

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Notice to Our Readers.—Any subscriber who removed on the first of April, should leave the number of his present residence, at our counting room, so that his paper may be left without interruption by the carrier.

Yesterday was a cold dreary day. Felton Street, Sixth ward, Allegheny, is being graded and paved.

We understand our Iron Manufacturers are crowded with orders. The Lockup contained thirty-three inmates this morning at one o'clock.

Four common cases were disposed of at the Allegheny Mayor's office yesterday morning.

Mayor Break has instructed his police to strictly enforce the ordinance in regard to disorderly houses.

Retired—C. Hazen Lova, one of our oldest and wealthiest merchants, has retired from mercantile business.

Street Commissioner Megraw had a number of men engaged in cleaning Federal and Ohio streets, Allegheny, yesterday.

A petition is being numerously signed for Nicolson pavement on Smithfield street, from Liberty to the Monongahela Bridge. Let us have it at once.

False Alarm.—Last night about nine o'clock an alarm of fire was struck from box 14, corner of Ohio avenue and Bidwell street, Allegheny, which proved to be false.

Concert.—A concert will be given at Grace Church, Mt. Washington, Tuesday evening next, the proceeds of which are to be donated to the church. Tickets, fifty cents.

African M. E. Conference.—The Pittsburgh Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church will meet at the A. M. E. Church, Wylie street, this morning, Rev. Dr. Pains presiding.

Alderman Donaldson, yesterday, committed for trial David Hawthorne, who is charged with robbing the money drawer of a milk wagon at a few days since, the particulars of which we published.

We notice the time-honored Real Estate Agency of St. Outberr & Son have removed their agency to No. 39 Sixth avenue, near Smithfield. No real estate agency deserves the confidence of this community more than the above firm. Note their change and give them a call.

Held for a Further Hearing.—Charles St. Clair, the young man charged with the larceny of a lot of jewelry from Knoebel's jewelry store, before Mayor Drum yesterday morning, and day, April 10th.

Midnight Sale.—To-day at 10 o'clock A. M. Marshall Rowley will call public sale Ballou's Vinegar Manufactory, Nos. 128 and 130 Second avenue. As this has been postponed several times after sale will positively take place to-day at the above hour.

Sherris' Sale.—Seven columns and more of our inside pages are monopolized by Sheriff Culey this morning in the announcement of real estate sales, at the Court House on Monday morning. The advertisement is very readable and good investments in desirable properties.

Arrangements on a liberal scale are being made for a grand fair to be held by the ladies of St. Agnes Church, Soho, avenue and Cist street, on Monday evening next. The church is commencing on heavy debt and it is to be hoped that the fair will be a success. New attractions to ensure enjoyment of visitors will be offered each night.

Another Raid.—The police made a descent on the "Continental," an establishment well-known to readers of police news, last night between eleven and twelve o'clock, and captured twenty of the inmates, the majority being women. The keeper of the house was among the men captured. They were all furnished with lodgings at the lock-up until this morning.

Stable Entered.—At an early hour yesterday morning a raid was made on the stable of Mr. James McRoberts, near Harnarville, on the Western Reserve, vania Railroad, by burglars, who succeeded in taking away with them two valuable horses, a seal, and the other a dappled gray. Mr. McRoberts called at the Mayor's office and made known the facts of the robbery, but could give no clue to the perpetrators.

Provoked the Assault.—Thomas Sloan made information before Alderman Patrick yesterday afternoon, that he had been assaulted and battered. Sloan alleged he was sitting in a saloon at the corner of Wood and Adams streets, on the evening since, when Price came in and knocked him down. At the hearing it appeared that Sloan had used insulting words to Price, which provoked the assault. The case was discharged, the defendant paying the costs.

Apollo Institute.—Apollo Building, No. 80 Fourth avenue, between Wood and Market. This school opens on Monday, Easter recess, on Monday, April 6th. The system of instruction is based on the most approved principles of pedagogy, as well as psychological. The elementary branches are particularly attended to. Pupils can be entered at any time during the season. Call at the rooms for circular, or address the principal, J. M. Carr.

With pleasure we refer our Allegheny readers to the removal notice of W. F. Price in to-day's GAZETTE. Mr. P. has removed his real estate office to No. 21 Federal street, where he will be pleased to walk on all who may want his services in the way of selling or renting real estate. He is also agent for several first class insurance companies. Parties wishing insurance should call and examine his companies. We cheerfully commend Mr. Price to Allegheny readers as a first class dealing man.

