THE PENDULUM. Swing on, old pendulum of the world, Forer and forer of the world...

PENNSYLVANIA. The Phygia season has begun in Easton, and those fish are selling very cheap.

WESTMINSTER College, at New Wilmington, Lawrence county, will hold its commencement June 24th.

On the 21st inst., the citizens of Lewisburg are to celebrate the formal opening of the railroad to that place.

SHAMON objects to having her dogs poisoned, and offers $800 reward for the arrest of persons engaged in that work.

IRON ore has been found on the farm of Henry Lepp, in New Britain, Bucks county, and the mines are being quite successfully operated at present.

On Sunday last the rite of confirmation was administered, in the Catholic church in Chester, to three hundred and thirteen persons, thirteen of whom were converts from other denominations.

The Stroudsburg Jeffersonian urges the clergy and people of that place to unite in a grand union meeting on the coming Fourth of July, to pray and praise and preach all together in the woods.

A DISASTEROUS fire occurred at Lock Haven, on Tuesday morning of last week. The pattern and machine shops, with their contents, of Harvey, Ricker & Fredericks, were destroyed, involving a loss of $50,000; insurance $25,000.

In Williamsport, Wednesday night, a brewery belonging to M. B. Weaver, and a small dwelling, together with a German printing office, from which the National Democrat is issued, were destroyed by fire. Weaver's property was insured.

The Scranton Republican, in speaking of a valuable Scotch terrier, which went mad and was shot in that city recently, remarks possibly:

No dog to be run to hares, How a lever my saddest express? Healed his brain and still is his tale.

The Greenville Argus says: Three hundred and two cars of the Pennsylvania and Allegheny Valley line, loaded with crude oil, passed over the road from Franklin, bound for Philadelphia, on the fifth instant. Twenty-four thousand one hundred and sixty barrels were thus exported.

PERCY county was visited by a terrific rain storm on Friday evening last. The rain lasted about forty-five minutes, and the damage done to mill dams, bridges, growing crops, &c., is very heavy. Nearly all the bridges on the Juniata and Buffalo creeks were washed away, as well as several mill dams. The aqueduct at Newport is badly damaged. Part of the town of Bloomfield was submerged.

On Monday evening of last week portions of Fulton county were visited with the most severe hailstorm ever known in that region. The wheat and corn crops in portions of Todd and Taylor townships were entirely ruined, a steam saw mill and several barns were blown down, and three horses killed by falling timber, and much destruction done to fences, window glass, &c. Hall fell to the depth of 3 1/2 inches.

The Delaware County Republican says: On Saturday afternoon last, about three o'clock, a shower of shells, accompanied by large drops of rain, fell in this vicinity. For an hour previous to the storm, a heavy black cloud appeared in the west, which spread rapidly in all directions, betokening a thunder-storm of unusual violence. At half-past two o'clock a high wind prevailed, which subsided as the rain commenced to fall in large drops, accompanied by what we, and others in this office, supposed to be hail, but which proved, on examination, to be small shells resembling the shell-fish, known as the round clam. We have a number of these shells now in our possession.

WEST VIRGINIA. There are six hundred and two post-offices in West Virginia.

The first velocipede has arrived at Clarksburg, and created almost as much sensation as the small-fox.

MR. ROBERT AUSTIN, a farmer living four miles from Morgantown, turned up with his plow and killed the other day, twenty-eight copper heads. They were serpents, not men.

SMALL-FOX is so bad in Clarksburg that at the recent session of the Circuit Court of Harrison county a grand jury was summoned, as the judge respected the fears of the citizens of the county.

The dwelling of Mr. George Ritchie in Webster township, Marshall county, was struck by lightning during the storm on Wednesday night. Mr. Ritchie was severely stunned and the house considerably injured.

CONRAD CRENS, living near Wilsonburg, came to his death under the following circumstances. He was engaged in grubbing with a mattock, when the implement caught in a dogwood root, and suddenly detaching itself, sprang up and struck him on the forehead, from the effects of which he died a few days afterwards.

