OPPICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, August 12, 1869. The decline in gold had also a deressing influence on bonds. Although the government has taken three millions out of the market, yet the parties who manipulated the late rise sold out yesterday and offered large options. The market at the close this evening was a little better, but the tendency will be downward so long as the gold market is depressed and quotations from Europe do not improve.

Gold sold down from 135 to 134%, and still looks weak. The large shipments of breadtuffs, although only in prospect, of breadtuffs, although only in prospect, tell on the gold operators for a rise, and we need not be surprised to see gold quoted, before the close of the year, at or near 120, provided the unfavorable of the provided or near 120, provided the unfavorable crops reports from Europe are true. On the other hand, should they not be confirmed a sharp rally in gold is unavoidable, even if the eventual tendency would to same 6, weighing 5,700, at 514; Peters to Same 6, weighing 5,700, at 514; Thompson to Salves and the same 120, and 120,
