OFFICE OF PITTSBURGE GAZETTE, SATURDAY, June 26, 1869. The gold market has a strong appearance, but nevertheless is only sustained and kept firm by the large stock houses, to prevent a decline of stock at present. The disbursemeet of about thirty millions of gold coupons, to begin during tne present week, is supposed to have a depressing effect on the gold premium. and a large number of speculators and importers have a direct interest in depressing the market as much as possible pressing the market as much as possible before the first of the month, in order to see it carried down further by the ty well sustained—28@30, in a jobbing large disbursements. The inactivity of bonds, however, may necessitate the shipment of coin during the early part United States Securities.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, June 26, 1869. The markets, with the exception of Wheat and Flour, have been very dull, during the past week, and there is no prospect of any immediate improvement. And even in the articles above referred to, there has been but little done, notwithstanding there has been and is still considerable excitement, in consequence of a material advance in most of the leading markets. The feeling here seems to be that there is no real or substantial cause for the recent upward movement, and that, therefore, it is not likely to be maintained and as a consequence, the demand is not much better now than it was prior to the spirit mentioned The whole movement seems to have originated in Chicago and New York, aided by an improved export demand, and as there is a large June "short" interest, the object of those who are at the head of it is to run the price of Wheat up to the highest possible notch, and then compel the "shorts" to settle by paying the difference between the price the Wheat was sold at and the price current on the day of settlement. This is no new wrinkle—it has been dene in Chicago frequently, though it generally turns out that those who bring about the "corner," suffer more than those who are "cornered." We do not say that the prepent movement in those who are "cornered." We do not say that the present movement is intended for a "corner," though it looks, to say the least, a little suspicious.

The Chicago Times, in its financial article, says: "In grain circles numerous failures have occurred from the inability of operators to secure sufficient accomodations to tide them over the emergency occasioned by the sudden advance in occasioned by the sudden advance in prices." Private information places the number of "short" operators in Chicago, who had failed up to Monday, at thirteen.

BUTTER—Is in pretty good supply and the market is quiet and unchanged; sales of good to prime at 23@25.

BEANS—Dull at $2@2,25.

CHEESE—Is dull and in good supply but unchanged; quotations may be given at 15@16 for Common Western Reserve; 17@18 for Festory and 19@20 for 17@18 for Factory and 19@20 for Way.

DRIED FRUIT—Is very dull, and to use a common expression, about "played out" for this season. Holders shipment of coin during the early part of July and it is supposed will be the signal for a sharp upward movement. The rise is based on natural causes, viz: the unfavorable grain crop reports, the so far unfavorable coddition of the corn and cotton crops and the duliness in the bond market in Europe; although interest at London is again reduced to 3½ per cent.

The Government bond market is not characterized by the activity we are wont to see before the maturity of the gold interest and it seems that the market is merely sustained by interested parties.

For stocks, a change is expected du-pails and kegs.

SEEDS—The demand for Clover and Timothy Seeds seems to have almost entirely subsided. Flaxseed would sell but there is notice in market.

SALT—Is dull and drooping; may be quoted at $1,70 by the car load.