The Charleston Journal says: On Monday morning last Mr. Eliza Evans, son, a little boy about eight years old, while playing in Messrs. Bibby & Co.'s mill, was accidentally caught by the belt that runs the corn sheller and was most terribly mangled. The shaft that runs the sheller makes about 35 revolutions to the minute, and it is supposed that the boy was fast about twenty minutes before his situation was made known to the engineer, which would have caused the little fellow to have passed around the drum near seven hundred times. His right leg is broken, the right side of the head is all fractured and his whole right side is terribly bruised.

CLIPPINGS.

The Wheat crop in the Sciota Valley never looked more promising than it does at this time. The same is reported for the whole of Southern Ohio.

MR. A. B. BUTTLER, of Columbus, has planted, this season, twelve acres of Early Rose Potatoes—which we believe is the most extensive experiment with this early wonder in Southern or Central Ohio.

BRAN for horses is an excellent antidote to the constipating effects of cornmeal. Horses fed through the winter upon fine feed, are liable to sickness in the spring. This is avoided by feeding bran with meal, and it loosens the bowels.

TO DESTROY cut-worms, you must find them first. Lay elder branches among the growing corn, and the worms will draw under them. The hoe has sometimes uncovered fifty worms under a single branch, while the corn is set alone—try it!

SWEET POTATO.—The N. O. Picayune says that the sweet potato improves the soil for less than grain crops, and is produced in far greater abundance. It yields from 15,000 to 20,000 pounds to the acre, while corn yields only from 1,000 to 1,200 pounds.

THE annual report for 1868, of the Ohio Dairyman's Association reports 72 cheese factories, of which twenty are in Geauga county, eight in Portage, five in Trumbull, seven in Ashland, four in Trumbull, one in Henry, one in Fulton, seven in Lorain, two in Ashland, three in Huron, five in Medina, two in Cuyahoga and seven in Summit. Of this number forty are represented as being on the Reserve.

THE famous Israel Putnam adventure was paralleled in Irving, Kansas, recently. James Cooley's folks were hunting and depreeding wolves, and running the earth, Cooley's little son descended into the den, his father holding him by the heels, caught the wolf by the hind feet, and both were drawn out together. Just as modern meddlers have declared the Putnam story a fable, we don't expect any belief in this.

MARASMIUS IN AUSTRALIA.—According to the Medical and Surgical Reporter, the peculiar disease among the natives of Australia, of which the Moravian missionaries speak, and which "makes cripples of not a few blacks," which makes them "raise their legs high in walking, as if they were in a hurry to get forward, but were prevented by some one holding them back, and they stumble over the slightest obstacle," is a peculiar marasmus, which causes a general withdrawing of the muscles until the patient becomes a living skeleton. Meanwhile the appetite continues, and a remarkable degree of strength is retained. The disease is said to be contagious.

THE wheat crop in Tennessee never in any previous season, presented so fine an appearance. At an earlier period in the growth of this year's crop that cereal gave promise of being more than usually abundant, but since the development of the "head" the old and experienced farmers from all parts of the State say that the yield per acre will be a long way under the average. The heads, as a general thing, are stumpy; or else, where they are long, they hang out towards the stem, and are shriveled and slender towards the top—an invariable indication, they say, of a poor yield. Yet, in consequence of the great breadth of the harvest, the State may be reasonably expected to turn out a good supply.

THE PACIFIC RAILROAD, at present, only runs to Sacramento, and the traveler either takes the cars on the California Pacific Railroad to Yallico, and thence by steambot to San Francisco, or goes by steambot over the entire water route from Sacramento. The Western Pacific Railroad, from Sacramento to Oakland on the side of San Francisco bay opposite the city, it is stated, however, will be completed by next August.

