CATTLE.

For some weeks past there has been so little difference in prices that it was almost impossible to tell whether there was any change at all. This week, however, there is no difficulty in that reever, there is no unficulty in that re-spect, as prices are fully half a cent lower and even at this reduction the market is dull, with a supply considera-bly in excess of the demand. This was not unlooked for, however, as it was ex-pected that the arrivals would com-mence to loom up pretty well about the mence to loom up pretty well about the latter part of this month, and these expectations are being fully realized. Cat-tle are coming in from all directions, including Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Iowa, Illinois and Missouri, It is true, the quality, all things considered, is not as good as it has been but with an over supply of medium and common grades, prime cattle have declined as well as the common grades. Nor is it believed that the bottom-has been touched. Cattle and last half of August at 19%@19%c. Butter steady at 20@33c. for Ohlo. Cheese dull and heavy at 17@18%c. Freights to Liverpool firmer, with en-gagements 65,000 bush wheat at 7@7%d are reported abundant throughout the entire country, and, besides, prices of fresh meat, particularly beef, have been relatively higher than anything else. nd, of course, it is not to be expected, that this can be maintained. Last week prime fat steers sold at S.

with some few at 814, while this week the same grades have not commanded over 7½ ©7¾, and there will be but few sold over 7½. Medium to good sold at
