THE CRISIS IN FRANCE—Resignation of M. Rouher insisted upon—The Crown Councilors in Consultation—Progress of the Great Eastern with the French Cable—Excitement in England over the Irish Church Bill and the Action of the House of Lords.

(By Telegram to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

FRANCE.

LONDON, July 9.—The Ministerial crisis in France increases in intensity. The Constitutional opposition in the Corps Legislatif declare their ultimatum to be the retirement of the Minister of State, M. Rouher. While the Emperor desires his retirement, he is reluctant to dismiss him on account of his ability and his devotion to the Imperial Government.

M. Rouher's failure to comply with the wish of the Emperor, and tender his resignation, is severely criticized. Yesterday the proprietor of one of the leading journals said to him, "M. Rouher, your time has come clear out." "I know it," replied M. Rouher, "but my wife won't resign." This is literally true. Madame Rouher objects to giving up the honor which she receives at the palace as the wife of the Chief of the Emperor's Ministry. The Emperor will wait awhile before insisting upon the unavoidable resignation until this domestic trouble of his Minister can be arranged. The majority of the Assembly are opposed to the proposition demanded by members of the Left Centre which are as follows: First, A resignation of the Minister of State, the Emperor is therefore obliged to temporize with the majority whom he does not wish to offend. Hence the present dead-lock which must end in the course of a week.

PARIS, July 10.—The Patrie newspaper of today says that the recent regulations of the Government and the Corps Legislatif have resulted in an understanding that the former will realize the projected reforms, and announce a Senatus Consultum to carry the same into effect.

PARIS, July 10.—The Constitutionnel of this evening says that the councilors of the Crown are discussing the question as to whether it is advisable to reply to their interpellation and thereby inaugurate a programme of the Government. No decision has been arrived at. Therefore the reports as to the intention of the Government are premature.

LONDON, July 10.—The Times this morning has an editorial article on the state of affairs in France. The writer says that if the Corps Legislatif is firm it will gain the powers which have been demanded by the large minority, and which the majority also desire. The old things are passing away and another political dispensation is at hand. The desertion of the Monarchy by M. Mackay has shown how desirous the Emperor is that his own government is a lost cause.

The Evening Telegraph says that the Emperor said the principle ministerial responsibility was the right one, but that it was the business of the Senate to elect the Corps Legislatif to a later date. This, however, will bring the measure.

PARIS, June 11.—The Council of Ministers and Privy Council have held their joint meetings, at the summons of the Emperor, to deliberate upon the interpellation for political reforms now pending in the Corps Legislatif. It is said that the following programme has been agreed upon, with the concurrence of the Emperor:

The Senate will be immediately convoked, when parliamentary changes of a liberal character will be proposed by the Government. These reforms will probably include the extension of the right and faculty of interpellation and the election of a responsible Ministry. The Emperor choosing Ministers from the Corps Legislatif, with a view of arriving at the particular responsibility of each member of the cabinet clear out.

GREAT BRITAIN.

NEW YORK, July 11.—A special cable dispatch to the Herald from London 10th, states that the agitation in relation to the Irish Church Bill threatens to become serious. Preparations are actively being made for immediate demonstrations against Mr. Gladstone, who has hitherto hesitated to encourage the meetings, but has consented to give semi-official sanction on the ground that the Lords attempted to qualify their opposition to the will of the Government and people on the ground of a pretended change in the public sentiment. It is certain, however, that the Commons will refuse to yield to the Lords their amendments, except on three points not affecting the principle of the bill. It is expected that the open-air meetings will be the largest ever known.

PRESENTS FROM MEXICO FOR PRESIDENT GRANT.

The Collector of Customs of the Port of Georgetown a few days ago received a magnificent collection of solid silver articles intended as presents for President Grant, general Sherman, Ex-Secretary Seward and Mr. Ex-President Lincoln. They were sent to this country from Mexico by Sabon Irujo, a Spanish and American, who refused to have his name made known, and said that in his transport of delight at the abolition of slavery, he was prompted to prepare these presents in token of good will. President Grant receives a silver watch set by thirty-six pieces and some dressed leopard skins; General Sherman an egg boiler and holder; Mr. Seward a pocket watch; and Mr. Lincoln a portion of a cell bell; an inkstand and a ponder most intricately contrived, besides a lot of jewelry. The presents were most graciously accepted by the President and the other gentlemen. President Grant and General Sherman were most pleased to receive them. Some idea may be formed of their value from the fact that the duty on the presents was $75 and on Gen. Sherman's $161.

The committee also contains that in the race for life there should be no discrimination of race or color. The grounds of the bookbinders is already more than the demand, and by employing apprentices their numbers will be increased to thirty-six. The Superintendent in his reply, does not see things in the light of the society. The meeting of the bookbinders and apprentices is held at the composing room remains unsettled.

