NEW PUBLICATIONS.

RHETORIC: A Text-book, designed for use in Schools and Colleges and for Private study. By Rev. E. O. Haven, D. D., LL. D., President of the University of Michigan. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York. During a recent hurried visit to New York, the enterprising publishers put this book into our hands. After a careful examination of the mode of treating this interesting subject, we find it the best work of the kind we have ever seen. The style is simple and clear, without the dry details usually found in this class of works. Every part is presented, too, in terse and vigorous language, and the student is conducted step bv step, accompanied with lucid illustrations and suitable directions, The author's peculir methodical bent of mind is seen in the precision and sharp definitions of each part. We anticipate the work will have a wide sale, as it should. After a brief introduction, part first treats of "Words and the Material of Expression;" part second, "Figures of Speech and Thought;" third, "Composition and Style:" fourth, "Invention." and fifth and last part, "Elocution." The "Index" is full and satisfactory.

JEREMIAH AND HIS LAMENTATIONS with Notes, Critical, Explanatory and Practical, designed for both pastors and people. By Rev. Henry Cowles, D. D. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York. For sale by S. A. Clarke & Co., Pittsburgh.

In reviewing the volume on Issiah, immediately preceding this, we noted particularly the style observed by the author in treating the prophesies. Dr. Cowles has prepared his Notes on Jeremiah in the same manner. The volume opens with a general introduction, embodying valuable historical facts, and is admirably suited as a preparatory chapter to the study of Jeremiah. Each chapter opens with an explanation of its contents, very full when the chapter is an important one. The critical notes are in sections, frequently several verses are grouped together, which are often very elaborate and comprehensive. It is an excellent work for all classes who desire to study this prophet. Much interest is taken in the prophesies of this noted servant of God, and students will find valuable help in consulting these Notes. The discussion of the "Premellennial Advent of Christ," in its fundamental principles, will no doubt attract the attention of scholars. Dr. Cowles announces that his work on Solomon will constitute the next yolume.

elucidation of the attractions of the country, and a careful consideration of the question of profit and loss, as involved in ameteur farming, with much valuable advice and instruction to valuable advices and instruction to those about purchasing large or small places in the rural districts. By Rob-ert B. Roosevelt, author of "The Game Pittsburgh.

Capital book for summer reading. Just now a good many people are charmed with rural life. Multitudes are seeking the pleasure of shade and the comforts of the country. After reading this piece of satire, one would suppose that the desire to own one or five acres would vanish. Not so, people who read this work will "try it," and realize just such an experience as-the author's, or something like it. It is comfortable to think that a considerable sum of money is spent in ameteur farming, though the product of the outlay may cost ten times more than the same article could be purchased. Its quaint humor and rollicking sketches will interest all who read the book, and legions will want to buy it.

PRIMARY TRUTHS OF RELIGION. By Rev. Thos. M. Clark, D. D., Bishop of of the Diocese of Rhode Island. Pub-lished by D. Appleton & Co., New York. For sale by S. A. Clark & Co.,

The object of Bishop Clark is happily conceived, namely, to furnish answers of an evangelical type to questions that may arise in an unsettled mind in regard to the fundamental principles of morals and religion. Irrefutable arguments are presented to show the divine attributes of God, his revelations and control over man, the inspiration of the Bible, origin of Christianity, resurrection of Christ, and the position of Christ in history. These great truths are forcibly presented, in terse and vigorous language, such as might be expected by a chaste and scholarly writer. The book will do good and supply a needed want.

THE BRIDE'S FATE. A sequal to "The Changed Brides." By Mrs. Southworth. Published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. For sale by W. A. Gildenfenny, Pittaburgh.

Such has been the interest felt by those much solicitude was expressed to read the sequel. The publishers did not keep the public long waiting. It is thought by many of the admirers of the author that these two are among the most thrilling and entertaining of her numerous publications. No doubt but that both will be extensively read.

THE DEAD GUEST. A Mysterious Story. By Henirich Zschokke. Translated from the German by G. C. McWhorter, M. A.

THE LOST MANUSCRIPT. A Novel. By Gustav Freytag. Translated by Mrs. Malcom. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York, for sale by S. A. Clarke

These two volumes are 7 and 8 of "Appleton's Library of Choice Peading," in paper covers, cheap and elegantly printed. "The Dead Guest," is a thrilling story, and will likely startle the resder. though it ends well. Fretag's Lovel,

'The Lost Manuscript,' sustains the repu ation he secured by "Debit and Credit," and other stories. University life in Gertruthfully drawn. The peculiarities of rouse the tenderest sensibilities. German life are vividly brought out in the author's happy vein of composition.

J. L. Read & Son, Pittsburgh.

We are sure that if we can inducouthful roaders to read "Good Measure." they will think Robin and Frank were brave boys, and well illustrate the truth taught in the volume, that integrity and truth are valuable elements in forming character. It is well suited for Sunday School libraries, and may be read with advantage in any family circle.

WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE; The Reform Against Nature. By Dr. Horace Bush-nell. Published by Charles Scribner & Co., New York. For sale by R. S. Davis & Co., Pittsburgh.

It must be conceded that the question of "Women's Suffrage" in the hands of such an able writer as Dr. Bushnell, will be discussed with signal ability, and in a manner that will command the attention of the thoughtful. The Fool Fishery.

A swindle of the first magnitude has just aprung into existence at Philadel. phia, and in novelty, at least, has never been equalled in this country, or in any other. Its motto is: "Let us search the world over, sifting the wheat from the chaff, thereby improving the human race." All of this is supposed to mean matrimony, and as the American people are a cold hearted race, the considerate organ izers of this colossal fraud propose to found a Matrimonial Department of the First Progressive Church of Philadelphia, through whose instrumentality and ter is devoted to a statement of the ques- for the very moderate consideration of a tion.