Not Coming.—Mr. Murdoch, the eminent actor, eloquent and lecturer, who was engaged to lecture under the auspices of the Allegheny Literary Association, has been released from the engagement till the next season, owing to the illness and inability to perform his sixteen first class literary entertainments. The lecture season, as will be seen by the above, is thus at an end. We hope the enterprise and liberality of the Committee has been awarded substantially in large profits to the benefit of the Library.

ART MATTERS.

The Process of Marbleizing.—How it is to be Popularized in Pittsburgh.

Almost every decade of years which have flown since the incoming of the present century have been marked with some new scientific development which lessened the labor of toiling millions, carried ease and comfort into the slavery of labor, and helped to obliterate lines which divided society and withheld enjoyment and luxuries from those not blessed with much of this world's goods. Perhaps the greatest luxury levered of the last few years has been the art of marbleizing, which has placed within the reach of all the most elaborate designs wrought in the finest marbles of the world, which enter into domestic architecture, which, if in the solid original, would cost such figures as to be obtained only by mounted princes and millionaires. Although among the useful products of the quarry, which has so rapidly attained perfection in marble business and close to the wealth-producing classes of the world, it has placed within the reach of the peevish cost, marbles, hardly to be imitated, much prettier and more durable than the original. It is a perfect non-absorbent of moisture, being close grained and very compact; it neither heat nor dampness affect, and, therefore, more durable than marble. Moreover, it will not stain or discolor, and, when used with acids—tests to which marble is never subjected—without serious injury. In the marbleizing process, oxides are applied to the surface of the stone, which is then subjected to proper degree of heat until the enamel becomes one substance with the stone, and becomes one substance with the stone. The popularity of the art has induced the establishing of works for marbleizing on an extensive scale in this city by Messrs. Daniel Huggs & Co., who have opened their laboratory and sawing stone at No. 127 Liberty street. A large force of skilled stone-cutters, a complement of the most expert, intelligent and experienced artists in the country have been secured to reside over the marbleizing department. The master of the art in this country, has assumed the charge of this one of the which is full guarantee of the excellence of the work of the firm. Mr. Timothy O'Brien, a skilled marble-cutter, is the foreman of the cutting room, which is the important branch of the business. We have not the space to describe the process, but as its results are the elegant workroom presents a study of marbles which must gratify the lovers of the art and the beautiful. The firm, in their manufacturing, are making a large stock of mantels, making them a leading specialty. On exhibition they have exquisite Egyptian, Spanish variegated, Seneca, much prettier than the original, and having higher polish than the original. Verd Antique of the most luxurious shades of serpentine, Brocaille, dark red Italian, red and green, Turkish, Zepi Lazuli, Scotch and American Grad, other fancy marbles held in high esteem. The black Granite, with golden colored and white veins covering throughout, is magnificent. The brilliant and brown California and the brilliant world set off and adorn the mantels. The marble is cut in the best style of art, and are manufactured in any shade or color ordered, to suit carpets, painting or other uses. The marble is monthly received from European designers, and enable the firm to be always ahead with the latest and most costly designs. The marble is cut in the best style of art, and are manufactured in any shade or color ordered, to suit carpets, painting or other uses. The marble is monthly received from European designers, and enable the firm to be always ahead with the latest and most costly designs.

THE COURTS.

Quarter Session—Judge Stone—The Verdict in the Bell Area Case—Not Guilty.

FRIDAY, April 2.—On the opening of Court the jury in the case of the Commonwealth vs. John Bell, Charles Proffit and Thomas Graham, indicted for attempting to burn Bell's Trunk Factory, came into Court and rendered a verdict of not guilty as to all the defendants.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

It is said, that in this eager and world-wide search for something new, the designer and modern art, penetrating every corner of the globe, and ransacking the tombs of the dead, these conventional art-laborers have in this way devised upon the banners of the Moors and the shawls of Cashmere, appropriate and beautiful designs of Persia and India, copied the colors of the Alhambra frescoes; employed the typical figures and symbols of the monuments of Egypt and the deities of the unnumbered gods of the East.

The Mammoth Cave. Extract from a Private Letter.

"We groped about for hours in this wonderful place. I never saw anything like it. The freaks of nature, the strange but beautiful, and the air in some parts the cave is so close and stifling, and when we came out I found myself saddled with a terrible fever, which had never been seen in this country, and no remedy he prescribed seemed to do the least good. My life was despaired of. Mrs. Wilson, with whom I was residing, had in the house a bottle of PLANTATION BITTERS, and she insisted that I should try it, for she said she knew it to be a certain cure in all cases of fever, debility, ague, dyspepsia, &c. I had but little faith, but finally consented to try it as a last resort. In less than three hours after the first dose my fever abated, and in two days I was sitting up and before Saturday night I was as well and sprightly as of old. I tell you all this that you may know how to act in any case of fever, or any other disease. I firmly believe the PLANTATION BITTERS saved my life. * * * * * In my next I will tell you about the cave in detail. A. J. P."