The Stars and stripes, with the North German flag, floated from the public and private houses the entire length of Baltimore and Broadway streets and throughout the city generally. Societies from Philadelphia and New York arrived about seven o'clock this evening and were met at the depot by Societies from Baltimore. Forming a procession the line of march was taken up Broadway and Baltimore streets to Monument Square, where the procession arrived about half past eight o'clock. The entire line was brilliant with Chinese lanterns, transparencies and joyous by many bands of music. A salute of twenty-five guns was fired from the Federal Hill and there was a grand display of fireworks. Arriving at Monument Square the Societies formed in front of the stand when a German song, by Stolz, was sung by the Societies of Baltimore. After further singing and a welcoming address at Concordia Hall, the visitors were taken to their quarters.

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—The Democrat has telegraphic advices from Greenville, Ill., to-night, that John Moore has confessed that he attempted to poison Mrs. McCord, and a falling out had occurred between them. Moore was arrested and committed to the jail for the time that he may prepare for death.

DOMINION REVENUE.

OTTAWA, July 10.—The revenue of this province for the month of June, 1869, differs $338,857.

W. L. JONES.

The Connecticut Legislature adjourned sine die on Saturday. The session was twenty-two days shorter than last year, and cost the State $26,000 less. Both Houses held night sessions last week, crowding business so as to reach an adjournment.

Another match between Allen and McCoolle has been arranged. Articles of agreement have been drawn up and two hundred dollars aside deposited. The fight is to take place on November 10th, within fifty miles of Cincinnati. George Wilkes is spoken of as the final stake holder.

A Committee of officers of the New York Seventh Regiment, now at Saratoga, have perfected arrangements for their excursion to Albany, Troy and Saratoga. The regiment will be reviewed by Gov. Hoffman and will inaugurate the new hall of the Union with a grand ball, given by the citizens and visitors at Saratoga in honor of the regiment, on the 22d inst.

Thomas Sweeney was arrested and committed to jail on Saturday morning, N. Y., for the murder of his brother John, while boating in the harbor on Sunday last. On returning to the shore on the day mentioned, Thomas reported John had fallen overboard and drowned. The body was recovered and bore evidence of the skull being broken with an oar, teeth knocked in and other marks of violence.

The furniture factory of Bailey & Co. at Cincinnati, was destroyed by fire Sunday morning. Loss $20,000. The furniture for $5,500 in home companies. The furniture of the steamship United States, ready to be shipped, was among the furniture burned. The building was a four story brick. The fire originated in a blacksmith shop, wooden adjoining. This was totally destroyed, loss $5,500; no insurance.

Further telegrams received confirm the report of great floods in the Colorado valley, Texas. The water was ten feet deep in the Court House square at Lagrange. It is estimated that twenty-five thousand acres of wheat are being swept from the ground. The river was still rising at the rate of four inches per hour.

The Grand Jury of the Common Pleas Court of Ontario, conducted their presentment as follows: "While we as individual citizens congratulate our young men on the 'Red Stockings,' in their victorious career over all competitors in the United States, we would at the same time warn them and all others who participate in all such exciting games to do so with moderation, and that they be careful not to violate laws of God or man."

There now seems to be no doubt that John Moore is the murderer of Mrs. McCord. It is also ascertained that previous to the murder, the enraged Moore was very high in the community, and there is a strong disposition to hang Moore, but the evidence against him is not considered strong enough to justify it. The man arrested at Woodville has been brought to Greenville, but he does not answer the description given by Moore of the man who is said to have been seen lurking around Mrs. McCord's house.

Of the rich men of New York, the Commercial Advertiser, taking the last issue for the text, observes: "The man who leads the list, A. Stewart, everybody knows is an Irish emigrant, who commenced life with a capital of less than twenty-five cents. Henry Keck boasts that he graduated from the Poor House of Jefferson county. Jay Gould drove a herd of cattle from Delhi, Delaware county, when a lad, for fifty cents a day, in order to get money enough to reach the Hudson river. David Groesbeck, over thirty years ago, used to mend old shoes for his brother, who was a respectable shoemaker in Albany. We all know the history of James Gordon Bennett and Robt. Bonner, poor boys full of talent and industry. Rufus Hatch, when a young boy, had an ambition to hold the reins of a peddler's wagon. E. D. Morgan commenced life with a quarter measure of molasses. It is scarce a dozen years since Henry Clow was an errand boy in one of the banking houses down town. The brothers Seligman started out in life with a peddler's pack. David Dows, in his younger days, retailed pork by the half bushel, and molasses by the gallon. H. T. Helmholtz was first cabin boy on the ship Mary Jane, that navigated the Delaware river."
