THE ORIGINAL WORDS FOR THE AIR

When like the early rose
Beauty in childhood glows
When, like a daisy,
Made bluish around the stem,
Which is the fairest gem?
Is it the laughing eye?
Is it the timid sigh?
Is it the tender touch?
Soft as the spring's harp's moan?
Not is it truth alone?
Is it a valley fair?
Is it a cottage shade?
Is it a gentle smile?
Is it a flower of the field?
Who in the song sweet
Is the dancer to the air?
Who in the dance to the air?
Who in the dance to the air?
Who in the dance to the air?
Who in the dance to the air?
Who in the dance to the air?
Who in the dance to the air?
Who in the dance to the air?

PENNSYLVANIA.

EX-SERVANT BUCKLEW has resumed the practice of law at Bloomsburg.

THE country ice-cream saloons, like the roses, are beginning to open again.

DR. J. B. CLARK, of Allegheny, lectured in Indiana last Friday on Work and Wages.

LAST Sunday a colored man in Gettysburg had his pocket picked in a Methodist church.

IT is said that millions of dollars worth of safe line the banks of the Susquehanna near Harrisburg.

THE McKean Miner claim to have the richest gem in Smithport, of any town in the State.

A young man named Henry Miller was killed last Saturday week in Bedford county, by a falling tree striking him on the head.

BEAVER is about to have a social club house. None but the most select gentlemen are to be admitted as members. The rest must content themselves with the thing.

ON Friday week five buildings in Towanda, Bradford county, were burned down. They were valued at about $10,000. There was about $4,000 insurance on them.

LAST week from Scranton a line of fire in the mountains could be seen, more than a mile long. This reckless destruction of timber in the highlands will make its effect felt in the valleys.

THE dentists of the Northern counties held a meeting in Towanda last week, at which they organized themselves in a society, whose expressed object is the elevation of the profession, and the suppression of quackery.

THE following Postoffice appointments in Pennsylvania have been made: Indian Run, Mercer county, A. Hoffman; R. Crawford, resigned; North Sewickley, Beaver county, A. M. Mecklin, vice M. A. Clow, resigned.

A fatal accident happened at the house of John Dick, one mile north of Rehoboth, on Sunday last. A boy, fifteen years old, while handling a revolver, accidentally discharged the contents into his abdomen.—Berks and Schuylkill Journal.

WE are informed that, on last Sunday, a couple of ladies were crossing the streets in Lock Haven, one Dr. Lichtenthal drove his span of horses furiously over them, killing Mrs. Anthony almost instantly and seriously injuring the other.—Williamsport Standard.

ONE of the liveliest and most energetic of our weekly exchanges in the Altoona Vindicator. It was burnt out about a year ago, and the publication by fire seems to have vastly improved its matter and appearance. The fire, however, was not, it seems, enough to burn out its deplorable ideas on politics.

THE Beaver Local says infanticide has made its unwelcome appearance in New Brighton. Last Sunday afternoon two boys in the cemetery discovered the body of an infant carefully concealed in a bundle. Medical examination determined that the age of the infant was about two months, and that it had met with violent death. Of course the parents are unknown.

ON Saturday afternoon a row took place in a beer saloon in Lancaster, in which beer glasses, bottles and pistols were freely used, and the riot spread to the neighboring streets and lasted for more than three hours, the police considered the crowd too great to make any arrests. The combatants were firemen members of the appropriately named companies, Friendship and Humane.

OHIO.

AN extensive new stove foundry has been started in New Philadelphia.

THE whisky gang in Urbana are still burning the stables of temperance men. That of S. P. Castle was destroyed in this way on the morning of the 5th inst.—Springfield Republican.

THE Tuscarawas Chronicle says: We notice no less than eight accidents in the county during the past week, from carbon oil cans, and filling lighted lamps. Several persons were fatally burned.

MR. SOLOMON MYERS, of Clay township, Monongalia county, while driving his team, on the 27th ult., met with a serious and almost fatal accident. The horses frightened, ran off and dragged him several yards, breaking his jaw and left arm, and mangled him terribly.

TWO daughters of Jeremiah Meier, of Wadsworth, Ohio, aged eighteen and twenty-one years, were buried in one grave on Tuesday of last week. They were intelligent and beautiful girls and died of consumption within twenty hours of each other.

