THE re-nomination by acclamation of Maj. J. H. SET TON, as County Treasurer, was a merited tribute to a worthy and efficient officer and soldier.

THE nomination of Mr. Thomas H. HUNTER for Recorder, was well made. He served with credit in the army, and accountant in the Allegheny. Bank.

MR. THOMAS HOWARD, for the Senate, is a nomination which meets with the hearty approval and endorsement of all Republicans. He is an able lawyer and an honest, upright gentleman, who will reflect, in the State Assembly, large credit to his constituents.

MR. HELANDS. Clerk of the Orphans' Court, and Mr, GRAY, Register, were both complimented with renomination yesterday. They have discharged their duties well and faithfully and were entitled to the mark of favor and appreciation shown them.

MR. H. S. FLENING, the Republican candidate for Sheriff, is a great addition to the ticket. He is everywhere known and respected throughout the county, and practical business experience that will ensure the proper discharge of its duties.

THE distribution of the candidates for the Legislature was well made yesterday by the Legislative Convention. Messrs. WALTON and WHITE represent Allegheny or the North side, Mr. HUMPHREYS the South wide, Mr. MILLAR the rural districts and Mesers. TAYLOR and KERR the city.

The delegates from this county to the tate Gubernatorial Convention which meets at Philadelphia on the 29th inst. were instructed by the Judicial Convention selecting them to support JOHN W. GEARY for a second term of office. There was no mista ting the tone of the Convention in fame of that gentlemen.

Mr. CHAUSCY B. BOSTWICK, who defeeted Mr. JOSEPH DILWORTH for County Commissioner, yesterday, does not procounty, but, having no broad axe to grind while in it, will so conduct its affected as to merit the approval of all good duzens. He is not rich enough to forfeit the misry, yet is too righ to be dis-

THE Commercial will hardly bolt, as threatened, from the ticket nominated yesterday, as it developed its true strength in the several conventions, not gaining a single point. A powerful lesson was taught its conductors, and we shall not be much surprised if they do not take in sail and shout as loud as the loudest for the their lost influence, which never was worth speaking about, but we hardly fact that A. The delegates seemed deeply impressed with the importance of selecting the very best material offered and used the utmost care and caution in framing the ticket. Indeed, the candidates presented for nomination were and approved the resolution, voting with generally of a much higher order than the majority for its adoption. They handusual, and a yery bad or injudicious selection from smong them would have been difficult to make. We are prepared to lend cordial and hearty support to every gentleman on the ticket, thinking each to eminently merit the suffrages of all Republicans, and to be amply well qualified for the proper discharge of the duties of the position for which nominated. The resolutions adopted we believe fully embody the sentiments entertained by every good citizen in the county, and form a platform on which the party can safely rest in the opening.

RESOLUTION—AND WHAT CAME OF IT.

In two of the three Conventions yesterday, a resolution was regillarly reported from the Joint Committee on Resolutions, which had been sanctioned by a majority of that Committee, and which, as adopted by the County Convention, is numbered the twelfth in the series. The tenor of this resolution expresses, in behalf of our Republican fellow-citizens, their approval of one of the soundest principles of law, common to all Engligh-speaking people, to wit: that no man accused of misconduct shall be held to be guilty without adequate proof. In effect this resolution acquits certain citizens, who have held office at the hands of our people, of the wild, vague, sweeping imputations, altogether unsupported by proof, which have of late been presented by an unscrupulous journal of this city. has the ability to make a good and reliable But nevertheless, the equity and manly officer. He is at present an appreciated candor of this express relieration, of a legal principle which senting approval of civilization for many centuries, must, no matter when and how it presently applies, commends itself to enlightened and just men, and to all men who like fair play. If, incidentally, the resolution were also a condemnation of unjustifiable assaults not only upon personal reputations, but, as well, upon the intelligence and integrity of the entire Republican party of this county, that was not the fault of the clear principle which it enunciated; the pinch would be rather with the slanderous malignity which has stumbled under its application. The principle is right, hit whom it may, and, very obviously, only they will complain whom it hits. The resolution presents a simple truism; it names no names, it embodies no specifications, it neither assails nor defends any person or party, in its literal terms. will bring with him into the office a large Not a delegate in either of those Conventions could deny its abstract justice.

