OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE. TUESDAY, July 27, 1869. The oil market was rather dull to-day, and the volume of business was comparatively light, and compared with yesterday, prices ruled a shade lower. We haved no special cause assigned for this slight reaction, further than there was not much inquiry, and that there was a little more disposition manifested to sell than on Monday. There is still considerable complaint made by manufacturers in regard to the price of crude and with good reason, too, as it is much higher, relatively than reuned; it is thought by somethat it will of necesity rule lower before long, that renners cannot and will not pay present prices. This is beginning to show itelf in the diminished receipts of crude, and what is true of Pittsburgh, is, we understand, equally applicable to Cleveland. Refiners should have a profit of at least 50 cents per bol: as it is now, taking present prices of rude and refined as a basis, there is no
