

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The little boy, the day previous, was scalded by boiling water upon himself, and was so terribly injured that notwithstanding all the exertions of medical skill, he expired as stated.

Justice.—Our item published on Saturday on an unwholesome meat was calculated to do Mr. Dietrich, butcher, injustice. He was imposed upon in the case, and a thing would happen the other way, had he been a more honest and careful butcher. Mr. Dietrich strives to keep and sell only first-class and healthy meat, and he should be sorry should an impression to the contrary be derived from our article.

A Charge.—Mr. G. F. Conklin, who, for two years past, has filled the box office as Treasurer at the Opera House, severed his connection with the establishment on Saturday. Mr. Conklin was an agreeable and accommodating officer and rendered general satisfaction to the many patrons of the establishment, as well as to the management. It is his intention, we learn, to engage in business for himself, and we cordially recommend him to the public. Mr. William Conklin, a brother of the retiring treasurer, will hereafter fill the box office at the Opera House.

Fire on Saturday.—Saturday morning about ten o'clock a quantity of coal tar, contained in a tank at the Empire Oil Works, took fire and was consumed. The loss was estimated at one hundred and fifty dollars. The tank was not insured, and the loss was borne by Messrs. An Unfriendly Greeting. Eliza Nesbitt made information before Alderman McMaisters, on Saturday, against Harriet Johnson for assault and battery. The parties reside on Fourth street, and it appears, though formerly friends, lately have been at variance, owing to some misunderstanding. Eliza Nesbitt, Saturday she was proceeding along Fourth street to her residence with a basket filled with marketables, when Harriet, meeting, attacked her fiercely, snatching the basket and scattering the edibles in all directions, tearing out her hair and nails, and finally pummeling her severely on the face and head, which was the cause of the exceedingly dark color of the eye which she exhibited at the district court's office. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the pugilistic Harriet.

Important Action for Councils To-Day.

The City Councils meet to-day to take into consideration a plan for the paving, grading and improving of the principal avenues connecting the old city with the wards recently acquired by consolidation. The propositions are:

1. That the provisions in the consolidation act in regard to the opening, grading and paving of the main avenues, heretofore mentioned, requiring the consent of a majority of the property owners, be repealed, and that said provisions be wholly repealed as to the grading and paving of all streets in the rural districts, and that the city be authorized to loan its credit to the amount of $1,000,000 for the grading and paving of the following named streets, beginning where the present paving terminates:

First: Butler street to Negley's run. Second: Greenburg turnpike to the city line. Third: Liberty avenue to Center avenue. Fourth: Center avenue and Franklinton road to Greensburg pike. Fifth: Fifth avenue and Forbes street to Greensburg pike. Sixth: Such avenue as may be opened from Oakland to the city line, between Fifth avenue and the Braddock's Field road. Seventh: Braddock's Field road to the crossing of the Pittsburgh and Connetquot roads at Greensburg.

That the expense of grading and paving said avenues be paid by assessing one-third of the cost upon the property owners, and the remaining two-thirds by a levy not exceeding five mills on the property of the city, and that the city be authorized to issue bonds to the amount of $1,000,000, to be paid in equal installments of ten per cent. from and after the completion of the grading and paving of said avenues, and that the city be authorized to sell any and all lands owned by it for the purpose of raising money to defray the cost of the same.

As soon as said avenues be completed, and the grading and paving of all other streets shall be paid by assessing one-third on the property owners, and the remaining two-thirds by a levy not exceeding five mills on the property of the city, and that the city be authorized to issue bonds to the amount of $1,000,000, to be paid in equal installments of ten per cent. from and after the completion of the grading and paving of said avenues, and that the city be authorized to sell any and all lands owned by it for the purpose of raising money to defray the cost of the same.

The members from the new wards will vote for its adoption, and it remains to be seen what the delegates representing the wards from the old city will say on the subject at the meeting this afternoon. A lively time may be anticipated.

Brought to Terms. Friday of last week Charles H. Angers, a boy about thirteen years of age, went into a clothing store on St. Clair street, and passed a pair of pants and a pair of drawers, and called upon the clerk for them, and when the clerk told him that he had not enough for his father, or "any other man," Saturday he brought them back to have them exchanged, and Samuel offered him another pair of pants, and a pair of drawers, of an inferior quality. The boy refused to take them, when Samuel ordered him to leave the store, and if he did not go, the boy left and went to Alderman Donaldson's office, where an information was made against Samuel for cheating by fraud. He was arrested and taken to the Alderman's office, and after a hearing before the court. Having discovered that he was not the boy, he was released, and the boy was returned to the store by the officer who had arrested Samuel, when the pants were exchanged satisfactorily and the case withdrawn.

