur-pose, the first one (built by another firm) being rejected.

Serious Fall.—Yestsrday morning Mr. Serious Fall.—Yestsrday morning Mr. Thomas Scott, carpenter, while engaged in bullding a scaffolding around the second story windows of a house on East Lane, Fourth ward, Allegheny, missed his footing and fell to the ground, receiving, it is feared, serious internal injuries. He was removed to his home on Washington street, Sixth ward, Allegheny, and medical attention procured.

The Fire Department.-The Committee on Engines and Hose, met last evening in the City Building. After some discussion they decided to recommend an appropriation of five hundred dol-lars for the benefit of the Rescue Hook tentiary, made a desperate attempt to escape, and had reached the top of the outer wall, when he was discovered and secured by the watchman. Had the wall been lower, he would, doubless, have been successful, as only the few minutes delay in reconnoitering how to minutes delay in reconnoitering how to get down proved fatal to his hopes of freedom.

Repairing.—For some time past one of the lamps at the Pittsburgh side of the St. Clair Street Bridge has failed to be of any service. Workmen were engaged yesterday in investigating the cause and yesterday in investigating the cause and for this purpose dug down to the pipe leading from the gas metre to the lamp. They discovered the pipe at the joint entering into the gas post to be full of water, which flowed from the metre. The inclination of the pipe was changed water, which howed from the inclination of the pipe was changed and the difficulty thus remedied.

Malicious Mischlef -Robert Burke Malicious Mischlef —Robert Burke made information before Alderman Mo-Masters yesterday against a boy, name unknown, for malicious mischlef. The prosecutor is proprietor of a photograph gallery, located in the Dispatch building. He alleges the boy, who is employed in the vicinity, broke the sky-light of his establishment and threw dirty water into the rooms, thereby damaging the goods inside to a great extent. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the boy.

Allegheny Mayor's Office.—During the month of March, just ended, the following cases were disposed of at the Allegheny Mayor's office: Disorderly conduct, 85; drunkenness, 72; vagrancy, 15; ordinance cases, 32; larceny, 3; desertion, 8; assault and battery, 3; selling liquor on Sunday, 2; surety of the peace, 2; total, 219. Of the parties, against whom these various informations were made, 125 paid fines, 49 went to jail, and 45 were held for trial.

Near a table on which was a can partly filled with carbon oil, stood a cooking stove. While the ladies were engaged about their duties, the boy was playing around the room, and in some way jostled the table, throwing the can upon the stove. The oil coming in contact with the hot iron instantly ignited, and an explosion immediately followed. So violent was the concussion produced by it that the door of the room was very considerably shattered. The unfortunate persons were covered with the burning oil, and their agonizing skrieks quickly brought a —among others another Mrs. Wells, who occupied a part of the same building, and sister-in-law of the first. Amusements. OPERA House.—The weather last evening, as most people are aware, was abominable. This fact, together with the other, that yesterday was "moving day," operated against a large audience at the Opera House. Still the house held a fair number, and those who did overcome all obstacles and attend were more than reobstacles and attend were more than repaid. Miss Charlotte Thompson, than whom there are few more delightful actresses, played "Fanchon, the Cricket," and played it remarkably well. The support rendered her by the stock company was excellent. This evening she takes a benefit and should have a splendid house. See amusement column for bill.