A CORRESPONDENT to the Ravenna Democrat, writing from Deerfield, says: A short time since Adora, the daughter of Eli and Nancy A. Mehl, sucked down her windpipe a kernel of berry coffee, which lodged in the base of her right bronchial tube, and by swelling, entirely shut out the circulation of air from the right lung. The unfortunate girl died in about six weeks after swallowing the coffee. A post mortem examination was made that developed the cause of death as above stated.

WEST VIRGINIA.

[For most of our items of West Virginia news this week, we are indebted to the Morgantown Post.]

THE next meeting of the State Medical Society will be held in Clarksburg early in June.

THE Town Council of Wellsburg has refused to grant license to sell liquors of any kind.

MR. ALLEN HALL, a highly respectable citizen of Fairmont, died of apoplexy in that place week before last.

FOUR THOUSAND barrels of oil went down the Little Kanawha during the late rise. The grease is worth $5.25 per barrel at Burning Springs.

THE Wirt county Democrat records the marriage, in that county, of Mr. B. Robinson to Miss Buena Vista Laramie Bunker Hill Monumental Jacob.

MANY of our exchanges contain notices of West Virginia families returning from the West to settle permanently in their native State. This is good news.

A MRS. GARDNER and a Miss Hardman, of Lost Creek, Harrison county, were recently married on horseback, "in the big road." About thirty persons witnessed the ceremony.

LIEUT. B. F. COOPER, of Hunt town, Marion county, fell from a hay loft on Monday week, a distance of twelve feet, lighting upon his back upon a pile of rails. He will probably die from his injuries.

THE Monroe Republican says that from the 1st day of May the cars on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad will run daily to Covington, and farther West as the road shall be put in running condition. By the 1st of July they will run to the Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs.

Requirements for the Stage. Miss Olive Logan, in a letter to a New York paper, defends her recent public theatrical stage. She says: The cases you cite of successful players who still retain decency in the dramatic profession, are those of Januscheck, Ristori, Mrs. Lander and Miss Baleman. Januscheck has always played to empty benches at the Academy of Music, Ristori, as a natural result of skillful manipulation of an astute manager, drew almost as well as a circus for a few weeks, but when the furor died out, she played for the pleasure of playing, apparently, for she had to pay for the privilege. Mrs. Lander, a true artist and a lady, is, it is well known, as unprofitable a "star" as the country affords, even when backed two or three subsidiary players, whom she takes with her. Miss Baleman's success was before the advent of the yellow-haired meddles.

Besides, even if it were quite different, the person you name who has toiled for many years in this profession, and who have acquired world-wide celebrity. I referred the other night to decent young women who are not celebrities—namely, the modest girls, whose parents have left them the not very desirable heritage of the stage, and who find it difficult to obtain any other employment, being uneducated for any other. When these girls go into a theatre to apply for a situation now, they find that the requirements of managers are expressed in the following questions:

1. "Are your legs, arms and bosom symmetrically formed, and are you willing to expose them?"

2. "Can you sing brassy songs, and dance the can-can, and wink at men, and give utterance to disgusting half words which mean whole sentences?"

3. "Are you acquainted with any rich men who will throw you flowers, and send you presents, and keep aloof from rumors concerning your chastity?"

4. "Are you willing to appear to-night, and every night, and every day, and convey the moral that, if you hire a team, to not try to dispose of it on the way."

A young man named Robert Tansil was arrested and lodged in jail on charges preferred by Dr. Wilson. It appears he had been obtaining money under false representations from different parties, the Doctor among them, and hence the arrest. He will doubtless risk your twin sister, Allegheny.

Court convenes on Monday. A short session is anticipated.

The fall of the well and farmers express a hope that the fruit crop will equal any previous year.

More anon, Mac.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 18, 1899.

MEMORANDUM: Disregarding the absence of local as well as general news, I seat myself to transmit to you some items of interest relative to affairs in the ancient borough. The bitter feeling engendered between this place and Canonsburg is, I am sorry to say, on the ascendant. Why this should be, we are at a loss to determine. The citizens of Washington county in general should congratulate themselves that the college has been retained within the borders of the county. Other places offered larger inducements. Kittanning, with a population less than Washington, in a financial point of view was ahead of all other competitors. Yet money was not the object. Convenience was regarded, of paramount importance, and in a few months Washington can boast of another competitor. Yet money was not the object. Convenience was regarded, of paramount importance, and in a few months Washington can boast of another competitor.

