THE GAZETTE is furnished in the city six days of the week for 15 cents per week; by mail, $3 per annum; 3 mos., $1.

The Connellsville Railroad Company are substituting an earth embankment for the trestle work between Braddock and Turtle Creek.

Disappeared.—Edwin S. Atkinson, a carpenter, residing at the corner of Forty-first and North streets, Seventeenth ward, this city, left home on business Tuesday morning and has not since been heard from.

A train of empty freight cars was smashed up on Wednesday afternoon, seven miles west of Huntingdon. Thirteen cars were demolished, and both tracks damaged. No one was hurt. Passenger trains were delayed six hours.

Slight Fire.—A slight fire occurred in a frame building on Thirty-seventh street, about half-past seven o'clock, last evening. It was extinguished by the application of a few buckets of water, and no alarm was given. The damage was very trifling.

Leg Broken.—A laborer, engaged in tearing down a building at the corner of Smithfield street and Strawberry alley had his leg broken yesterday by a heavy timber falling upon it. He was removed to his residence on Virgin alley and medical attendance summoned.

The Liquor League.—A meeting of a number of retail liquor dealers was held yesterday in the Odd Fellows Hall on Penn street. The meeting was for the formation of a "Liquor League." It was resolved to enforce the liquor law rigidly against all persons selling without license.

Alleged Larceny.—Tim Harris, a resident of Connellsville, was arrested yesterday, on Fourth avenue by officer Couper at the instance of a gentleman from Connellsville, who stated that he was accused of stealing $50 from a Mr. Beverage on Sunday evening, in a hotel at that place. He was placed in the lock-up to await the arrival of an officer from Connellsville.

Disorderly Conduct.—Louis Hufnagle made information before Justice Ammon, of East Birmingham, yesterday, charging Arley Ferguson and James Gregg with disorderly conduct. He alleges that during his absence from home, a few days since, they went to his residence and grossly insulted his wife and daughter. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the accused.

Man Missing.—Joseph Reigner, a machanic, residing at No. 533 Penn street, left his home about eleven o'clock Tuesday morning, and has not since been heard from by his friends, although diligent search has been made by them to discover his whereabouts. Any information concerning him will be thankfully received at No. 533 Penn street, by H. H. De Arman, merchant tailor, No. 50 Smithfield street.

Grand Concert.—The International Troupe will give one of their grand concerts at Masonic Hall this evening. Miss Livvy Lewis, the prima donna of the International Troupe, is said to be the best contralto singer of Europe, and the other members of the company are equally celebrated. Their concert is spoken of by the eastern press in the highest terms, and our music-loving people may depend upon a rare feast this evening. Reserved seats may be secured at C. C. Mallor's music store.

Paternal Abuse.—Mary Berbaschi, a young lady about eighteen years of age, called at the home of her father, who was drunk and made complaint against her father, Genia Verbaschi, for acting in a disorderly manner, calling her vile names and threatening to do her bodily harm with a huge knife which he flourished. The accused was arrested and a compromise effected at the magistrate's office, agreeing to furnish her with an outfit, and granting her privilege to reside elsewhere if she did not like his domicile.

Family Quarrel.—Michael Kennedy made information yesterday against Ellen Whalen and Biddy Farris, members of his household, for assault and battery. The parties, it seems, had a row about some family affairs, when, according to Michael's statements, they attacked and beat him severely. The accused were arrested and brought to the magistrate's office in company with their mother, who is Kennedy's wife. While the hearing was going on he became incensed at Mrs. Kennedy and assaulted her, when the Alderman promptly had him arrested and locked up in jail. He will rusticate there until the 1st of August, when a hearing in his case will be had.

Serious Accident.—Willie McDermott, aged about twelve years, son of Edward McDermott, a stone mason, who is employed in the construction of the stone wall along the Panhandle Railroad in West Pittsburgh, was severely injured Thursday evening. He had accompanied his father to his work, and while sitting on the top of the wall, he fell and caught his left leg near the ankle completely crushing it. It is feared that the injury will prove fatal.