This road is now graded as far as Stockton, and the rails are laid for thirty miles. The railway competition, it is asserted, will not interfere with the present water route of one hundred and twenty-five miles by way of the Sacramento river, as the Steamboat Company are building new boats of sufficient speed to make the trip in from four and a half to five hours. A separate section of the Western Pacific Railroad, twenty miles long, from San Jose to Alameda Canon, was completed in 1866, and accepted by the United States Government, but the work on the remaining 100 miles was suspended. Now, however, as has been stated, the construction of the road has been actively resumed. Near Livermore Pass, however, some very heavy work will be required. A tunnel one and a half miles long, has been driven 331 feet at each end, leaving 600 feet yet to be cut. The rock is soft crumbling slate, which at once requires timber supports. There are also cut 42 feet deep and 1400 feet long through sandstone rock, and requiring a force of over 200 men. 2000 men, 1000 of whom are Chinese, are employed on the tunnel. They are paid the following rates of wages in gold: Tunnel men, $40 a month; graders, $35, and Chinese, $32.

THE COUNCIL OF THIRTEEN CENSORS, which is elected every seven years, in Vermont, has just been in session. The duty of this body is to inquire whether the Constitution has been preserved inviolate, whether the Executive and the Legislative branches of the Government have performed their duty as guardians of the people, or have exceeded the limits of their jurisdiction; whether the public taxes have been justly laid and collected, and in what manner the public moneys have been disposed of; and whether the laws have been duly executed. The Censors have power to send for persons, papers and records, have authority to pass public censures, to order impeachments, to recommend the repeal of unconstitutional laws, and to call a convention, to meet within two years, to amend the Constitution.

In pursuance of the constitutional regulations, this body met on June 23 (the first Wednesday), were in session for two days, and adjourned until July 27th. Committees were appointed to report on the resolutions, and the number, submitted to the Censors. Among the alterations in the Constitution proposed were amendments extending the term of the Legislature, and for extending the term of service of State officers from one to two years. Resolutions were also adopted directing inquiries whether the usury laws and the laws relating to the sale of intoxicating beverages had been violated.

Quips and Franks.

Is not a manager, like "any other man," known by the company he keeps? Alabama is importing Chinese laborers. Prentice thinks they might succeed in cultivating pigtail tobacco.

Money makes the mare go. It has cost $2300 to make the Mayor of Cork go.—Judy.

The Tomahawk call the French Suez canal the unkindest "cut" of all. Crucially to animals goes by the name of Berghly in New York.

Prentice's practical philosophy teaches that "if a man begins a conversation by saying 'you know how frank I am,' knock him down without waiting for him to get a word further."

The Leader asks, can Patti's refusal to settle her husband's bills from her income be termed "income-fault-ibility of temper?"

While the waiters are on a strike, couldn't the hotel proprietors secure a few "side waiters"—N. Y. Leader.

Pay.—Patient waiters are said to be no losers. How to get a country seat cheap—take a chair into the suburbs and sit down.

Geographical information.—The White Sulphur Springs of Virginia during the summer will empty into Blaque Bay.—N. O. Times.

Counter attractions.—handsome young clerk. If a dentist and a chiropodist should engage in an altercation, could they be said to be "at it tooth and nail?" Hue and cry.—the blondes and the talk about them.—Telegram.

The Spanish authorities persist in saying that the Cuba revolution is all over. It is still all over Cuba.—N. Y. Times.

Her-Majesty's customs.—to spend as little time as possible in London.—Tomahawk.

Just the pudding for cricketers—a better.—Judy.

How the Japanese Use Paper. The Japanese use paper for a great variety of purposes. A recent traveler states that he saw it made into materials so closely resembling Russian and Moroccan leather and pig skin, that it was very difficult to detect the difference.

With the aid of peculiarly prepared and stiff painting, paper made excellent trunks, tobacco bags, cigar cases, saddles, telegraph cases, the frames of microscopes, and an endless number of useful articles. Water-proof coats, made of simple paper, which did keep out the rain, and were as supple as the best India rubber. The Japanese use paper for many of their articles of furniture. Their paper, being nothing more than painted screens, their windows are covered with a fine, translucent description of the same material. It is used for the manufacture of nearly everything in the household; and he saw what seemed to be balls of twine, but which were nothing but sheets of tough paper rolled up. If a shopkeeper had a parcel to tie up, he would take a strip of paper, roll it quickly between his hands, and use it for the purpose; and it was quite as strong as the ordinary paper.