The Lecture To-night. We trust that none of our readers will forget that Mr. Henry Vincent, the eminent English orator, scholar and friend of Human Progress, will lecture to-night at the Academy of Music by invitation of a number of our most prominent citizens. The subject selected, Oliver Cromwell, should insure a great intellectual treat for all who attend. Although the arrangements for the lecture have been kindly taken charge of by the Mercantile Library Lectures Committee, that Association's services were aided by Mr. Titlow's lecture, and hence, course tickets are no longer good for admittance, so that those wishing to be present to-night should secure their tickets at the office of the Mercantile Library, at the corner of 10th and 11th streets. The price of all parts of the house is fifty cents; no reserved seats.

Slight Fire. Saturday evening, about seven o'clock an alarm was sounded from box 5, Allegheny Fire Alarm, located at the corner of Beaver avenue and Locust street, Sixth ward. The alarm was occasioned by a fire in a dwelling, which was a frame building in the vicinity, occupied by a German as a dwelling. The occupant had a hot coal from the stove rolled out upon the floor and set fire to it. It was quickly discovered, however, and extinguished before any material damage had been done. The engines were out, but their services were not required.

A Case at Last.

For some time past, as our readers are well aware, the firmness of Allegheny have been greatly annoyed and harassed by false alarms of fire. Some of these alarms would be sounded three or four times in a different section of the city. The manner and times of the alarms satisfied all in connection with the Fire Department that some persons well acquainted with the workings of the telegraph, and the most reprehensible practice, and a watch was accordingly placed upon every available watching factor to detect the perpetrators, the alarms continuing as frequent as before, Saturday night, or yesterday morning, at length furnished a clue to the matter, and witnessed the arrest of several parties for the offense.

Shortly before 10 o'clock yesterday morning Lieutenant Frank Campbell, with officers Cornelius and LaFerty, proceeded along the streets in the vicinity of Box 5, corner of Washington and North streets, seeing in a suspicious manner a man who was loitering about the place. The officers immediately stepped forward and were perceived by the man who started out. A bright flash of light was seen, and the man fled. Robbed of $500.00.

Anthony Snyder, a glass blower, came to the Mayor's office yesterday morning and stated that he had been robbed Saturday night of $500.00. He stated that he and James Johnson had been at Stupa's saloon, on Wylie street, in the early part of the evening drinking and smoking. At 10 o'clock they left and started to go home. Whilst passing out Fifth avenue, they met Wilson, a saloon keeper, the corner of the avenue and Lippincott's lane. Wilson, it appears, was acquainted with Johnson, and asked him to go up to his house, which is on Lippincott's lane, a short distance from Fifth avenue, and get a drink and a lunch before going home, and insisted upon Snyder going also. They finally consented, and went with him. After they had taken a drink or two and eaten a lunch, Snyder went to sleep, and when he awoke, which he says was about half an hour after he fell asleep, he discovered he had been robbed, and so informed Wilson. Mrs. Wilson who was in the saloon at the time, but had not seen the robbery, and after Wilson looked the doors of the saloon she ran out and called a policeman.

Two officers answered the call and arrested Wilson and Johnson and brought them to the lock up, where they still remain. Wilson and Johnson were charged with the robbery, and a search warrant was issued and the premises searched, but no money was found. The money was found on the person of either of them.

Our Daily Bread. "Give us good bread and there shall be no bloodshed, no wars, no crimes, no revolutions." So wrote a great political economist whose faith in the powers of the staff of life was great and abiding. He had called for the poisonous corn of the world, and he had called for the bread of life. He had lived in our day he should have contributed all the good bread he could to the world. He would have agreed with us, that the people should be supplied with the best of bread, and that the bread should be so rapidly turning out others out of the market, and better health, and a more contented and better hearted community. Mr. Ward is a conscientious dealer, one who frowns upon an unwholesome adulteration in bread, and who is content on popularizing his profits, rather than exporting large profits from his patronage. He is a man who is constantly on the watch for the quality of flour, and who does not obtain light appearance, or to save labor in the kneading, makes good, big, healthy loaves, upon the sea shore, it is a perfectly pure and sweet.
