Death of Siger Nisale Glambert.

The suicide of Mr. Wm. A. Blakely, of Glade township, Warren county, a few days ago, was attended with painful circumstances.

My wife and several children were present at the time of his death. He had been suffering from a long illness, and was in a very weak condition.

The following letter was found in the vest pocket of the deceased: "I have had no difficulty. God only knows what I suffer in my side and head. I can never be any better. I am almost blind, my eyes are falling very fast."

The members of the Allegheny Council assembled in caucus in the Select Council Chamber, last evening, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for City Controller.

The Ben Franklin Insurance Company.—Few life insurance companies in this country enjoy higher reputation for honor and honesty than our own local Ben Franklin, of Allegheny.

Elsewhere we publish the advertisement of the Co-Operative Life Insurance Company of Western Pennsylvania, a company of local business men.

Amusements.—OPERA HOUSE.—Mrs. Mary Gladstone appeared as "Elizabeth, Queen of England," in the Opera House last evening.

PIZZERIA.—Full houses are a nightly occurrence at the Pizzeria Theatre under the present management of William H. Hines.

Academy of Music.—As previously announced, "The Field of the Cloth of Gold" will be presented by the Academy of Music by Mr. Hess' company.

The New Bounty Act.—The bounty bill which passed Congress yesterday, which every soldier who was discharged by reason of expiration of term of service...