A Failure.—Mrs. Garren, a resident of "Limerick," being burdened with a greater amount of "troubles" than she had the courage to bear, yesterday resolved to "take up arms" against them, and by a determined opposition, end them. She accordingly, at an early hour yesterday morning, placed on her order and then repaired to the bank of the Ohio river, where she intended to drown herself, with the intention of burying herself along with her troubles beneath its murky waters. The facilities for taking the fatal leap were not just so favorable as she might have desired, but being determined in her purpose, she acted upon the principle that "where there's a will, there's a way." She determined purpose, walked boldly into the water, without faltering, until she reached a point beyond her depth, when her courage failed and she cried loudly for help. Fortunately there was a gentleman near at hand, who upon hearing her cries, hurried to her assistance and succeeded in rescuing her from her perilous situation. She immediately returned to her home, fully satisfied to bear her present troubles rather than to "take up arms" against them. She will hardly make another attempt at self-destruction.

Heavy Robbery.

Wednesday morning, officer Long, of this city, received a telegram from detective Hazen, of Cincinnati, requesting him to make inquiry concerning Robert Jones, a colored porter of a sleeping car, on the Fort Wayne Railroad, who was suspected of having robbed a passenger in his car. The following relative to the robbery, was taken from the Cincinnati Commercial of yesterday: Detective Hazen returned from Columbus, yesterday, after having caused the arrest and detention at that place, in care of St. Vincent's, of a colored porter of a sleeping car, Robert H. Jones, on suspicion of a grand larceny, committed last Saturday. The amount stolen was $1,400 cash, and a certificate of deposit of $20,000 on a foreign bank. The loss of it was Father Smith of the Order of Jesuits, who was on his way to this city, in company with two younger members of the society, who had come over to this country with him from Europe. The money certificates were contained in a wallet which must have been abstracted from his pocket, while he slept, not far from Pittsburgh. He was traveling in a sleeping car No. 12, in which there were not more than a dozen passengers, all told. The revenue agent's suspicion was aroused against the porter, and became stronger when he found that neither that worthy nor his superior, the conductor, paid much attention to the complaint of the loss management of the car, or to his assertion of having been robbed. The fact of the negro having stolen a leave of absence for two weeks following the robbery, seems to strengthen the idea as to his guilt.

The Keystone Pottery.

It at all times affords us pleasure to refer to our home industry and enterprise, particularly when the subject under consideration is the manufacture of some article for which heretofore we have been dependent upon importers and foreign industry. In this connection we desire to call attention to the Keystone Pottery of Messrs. Kier & Co., Queensware ground, not superior to the widely known Liverpool Iron Stone Ware, is manufactured and sold at about half the cost of the former. A visit to the warehouse of the firm at No. 200 Broadway street, where a large amount of ware is kept on hand, will convince the most skeptical of the truth of this statement.

Something New.

A grand select picnic will be held at Glenwood Grove, on Tuesday, July 13th, in aid of the new Catholic Church at Hazelwood. The parties having the management of the picnic have taken every precaution to make it one of the most pleasant of the season. We expect that the laudable object will attract thousands to the Grove on the 13th. Tickets for admission and dinner 50 cents, can be had at the gate. Trains will leave the Depot of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad at seven, nine and eleven o'clock A. M., and at two, three and four and a half

A Fascinating Stranger.

Some months ago a handsome, well-dressed young gentleman stopped at the hospitable and pleasant town of Hazelwood, on the line of the Panhandle Railroad, and announced that he came there to recuperate his health. Of pleasing address and fascinating manners, he quickly found favor in the eyes of the good folks of the locality, who sought in many ways to render his stay among them agreeable and happy. He on his part seemed fully to appreciate the kindness and endeavor to gratefully return it, by all the arts in his power. It soon became known abroad, as an admission from his own lips, that he was heir to a good round million, which in a few years, as soon as an extensive estate could be settled, would come to him and his family. This fact, not in the least detracted from his popularity, but rather had the marvelous effect of rendering the attention paid to him. He became the center of all attraction, the delight of every circle, the guest of all who had appreciation for his person and his wealth. It was not long before these influences began to have an effect upon the gallant stranger, which he at once perceived. He was not long before he had secured a number of admirers, and he was not long before he had secured a number of admirers, and he was not long before he had secured a number of admirers.

