The Allegheny Board of School Controllers will hold a regular monthly meetng this evening at seven o'clock.

A Rumor.-It is rumored on the streets that a grand fashionable wedding, with open doors, is to take place at St. Paul's Cathedral this morning at nine o'clock. There is some talk of the purchase of an organ by the Christian Commission to be used at the Sunday afternoon ser vices in the jail. The Water and Survey Committees of the Allegheny Councils held their reg-ular meetings last evening. No business outside of the usual routine was trans-

About Again.—We are pleased to learn that our friend, Dr. P. W. Heron, of Allegheny, who has been ill for a short time past, has recovered and is able to be about again. The work of constructing the Mont gomery avenue sewer, across Federal street, Allegheny, has at last been com-pleted. Pedestrians compelled to travel that way rejoice thereat. The Allegheay Pelice yesterday morning arrested a number of young men for loading at the corner of Lacock and Main streets, Fourth ward. They were each fined three dollars and costs.

Appropos of the proposed new dog or-dinance for Pittsburgh, we see it stated that owners of dogs in Cincinnati, where there is a similar law in force, paid out last week $1,163 in the way of licenses.

On Saturday afternoon a large mass of Rock fell from Boyd's Hill to the track of the Connellsyille Railroad, near Lock No. 1. It was removed and the track repaired at once, causing little delay in the running of the trains.

Why is It!-Why is it when the mud scrapers have scraped the dirt on a street into little mounds, it is allowed to remain as a kind of ornamental edging to the gutters, until the travel on the thoroughfare apreads it out on the street again. It this street cleaning?

The Lecture given by Mrs. F. M. Barclay, of Chicago, at Rev. J. D. Herr's church, corner Fifth avenue and Marion streets, was largely attended yesterday. The subject this afternoon, commencing at 3:30. o'clock, will be "The causes and cure pertaining to the disease of women."

Trustees Elected.—At the annual meet ing of the First Reformed Presbyterian Church the following gentlemen were elected to serve as Trustees for three years: John Megraw, Henry McCracken and Robert C. Miller. The members of the old Board who hold over are Josiah tevenson, Samuel Barckie . May, F. R. McCutcheon, William A. May and Hugh Young.

Committed for Trial. - Andrew and Elizabeth Walsh, charged on oath of Mena Wesner, with mai-treatment, had a hearing yesterday before Mayor Brush, who held them to bail in the sum of one thousand dollars each for their appearance at Court, in default of which they were committed to jail. The case was fully investigated, and the evidence against the accused was of a most damning character.

A Collision.—Peter O'Neil made information before Alderman Strain, yester-day, against John Williams, for mali-cious mischief. Williams is employed as a driver for Messrs. McFarland & Col-lins. O'Neil alleges he drove into him yesterday on Webster street, breaking the axle of his wagon and tearing off a wheel. The accused was arrested, and settled the case by paying damages and Accident .- John W. Patterson, crier of the Courts of Quarter Sessions and Com-mon Pleas, met with a serious accident yesterday morning. He was on his way to the city from his residence near Mt. Washington, and while riding on a car on the coal road on Saw Mill Run, was thrown off and so severely injured as to be unable to attend to his duties. He was taken to his residence and making the coal road of the coal was taken to his residence, and medical attendence summoned.

Forestalling.—There were three cases before the Mayor yesterday under the ordinance relative to iorestalling the market. James Freemont and Agnew market. James Freemont and Agnew & Co., were charged with purchasing a lot of chickens during market hours for the purpose of selling them again, and were each required to pay a fine of five dollars and costs. Andrew Smith, who, its was alleged, had been forestalling the butter market, was required to pay a fine of five dollars and costs.

Builders and all others who deal in the article of lumber, will find in our column of late advertisements into-day's issue the card of Alexander Patter with a memoranda of stock on hand of leading stricles in the lumber line, which. although full, does not comprise his en-tire stock, which in variety would be entirely too large to include in an ordi-nary advertisement. Attention is par-ticularly directed to the articles of Polar Yellow Pine and other hard woods.

For Clerk of Courts .- Mr. John G. Brown elsewhere announces himself as a candidate for re-election to the office of Clerk of Courts, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention, a position he has filled for nearly a full term with credit to himself and friends. He had an arm taken off in the army in which he served with conspicuous gal-lantry as a private in Co. H, 102d Pennsylvania Volunteers. Mr. Brown is an active, industrious and honorable business citizen and every way worthy the confidence of the people at large.

