WHERE'S MY BABY! Where's my baby? where's my baby? But a little while ago, I may arm I held one fondly. And a robe of length-ted flow Covered little knees of dimpled. And each pink and chubby toe.

Where's my baby? I remember Now about the shoes so red. Perping from his shortened dresses, And the beight curls on his head: Of the little teeth so pearly. And the first sweet words he said. Where's my baby? in the dooryard
Is a boy with shingled nair.
Whitiling as he tries to whistle,
With a big boy's manly air.
With his pants within his boot-tops,
But my baby is not there.

Where's my baby! Ask that urchin, let me bear what he will say:
Where's your baby, ma'' he questioned,
With a roguish look and way:
Guess he's grown to be a boy, n. w,
Big enough to work and play.''

Where's my baby? where's my baby?
Ah! the years fly on apace!
Yesterday I held and kissed it.
In its loveliness and grace;
But, to-morrow, sturdy manhood
Takes the little baby's place.

Hunter has discovered what experienced California miners pronounce the genuine quartz rock, specimens of which can be seen at this office. Mr. Hunter has no interest whatever in the lands on which this quartz has been discovered, and is a gen tleman whose word is as good as his bond among his acquaintances. Since publishing the above, we learn that the lead is being followed up, and its value will soon be known. On Wednesday last, Mrs. Thomas Foster, of West Chester, observed her cat acting very singularly, such as jumping around, biting at different things and looking very wild. At length she observed it bite another cat and kitten. She drove it into the cellar, and a gentleman going down to look at it, it gathered itself up as though about to spring upon him; he hurried out of its way. A son of Mrs. Foster then went into the cellar and shot it. The cats that were bitten were also shot.

YESTERDAY Thomas Cunningham, who is the conductor of the local passenger train which runs between this city and Harrisburg, was addressed by a man who stated that two years ago he and his wife passed over the Pennsylvania Railroad between Elizabethtown and Mount Joy without paying their fare. He inquired the price of a single ticket between these two points, and on being informed that it was twenty five cents, handed Mr. Cunningham fifty cents. This is a remarksble case of conscience. - Lancaster Express, May 26.
