Office-Seekers and Congressmen, There is a good deal of truth, well expressed, in the following extract from Mrs. Ames' Washington letter to the Independent:

If I were a man and could earn an oil belt found at Shamburg and Pleasant honest living with my hands, I should certainly do it, instead of coming to Washington in search of an office. I'd rather eat the bread of spontaneous toil though earned by sweat of brow and weariness of brain, than to grind it out as a machine in the Government employ.
Yet I see many faces to sympathize with in these lobbies—honest country faces. careworn, sickly ones, who really look as if they had the right to whatever they may have come to ask for. Of course, somebody has a right to the Government patronage; perhaps those who come after t have as good a right as anybody. But it strikes me very oddly when I hear Congressmen and their wives speaking, loftily and contemptuously, of "office seekers," as if belonging to a totally different genus from themselves. My odinion is that they are all office seekers together; the difference being only in degether; the difference being only in definity seek after. I don't knew why it is not as honorable and as modest for a man to try to get a postoffice, a consulate or a half his producing places. Sull Run is not inspection.

The latest humbug dispatch of the Cu-ban revolutionists in this city, is the story that the President has sent a special agent to Cuba to ascertain if the time has arrived for recognizing its independence. The story is false throughout. President Grant's sympathies are with the Cubans, but he has not thought of recognition or intervention, and he has expressed a decided opinion that the present revolu-tionary movement will be a failure.