Allegheny Police Committee.—The Po-Allegheny Police Committee.—The Police Committee of the Allegheny Councils held a special meeting last evening at the Mayor's Office, at which they decided to recommend in their next report to Councils the passage of an ordinance, relating to disorderly houses, similar to the one passed at the last meeting of Pittsburgh Councils, and now in force. The sharpers pretended to be connected with the Pacific Railroad, and said they were in search of hands. The Scotchmen were Civil Engineers, and a contract was soon entered into between the parties by which it appears the Engineers were to advance $60 to defray their expenses to their place of destination. The money was paid over and the parties repaired to the Merchants' Hotel, to complete their arrangements, and on arriving there, the Scotchmen were told to wait at the door until the agents should return. They entered the hotel but failed to return, and the Scotch Engineers were left standing at the door minus $60. An Importunate suitor.

Alderman McMasters, yesterday morning, received a visit from an elderly lady, a resident of Braddock's Fields, who gave her name as Miss Ann Williams. The purpose of Miss Williams' visit was soon made clear to the apprehension of the attentive official. She had unfortunately become the object of the intense admira-tion of John Montaine, a youthful stription of John Montaine, a youthful strip-ling and neighbor, aged about eighteen years. Having passed through fifty-six summers, with a heart unscathed, and free, she refused the attentions of the youthful John, and bade him seek elsewhere for an object of affection. First Annual Report of the Pittaburgh Home for Destitute Women, April 1st,

During the winter of 1868, at the weekly meetings of the managers of the Women's Christian Association, facts of the most startling nature were constantly brought before them by the Visitors, which seemed to demand that immediate measures should be taken for the establishment of a refuge for distressed and unfortunate women.

Cases were reported of young women of unblemished character, induced by reports of high wages given in the city, and ignorant of the difficulties before them, who had come to seek employment, finding themselves at the approach them, who had come to seek employment, finding themselves at the approach of night without home or friend, and unable to gain admission to a reputable lodging place. During the intensely cold weather of January, some such were compelled to ask permission of the Mayor of Allegheny to spend the night in the lock-up, to be sent the next day to the county jail, as the only place of refuge open to them until the inclement weather had passed. Mrs. James Irwin, Miss Jane Holmes, Mrs. Frank Woods, Mrs. Loomis, Mrs. W. P. Logan, Mrs. Nelson, and passed.

Other cases which excited deep commiseration, were those of erring women who earnestly desired to abandon the paths of vice, but were surrounded by circumstances which seemed to render circumstances which seemed to render the first steps to reformation well nigh impossible. Others were found in the prisons, sentenced for some first crime, sincerely repentant and full of earnest sincerely repentant and full of earnest resolves on good conduct in future, yet doomed by a prison reputation to sink to the lowest depths of infamy, unless some temporary home could be given on their release, and some kindly hand extended to aid and guide them in the effort to retrieve the past in a better life.

The managers resolved, unanimously, to procure a small house and fit it up as a temporary refuge for any women in Adams alleges that he occupied a house in South Pittsburgh, at the end of the Monongaand others repaired, stoves freely given and set up, and the yard graveled and rehela bridge, which was claimed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. A matron had already been engaged and the work of furnishing the house states, they sent a lorce of men and quiet-ly took possession of the premises, after removing him. The men engaged in the alleged ejectment were arrested and gave bail in the sum of one thousand dollars commenced.

The managers were cheered in their work by the daily gift of beds, bedsteads, comforts, chairs, tables and furniture for every part of the house, and by the generous response of the merchants to their appeal for food, clothing and fuel. The names of many of the donors cannot appear in the list, for the reason that their gifts were sent anonymously, but all were valuable, and for the first six months very few articles were required to be purchased.

The first of April created quite a stir among the people here. They moved in all directions. We are enjoying a great calm now.

Religious services are conducted every sunday afternoon in the house by cleragymen of the city. A prayer meeting is meld every Tuesday afternoon by the managers, and the duties of each day are begun and closed with family prayer. A meeting for Bible instruction has been held weekly until last month, when the excellent teacher was obliged to give it up. Another has since taken her place. CAUTION.

The great popularity, on account of its salutary medicinal effects, of SQUIRE'S LONDON EF-FERVESCING BI. CARB. POTASSA for which I am the sole Agent, has induced certain unprincipled parties to imitate my label, and paim off as the genuine, worthless trash which bears no resemblance even to the imported article. Those lesiring the true Potassa can obtain it from Messrs. J. C. MATTERN. J. B. CHERRY, J. E. BURNS & CO. and S. K. NORGRAVE.
