Crushea to Death.

Yesterday morning Charles Butler, an employe in the Fort Fitt Foundry, came to his death in a very painful manner. He was engaged about one of the large water pipes, which are being, made for the St. Louis Water Works, when the increases casting, weighing about five tons, by some accident turned over, catching him underneath, breaking his neck and crushing him to death instant-ly. The deceased was a native of Eng-land, shout forty-five years of age, and had been working at the foundry about three years. None of his relatives or friends are living in this country so far as could be ascertained. Coroner Claw-son held an inquest upon the remains, when a verdict of accidental death was rendeled, after which they were taken in charge by Mr. W. H. Devore, who will m this morning at the expense of the Company.

The witness was constrained to appeal to the law be-cause the defendant made mischief in her family. Another pert young Miss testi-fied that the defendant had told her hed that the detendant had told her fortune, and that of a gentleman friend; the gentleman paid her a half dollar. The evidence of guilt was very conclu-sive, and the jury found a verdict of guilty without leaving the box.

Presbyterian Female College-The Preliminary Measures.

For some time past the practicability of establishing a Presbyterian Female College in this vicinity has been under consideration by some of the leading members in that religious organization. and last evening a public meeting was held in the lecture room of the Second Presbyterian Church (Rev. Dr. Foward's) to test the interest felt in the enterprise, and institute measures for its establishment. ment. The meeting was organized at eight o'clock, Geo. A. Berry, Esq., being called to the chair, and Mr. John S. Slagle ap-pointed Secretary. Rev. W. T. Beatry opened the proceedings with prayer, af-ter which the Chairman read the call for the meeting, as explanatory of its object the meeting, as explanatory of its object. The call in substance, set forth that the necessity for the establishment of a Female college of a high grade to be under the control of the Presbyterian denomination was daily becoming more apparent; that the project had been discussed frequently, and that as an in-centive to active and immediate work the Presbyterian congregation at Shady Side had subscribed the sum of $20,000 for building of the same, which, according to estimates made, was about one fifth of the amount needed to complete the enterprise. Following the reading of the call, the Rev. W. T. Beatty, of the Shady Side Church, offered the following resolutions: Resolved, That for the following resolutions: Resolved, That for the following reas-ons we regard an institution of the character suggested, in the highest de-gree desirable. First—That the standard, of female education in our city and community may be elevated. Secondcommunity may be elevated. second— That the same advantages for obtaining a thorough classical education may be brought within the reach of the young women of our community, as those which are now enjoyed by our young men. Third—That the means of obtaining a finished education may be brought within the reach of the largest number possible. Fourth-That Presbyterians nay control the education of their daughters.

Resolved, That we therefore earnestly recommend this important enterprise to the liberality of the people. Resolved, That we recommend the appointment of a financial agent, and a ommittee from each co-operative church, to assist said agent in canvassing their respective congregations. Resolved, That the Revs. Scovel, Noble and Reid be appointed a Committee to employ an agent, appoint the other Committees referred to, and assist in what.

ever may be possible in carrying into effect the object at which we aim.

Considerable discussion ensued upon the adoption of the resolutions.

It was suggested that Revs. Swift and Beatty be added to the Central Committee. Rev. Swift said he did not desire to be a member of the committee. He was heartily in favor of the project, and felt that it should be carried out, but a similar idea had been advanced in Allegheny, which might lead to the organization of an excellent institution there. If this movement progressed, he telt that he must lend his aid to its advancement, although he did not wish to be considered as antagonistic to a school as proposed in the resolutions. Mr. Slagle had the same feeling in reference to a school in Allegheny, where he resided, and where he thought a good institution of learning was needed. He thought, however, there was ample room for both institutions. He favored th for both institutions. He lavored the idea of making the school as proposed in the resolutions, of the highest order of merit, a "finishing school" where all who desired to comwhere all who desired to com-plete an education might be afforded the greatest facilities for so doing. He felt ready to lend his influence and ed the greatest facilities for so doing. He felt ready to lend his influence and pecuniary support to such an institution, while at the same time he labored as earnestly for the establishment of an in-

A gentleman, upon whose statement we can rely, and whose experience has been such as to fully qualify him to judge of such matters, in speaking of dining saloons and restaurants; yester-day, remarked to us that "in no city this side of the Atlantic were those institutions so admirably conducted as in stitutions so admirably conducted as in Pittsburgh." Upon inquiry we ascer-tained that the aforesaid gentleman had just left the Continental Saloon, Fifth avenue, next door to the Postoffice, of which Mr. Holtzheimer is proprietor, where he despatched one of the lent dinners which are daily served to the patrons of that establishment. This; of course, was a sufficient explanation, and we made no further inquiry.

The watch was taken from his vest and the pocket book from his pants pocket. The time piece, together with the chain, was worth be-tween three and four hundred dollars, and was especially valued by Mr. Duffey because of its being presented to his father by the City Councils of New Or-leans. A Brutal Assault.

Yesterday evening about three o'clock. one of the Lieutenants of the police, accompanied by an officer, while passing down Pean street, near Twenty-seventh, saw a man thrown or dragged violent y cut of a saloon, and left lying on the sidewalk. Being some distance of, at the time, they hurried up and found the man in a beastly state of intoxication, and his face and body gave evidence of rough usage. His clothes were torn and bloody, and his face was bruised, swollen and cut in several places. They had him placed in a wagon and, conveyed to the lock-up, where it was discovered that his pockets had been turned wrong side out and emptied of their contents. The unfortunate creature was too drunk to speak, and consequently could not tell his name or anything connected with the circumstance. He is an Irish-man, apparently about thirty years of age, and was respectably clad. Whether he was, robbed or not, will probably be ascertained this morning, but that he was most brutally assaulted and abused was most brutally assaulted and abused, was plainly evident from his condition and appearance.

Always Fresh.

One reason of the great success of Sem. ple's dry goods establishment is the fact that the goods on sale there are always new and fresh, which is accounted for by the manner in which the trade is conducted. Every article brought into the store is at first marked down to the lowest figure, and hence the sales are very rapid, as purchasers quickly perceive where they can get the best bargains. By this means Mr. Semple is compelled By this means Mr. Semple is compelled to repletish his block continually, and purchasers thus have the benefit of se-lecting from perfectly new attractions, besides having the double advantage in the bargains he is enabled to make by being always in the mar-ket himself as a wholesale pur-chaser.