The Contingent.

We desire to call the attention of the public to the fact that the Continental Saloon, next door to the Post Office, on Fifth avenue, is one of the best conducted, coolest and most comfortable places of restoration in the city. We know whereof we speak when we make this statement, and feel confident that all who have been so fortunate as to dine with Mr. Holtzheimler, at the Continental, will be equally satisfied with the Continental. The dinners at the Continental are gotten up regardless of expense and served in the highest style of the art. The tables are supplied with all the delicacies of the season, and in fact everything the market affords, and his prices are very reasonable. A sufficient explanation of a good dinner, breakfast or supper.

The Minstrels.

The minstrel this afternoon and this evening's entertainment will close the engagement of Dan and Ben's minstrel troupe at the Opera House in this city. No transient company ever played a more successful two weeks' engagement in this city than this company. Notwithstanding the fact that the regular amusement season had ended, that the weather has been extremely warm, and consequently a large number of amusement seekers are retreating in the country, the minstrels have played to full houses every night, which is strong evidence of their excellence. All full houses may be anticipated both this afternoon and evening.

To Consumers.

We desire to call the attention of consumers of tobacco, as well as that of retail dealers, to a fact in which they are directly interested, which is that John McGraw, No. 45 Hand street, has one of the largest, best and most judiciously selected stocks of tobacco, cigars, pipes, and all accessories of the business. He is well known in this community as a thoroughly honest and fair-dealing business man, and enjoys the entire confidence of his business men generally. All orders addressed to him from a distance will be promptly filled, and upon as reasonable terms as the purchase of the present. His cigars are really delicious, as all can testify who have tried them.

Magistrate's Costs.

As is usual in the case, the Grand Jury during the last term ignored a number of bills, in which they held the prosecutors responsible for the costs. Judge Sterrett in looking over the bills thus disposed of discovered that in many instances there was not the slightest foundation for a prosecution, and the prosecutors were, through the "stupidity or cupidty" of magistrates thus thrown into the costs, which in some cases were enormous. In one case, indictment for malicious mischief was presented, in which the defendant was charged with taking down the clothes line of the prosecutor, in which the Alderman's costs were over seven dollars; in another indictment for false pretenses, the Alderman's costs were twenty-three dollars. His Honor said that such proceedings could not be tolerated and he directed the clerk not to tax the magistrates' costs in any case, except when they exceed five dollars. In order for magistrates to secure more than that sum it will be necessary for them to specifically state the items of costs and satisfy the court that they are correct.

The Life Insurance Question—Some Facts in the Case.

The Eastern companies require you to pay in advance of any necessary. They take your money away and entrust it to strangers of whom you know nothing. The Co-operative does not require payment until the money is needed to pay the heirs of your co-operators—It keeps the surplus at home and makes actual loans to its policy holders. Eastern companies make you contract to pay two or three times the admitted value of your insurance, and give you the word of the agent that your "dividends" will make it all right. The Co-operative charges only the actual cost of insurance and contracts in policy holders to give the entire surplus to a young mutual is necessarily weak and an excessive mortality will destroy it. The co-operative is as strong in the beginning as a mutual with millions of surplus. To live through an epidemic, all other companies must depend on the "dividends." The co-operative can keep on the even tenor of its way, and its policies will stand the test of time. All this, and more will be made plain to any one at the office of the Co-operative Life Insurance Company, 128 Smithfield street. Call and see.

Pittsburgh Saloons.

A gentleman, upon whose statement we can rely, and whose experience has been such as to fully qualify him to judge of such matters, in speaking of dining saloons and restaurants, yesterday remarked to us that "in no city on this side of the Atlantic were there so many saloons so admirably conducted as in Pittsburgh." Upon inquiry we ascertained that the foremost gentleman had just left the Continental Saloon, Fifth avenue, next door to the Postoffice, of which Mr. Holtzheimler is proprietor, where he has been dining for some time. His dining saloons which are daily served by the patrons of that establishment. This, of course, was a sufficient explanation, and we made no further inquiry.
