THE COURTS.

District Court—Judge Kirkpatrick.—Wednesday, June 2.—In the case of Ewing vs. Thompson, administrator of D. Morgan, action of trespass on the case, Judgment of non-suit was entered with leave to plaintiff to move the court in bank to take off the non-suit.

Strategic Festivity.—Joshua Strang, a colored youth, was in a festive mood last Sunday evening, and in the course of his meanderings entered the African Church on Boyle street, Allegheny. The occasion, time and place should have been sufficient to tone Joshua's hilarity down to, at least, a moderate cheerfulness, but such seems not to have been the case. One inside, his first objective point was the chandelier in the vestibule, at which he also he could kick him with his foot—what else he could kick him with we do not know—but such is the allegation in an information for assault and battery preferred by Agidians against Frank, before Alderman Taylor yesterday. A warrant was issued.

Correction.—In our report of the proceedings of the Judicial Convention, we inadvertently stated Mr. R. H. Davis, of Kibuck, opposed the resolution instructing the delegates chosen to the State Convention to vote for Gen. Geary for Governor. Mr. Davis did not oppose the resolution, but spoke in favor of it, and says in a note to us that he is "decidedly in favor of the re-nomination of Gen. Geary." We cheerfully comply with his request to place him right on the record.

Officer Assaulted.—Officer Dougherty, of Alderman Lynch's police, made information before Justice Hesel, charging James Anderson with assault and battery. Anderson was arrested and committed on both charges for trial.

Further Litigation.—John Frounholz, a saloon keeper in Lawrenceville, made information before Alderman McMasters yesterday, against R. Elliott, William F. McKenize, F. M. Gardner, and John Smith, all members of the Mayor's police, for aggravated assault and battery. The suit arises out of an information made before the Mayor against Frounholz for selling liquor on Sunday, which resulted in an assault and battery on Elliott, Gardner, and Smith. This attack information for aggravated assault was made before the Mayor, and it is alleged that while being arrested on this charge the offense here stated was committed. Warrants were issued.

This number of the Journal is accompanied by eight pages of illustrations, containing sixteen illustrations of scenes in and about New York. They are executed by a very superior artist, and are better than we usually find in illustrated journals. One of the literary features of this number is the beginning of a series of papers, called "Seven Stridings with Powers, the Scintillator," by the Rev. Dr. H. W. Bellows.

A Family Breeze.—Henry Bratch, according to the statement of his spouse, must be anything but a loving companion. The lady alleges that he beat and cruelly abused her every day for years. For some time, for other day he was arrested and fined $25 by Mayor Brush. She managed to appear, however, before Alderman McMasters, yesterday morning, and lodged information against him for aggravated assault and battery and surety of the peace. Bratch keeps a hotel on Water street. Warrant issued.

Highway Robbery.—Thomas Carr and Thomas Clarkson, while staggering along the streets of Lawrenceville, Tuesday night, considerably under the influence of liquor, were attacked and robbed by about two persons. The robbers, after getting the money, fled and left their victims to pursue their way home. Shortly after the occurrence, the effects of the whiskey which they were under the influence of, were apparent upon them. They met Mr. Wesley Kern, a young man of respectability, who they at once decided was one of the parties who had participated in the robbery, whereupon they attacked and beat him shamefully. Kern made information against them for assault and battery before Justice Kerr, and yesterday they were committed to jail in default of bail for their appearance at Court.

The Concert To-night.—We have before us the programme of Mr. Tuteaux's concert which is to take place to-night in Liberty Hall, in East Liberty. The selections, including four pieces of Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata," reflect credit on Mr. Tuteaux, and on the public for whom the tone, and, as to the singers, we need only mention that they are to be done by the programme. The sopranos are Mrs. Mellor and Mrs. Stewart, Miss McKenize, Miss Porter, Miss Neumann; contralto, Miss Riehnart; the tenor, Mr. Zimmermann; the bass, Messrs. Broad, Riehnart and Riehnart. We hope to see a stir in musical circles, and are sure that the weather helping, our Pittsburgh amateurs will have an opportunity of showing house.

THE COURTS.

District Court—Judge Kirkpatrick.—Wednesday, June 2.—In the case of Ewing vs. Thompson, administrator of D. Morgan, action of trespass on the case, Judgment of non-suit was entered with leave to plaintiff to move the court in bank to take off the non-suit.

Common Pleas—Full Bench.—Wednesday, June 2.—The argument last was taken up in the Common Pleas Court Monday and is still occupying the attention of the Court. No business of public importance was transacted.

Strategic Festivity.—Joshua Strang, a colored youth, was in a festive mood last Sunday evening, and in the course of his meanderings entered the African Church on Boyle street, Allegheny. The occasion, time and place should have been sufficient to tone Joshua's hilarity down to, at least, a moderate cheerfulness, but such seems not to have been the case. One inside, his first objective point was the chandelier in the vestibule, at which he also he could kick him with his foot—what else he could kick him with we do not know—but such is the allegation in an information for assault and battery preferred by Agidians against Frank, before Alderman Taylor yesterday. A warrant was issued.

Correction.—In our report of the proceedings of the Judicial Convention, we inadvertently stated Mr. R. H. Davis, of Kibuck, opposed the resolution instructing the delegates chosen to the State Convention to vote for Gen. Geary for Governor. Mr. Davis did not oppose the resolution, but spoke in favor of it, and says in a note to us that he is "decidedly in favor of the re-nomination of Gen. Geary." We cheerfully comply with his request to place him right on the record.

Officer Assaulted.—Officer Dougherty, of Alderman Lynch's police, made information before Justice Hesel, charging James Anderson with assault and battery. The officer alleges that he, by a warrant for the arrest of Anderson for forcible entry and detainer. In pursuit of this duty, he alleges, he called at the house and attempted to secure a man, who, however, refused to go, and shoved him out of the house. Anderson was arrested and committed on both charges for trial.

Further Litigation.—John Frounholz, a saloon keeper in Lawrenceville, made information before Alderman McMasters yesterday, against R. Elliott, William F. McKenize, F. M. Gardner, and John Smith, all members of the Mayor's police, for aggravated assault and battery. The suit arises out of an information made before the Mayor against Frounholz for selling liquor on Sunday, which resulted in an assault and battery on Elliott, Gardner, and Smith. This attack information for aggravated assault was made before the Mayor, and it is alleged that while being arrested on this charge the offense here stated was committed. Warrants were issued.

In Number Eleven of Appleton's Journal, just issued, is commenced a new story by Mr. Oliphant, called "The Three Days of a Man." It is a story of a man who purchased of the English publishers. Mrs. Oliphant is among the best of the English novelists, and is opening a new chapter in the history of a story of exceeding interest. This number of the Journal is accompanied by eight pages of illustrations, containing sixteen illustrations of scenes in and about New York. They are executed by a very superior artist, and are better than we usually find in illustrated journals. One of the literary features of this number is the beginning of a series of papers, called "Seven Stridings with Powers, the Scintillator," by the Rev. Dr. H. W. Bellows.