In short, without paper, all Japan would come to a dead lock; and, indeed, lest by the arbitrary exercise of his authority, a tyrannical ruler should stop his wife's paper, the sage Japanese mothers-in-law invariably stipulate in the marriage settlement that the bride is to have allowed to her a certain quantity of paper.—Boston Journal of Chemistry.

An Aristocratic Johnny Steele. The walls of Paris are at this moment covered with bills announcing the sale of the picture of a young man belonging to Count Koucheloff Besbrodoko. It is said to be the last remnant left—and it belongs to creditors—of the magnificent estate of the late Count Besbrodoko, who died nine years ago. It then was valued at $1,250,000 in gold. He traveled through the East, Southern and Western Europe in great style. There was no whim he refused to gratify. He chartered a steamship to convey him from one part to another. He had special railway trains for his party. He gave princely entertainments to his friends. He was in Paris for a number of years. He had a numerous retinue. It was his sister who married Mr. Douglas Hume, the medium. It was he who carried Alex. Craig to Russia. Nine years ago he was master of $200,000. He was not a miser. It was not enough for him. He could not live on less than $1,200,000 a year—his expenses several years ago said to have exceeded the amount of money—and now nothing remains of all that wealth but debt.

The Sprague-Craig case produced a literature in Chicago, which we fear the Western Monthly could not of itself create. The following—the first from the Tribune and the second from the Evening Journal—are specimens.

TO AMANDA. Amanda Craig, that gushing girl, Since she has won, from poor old Sprague, A husband for many's sakes.

TO ELIZA. Eliza Sprague, ewe had old eg, Who had her heart to Mandy Craig, Jew turned her back to Mandy Craig, Nor weakness of the eye.

And the Chicago Post has received, it tells us, advance sheets of a new dictionary of the English language, by Elias C. Sprague, of which the following are extracts:

ARISPIACE, a diocese of the kuffical and Bohemian, cozzing into the states of BREECHES, of promise, a De Viss of the deavny to chet a-Man out of his own munny.

GUY, a Lat. liltet Iggo ram to help the A fozseded dreg to help the A fozseded dreg to help the A fozseded dreg.

KAT, a Anima which gits out of the hure sun Times.

SWELLING, a Komplant of the lpe Also of lawyers head.

WIMBLY, a Said investment, especially small marble.

A WASHINGTON dispatch quotes Secretary Fish as saying: The idea of Cuban annexation is unwise; in his view no considerable portion of our people favor it; the Cubans are greatly divided in opinion; but the majority of those engaged in the annexation appear to want an island republic. He added that under the circumstances the course of Fern and Chilli in recognizing the Cubans as belligerents was an open act of hostility to Spain.

DR. WHITTIER CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, all completely eradicated; Gonorrhoea, or "Sores," self-cure, and Impotency, resulting from any of the above causes, and which produce weakness, indigestion, consumption, and other long standing constitutional complaints, as to impotency, the doctor's system is so successful, that he has cured many who have been declared incurable by other physicians. Particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhoea, or Whites, Falling, Inflammation of Uterus, or "Womb," Ovaritis, Menstrual Disorders, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success. It is so evident that a physician who continues himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of disease and treats thousands of cases every year, must acquire greater skill than that specialty that is in general practice. The doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of any pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free of office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every prescription contains instructions to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaint. The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained, giving a full statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. For some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in the treatment of the venereal diseases, the doctor for the accommodation of such patients, has provided with every requisite that is calculated to give relief and comfort. All prescriptions are prepared in the most judicious manner, and the doctor is personally present, and in all cases, the patient is attended, read what he says. Hours, 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.