The County Convention adopted tha resolution with a ringing and unanimous aye; the Judicial Convention omitted it from the series, adopting all the not permitted to take any vote upon it he thinks. The second Convention declined to endorse it by a feeble without exception, they gracefully acceptvote, at the close of a long and in- ed the situation and acknowledging the teresting discussion of which we give a will of the majority, unhesitatingly enfaithful report, showing which of the delegates actively opposed this fair and temperate expression of Republican sentiment-and why. It will be seen that District Attorney Carnahan,—the only dying bequest of Andrew Johnson in whom the Republicans of Western Pennpose to run the office free of cost to the sylvania may still behold reflected the ministration,-recognized the fitness with which the terms of the resolution might be applicable to his always favorite newspaper in this city, and hastened at once to its defence, with the same alacrity which has ever marked his friendship, as well as with the peculiar adroitness which his professional experience and the criminal law has often made serviceable to an endangered client. On this point, we have no regrets to express:

gentleman, as to state that the resolution soldier who was nominated for Clerk of has written by the editor of the Gazetts, the Courts, yesterday, over an equally tion due their services.

We leave the application of the maxim, o his juridical mind, and to the opinion of The third Convention were not permitted to take any action upon the reso lution. Its sub-committee, of three members appointed to join similar committees from the other bodies, to constitute a Harrisburg. Joint Committee on Resolutions for all, consisted of Messrs. Thomas Steel, John E. Parke and James A. Taylor. The wo latter attended the joint meeting thefr ed the joint report to sud-chairman, Mr. Steel, who read it attentively and said to them that he did not like to report it, adding some considerations upon party policy as he understood it. Judge PARKE and Mr. TAYLOR remonstrated with him, dwelling upon the fact that the whole series was adopted by the authorized Committee, that they individually supported this resolution, and that he had no option but to submit it to the Convention. Mr. STREL, nevertheless, saw fit to take upon himself the right of revising the work of a Committee which he had not found it worth his while to attend, overriding the important political canvass about judgment and instructions of his two of forty votes over Capt. G. S. Barker, colleagues, either one of whom is quite his equal in personal privilege, intelligence, probity and the public respect, and smothered the resolution by putting it in his pocket and keeping it there. Evidently, he felt that he could not trust the judgment of the Convention, any more than of his colleagues, upon the plain maxim of justice, and the vindication of Republican integrity which the resolution embodies. He submitted the other resolutions, wholly suppressing this, which, for reasons, did not meet his approbation. His colleagues had no suitable opporunity for presenting it afterwards, and t remained, smothered by Mr. STEELY. They were indignant at his treatment of them personally and of the trust confided to him and them by the Convention. to offer the resolutions with a full statement of these facts; but it was then too late, the Convention almost at the same moment adjourning. Nor is this all of a needful expanation. Mr. Streele was a delegate by the Secretaries as follows:

from the Second ward. He was avowedly friendly to a particular candidate for the Senate. That resolution would have done to his triend but a simple justice. Before the Convention closed, he was made aware that its suppression was regarded as among other things an intentional betrayal of that friend. And he was left wholly without even the shadow of a defence against this exposure, the facts of which are stated upon authority. Mr. STEELE has thus made a grave mistake. He has assumed quite too much of authority, with his equals on the Committee, and with the Convention which gave to him no such powers. They will know how much to confide to him hereafter. And so will the candidate who trusted fatally to his friendship. Did it require that abuse of a high trust, or that betrayal of a friend, to feed fat his ancient grudge against another? POLITICS are necessarily cruel. Many disappointments are in store for those who enter the arena, and the adept in the science acquires, as his first and most useful lesson, the art of receiving defeat philosophically and with good humor. Yesrest, and the Legislative Convention were terday before the Conventions assembled there were many gentlemen who entered whatever. COLLIER for Judicial seats by the Convention yesterday, is universally received with favor principles of the late Federal Ad- by Republicans. These gentlemen are eminent in the legal profession, and besides are citizens who combine all the elements of character to make them popular with the masses. On this branch of our ticket, as much; as any other, we have strength in the men, as well as in the principles to which they are so devotedly attached. THE County ticket is one of the strongest ever put forward for the suffrages of the people in this county. There is not a bad or weak name upon it. With such we can only confess our surprise that a Republican Convention in Allegheny material in the field bolting will provedecounty should have allowed itself to be belicket to day. THAT "Wonderful Physical Medium," named Read, who has been giving seances in Springfield and other places, going through remarkable performances with ropes, etc., wasn't sharp enough to deceive the Yankees in Connecticut. Several citizens of Waterbury who went to his exhibition put some printer's ink upon the ropes, and afterwards discovered that it had been rubbed off on Read's hands. It had been noticed that Read always called for a coat from one of the Committee, prior to placing the same on his arm through one sleeve. Mr. Merriam took off his coat and placed it on the chair beside the "medium." again turned down. Had the sudience had the power of seeing in darkness they would have witnessed the following actions. Immediately on the room being darkened Mr. Huxley with his cloth slip-pers started for the platform; Mr. Munson rose, turned on the gas over his head and stood ready with sandpaper and match, while the two remaining members of the detective force shuffled their feet over the loor to drown any contraband noises. A moment after a voice called "Light," the gas flashed over Munson's head, the "committee" sprang upon the platform, and there was the "Wonderful Physical Medium" with the coat on his arm trying to work his hand back into the rope. As soon as he called for light Huxley seized him by the arm, and although he cried at the top of his voice "No light! no light!" and worked with the energy of despera-tion to get his hand through the rope, he was overpowered and held in statu quo. He had succeeded in inserting his fingers in the rope, but his thumb and hand were still outside. The result was Read's arrest and incarceration in the lock-up, to answer the charge of swindling and obtaining money under false pretences.

ANCES.

There are certain phases of disease, and cer-tain diseased conditions of the human system, which proceed from displacement and mal-position of some of the various organs of the human body. These are not remediable by the usual and ordinary methods used for the cure of other allments; but require some mechanical stay or support to maintain the parts in position until hey are healed, Prominent among these may be classed a displacement called hernia, or rupture, which is a protrusion of part of the bowel, and which must be returned and kept to its place by some outward support which should be properly adjusted in order to secure immunity from nconvenience and danger. The prevalence of his condition is now very common and should be attended to, immediately on its appearance, not only because of the present inconvenience which its produces, but also in consequence of the usual danger of strangulation which is rarely remedied but by a surgical operation.

Varicose veins in the legs and varicoccle are other forms of structural changes which needs imediate and scientific outward support, in orler to afford relief or effect a cure. Each of these conditions are now as much within the pale of successful treatment as any of the other diseases to which mankind are liable. Stooped shoulders may be cured at once by the use of my Shoulder Braces, which not only maintain the body in an erect position, but at the same time enlarge its capacity, and allow free and full expansion to the lungs, always a necessary ondition to a healthy and perfect use of the pulmonary organs. There are hundreds of females who would find great benefit from wearing these shoulder brices as they are so constructed as to take all the drag-ging weight from the back or spine and suspend he clothing from the shoulders. Those who use my shoulder braces need not wear suspenders, as hey answer the double purpose of shoulder brace and suspenders: in fact they are the best suspendersever invented. THE VITAL STATISTICS OF THE UNITED STATES show that periodical fevers and acute and chronic disorders of the sto nach and bowels are among the most prominent and fatal diseases in this country. Disobedience to the laws of health, as and the wear and tear of business excitement, and of "fast life" generally have much to do with the prevalence of these maladies in our cities; while in the West, and especially in the newly pened districts, they are chiefly due to malaria. anwholesome water, and the exposure and privation incident to life in new settlements.

Now, IT IS A FACT that that it is as possible to protect the human system against these maladles as to guard life and property against the incuras to guard life and property against the incuraions of assassins and objects. Strengthen the