MADEIRA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price. T.H.S.F.

Where to Get It. A good cigar, to those who have acquired the habit of using the weed, is indeed a luxury. It is often, however, difficult among the quantity, inferior articles on sale, to get a good one, and thus portance becomes a matter of some importance. We have a word of advice to offer to those who are in the habit of purchasing cigars. By calling at 45 Hand street, they can have all their wants in this respect supplied from the Lewis stock which is the largest stock of any kind of his goods will be the purchase. Remember the place, 45 Hand street.

What They Will Do. Dr. Rose's Remedies are purely vegetable preparations, and are going more and more to supplant other medicinal agents offered to the public. They are sold at one dollar per bottle, and generally find their way to the most afflicted. We make a specialty of the following diseases, and warrant a cure in every case: Acute or Chronic Rheumatism, Catarrh of the Bladder, Gout, Gravel, Dropsy, and all the diseases of the Throat and Lungs. Compound is doing wonders. Dr. Rose's Remedies are manufactured and sold wholesale and retail, Nos. 28 and 28 1/2 Sixth street, (late St. Clair).

Greens who do not sell the Excelsior Browned Coffee, put up in pound packages by Green & Morledge, of the extensive Iron City Mills, Fifth Avenue, near High street, are unnumbered. The Excelsior Coffee is so carefully brewed and prepared, so carefully selected, and one-half pound is equal to the usual pound of that inferior housekeepers. The pure spruce manufactured at the Iron City Mills are the best in the market, and are kept for sale everywhere.

The best and Original Tonic of Iron, Phosphorus and Gallia, known as "Mack & Co's Ferro Phosphorus Tonic," restores color to the blood, the Iron Tonic renews waste of the nerve tissue, and restores the natural vigor, thereby curing dyspepsia in its various forms, and all the diseases of the Throat and Lungs. Manufactured only by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, sold by all druggists.

The Elephant.—Several of our customers are going wild over the large elephant tanned from one of the most famous tanners of the world, Philadelphia. Hundreds followed him out Fifth Avenue, and he was followed by a wonderful throng. A new baby near by, who is always wide awake, reared by his mother, had a new baby trunk that he could buy a better trunk than the elephant had, at Libler's, 104 Wood street.

The Keystone Pottery of S. M. Kier & Co., No. 83 Liberty street, now supplies their stock of Queensware and Bristol ware. Their manufactures are fully equal to the best imported articles and are sold at lower prices. Merit in making up their spring stock should be taken to examine the wares, of the Pottery and inquire the prices before purchasing elsewhere.

Cure for the Blues.—To go to Libler's store, 104 Wood street, and see the trunk, Valise and Satchel Club. Always wide awake, he keeps his trade moving, sells low, keeps good work, and always gives satisfaction.

All the latest novelties in dress goods for Spring, direct from the importing agents, just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Dark and Gloomy.—The weather is dark and gloomy, but Libler's trunks do not afford a fair idea of what has thus far been introduced at our leading depot of fashion. Any of our lady readers desiring to examine the novelties and see the latest styles of ribbons, hosiery, lace goods, embroideries, gloves, etc., should pay the establishment of W. F. Moorehead, No. 81 Market street, a visit. They will see one of the most admirably assorted stocks of goods ever opened in this city, and are assured that the prices are fixed lower than they have been for a number of years.

The highest cash prices are paid for second-hand books and magazines at Col. J. D. Egan's Sixth avenue, near Smithfield street. A full assortment of rare and valuable second-hand books are offered at reasonable prices. No where else can the scholar secure literary treasures so good as advertised.

A Good Hotel is a benefit to the community, and Boston will be proud of the new American Hotel, so long and so well kept by Lewis Rice, Esq. Therefore, when you are in Boston, be sure to stop at the American Hotel, and see the new competitor.

Business is Wealth.—Then why not save five or ten dollars by buying your large trunks for traveling at 104 Wood street? Examine them before purchasing elsewhere. The advice we give to all who wish to do so.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

Those who desire to make selections of choice dress patterns for Spring wear, should call in and see the new goods just opened at Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth avenue.