All the right, title and interest of the great Hempfield Railroad is to be disposed of to the highest bidder. "Drop a tear, ye lovers of the great and good," this noble institution of the State, the picturesque natural caves and gorgeous display of mighty trestle work, is to pass into other hands. Alas, to bygone glory. No earthly power can save the monument of its first mortgage bonds, and that I believe is an utter impossibility. Many of our citizens favor the purchase of this line by the Baltimore and Ohio Company. Others by the Pennsylvania Company. Yet whatever company purchases, we congratulate on the immense amount of rolling stock acquired as well as for the honor of becoming the possessor of a road which never injured a passenger in a bodily point of view.

We are to have a town hall here. Proposals are out for building materials, and in a few months Washington can boast of as fine a public hall as any in the State. A proposal was made by Dr. Le Moyne offering to donate $10,000 for a public library, providing that the person, on account of race, color, creed or condition, should be excluded from the use of said library, the books to be purchased and selected by himself, and another person of his own choosing. For reasons best known to the Council this proposition was rejected, and other means must be advanced to procure a public library.

A society has been formed here which has for its object the recognition of the rights of foreigners to hold office. The Constitution sets forth that foreigners have been admitted to the nominating conventions, and since they hold the balance of power after the vote of native born citizens has been cast, they will use that power to defeat the party recognizing their claims. One candidate, a Democrat, has been announced for an important county office. If his claims are not recognized by the convention then it is proposed to bring the matter to a vote. This will give the Republicans an easy victory in Washington county, if the claims of this Society are not recognized, as many conceded with it in the Democratic good standing. Although not favorable to any organization which has for its object the controlling of any political party, we cannot help but admire the policy of our foreign neighbors, and in a second point of view we wish it success and hope that our foreign neighbors may secure a nomination in one of the two great political parties of the period.

The young man, Odenbaugh, arrested in your city some days ago, has been released by the payment of all costs, amounting to fifty dollars. This is a rather an expensive ride, and conveys the moral that, if you hire a team, to not try to dispose of it on the way.

A young man named Robert Tansil was arrested and lodged in jail on charges preferred by Dr. Wilson. It appears he had been obtaining money under false representations from different parties, the Doctor among them, and hence the arrest. He will doubtless risk your twin sister, Allegheny.

Court convenes on Monday. A short session is anticipated.

The fall of the well and farmers express a hope that the fruit crop will equal any previous year.

BROWNVILLE.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BROWNVILLE, May 15, 1899.

MEMORANDUM: Brownville is very dull. Many of the factories are closed, which throws many men out of employment. The most activity is at the boat yards of Jas. Fringle. Here are two boats in course of construction, which will be ready, in a few weeks, to take to Pittsburgh for the further touches.

Captain Smithers has just completed his boat, the "Hull," which will be found at your wharf ere this reaches you.

Samuel Thompson, Esq., has the foundation of a large distillery built in West Brownsville. This distillery will be one of the most substantial in Pennsylvania.

The post office has changed hands. Mr. Bulger having received his documents from the powers that be, and has assumed the position, taking his son Lucie in the office to assist, and we are sure satisfaction will be given to all having business at the office.

The Agricultural, Floral, Mechanical and Driving Park Association, has been formed with A. E. Gable as President, and John S. Cunningham as Secretary.

The object of the Association is to have exhibitions annually, such as are usually given at county fairs.

A splendid half-mile race course is now in good order for those desiring to test the merits of their horses. The exhibition will be given on the grounds of the association in July.

Hottel & Company, (late of your Opera House), opened at the Hotel, Tuesday evening, with the kind permission of Messrs. Pittcock and Ross, they having been engaged to play the opera.

They have done well and will remain the balance of the week. The company consists of Hottel and wife, H. E. Vandenberg, Miss F. C. Moore, W. A. Dougherty, H. Rogers and others. They open at Uniontown on Monday, 17th inst. Hottel had the misfortune to lose many valuable at the recent fire in McKeesport.

A public exhibition of velocipedes, trikes and a motor car, on the light of the "Bennett" steamboat by Mr. Hendrickson, of your city, the exhibition, from 10 to 12 o'clock, as the boat came down, attracted much attention.
